

RED CROSS TO DIRECT RELIEF

Many Dallas Groups Favorable to Putting Work Under one Head

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—Relief work in Dallas the coming winter will be carried on by the Red Cross organization, it was decided at a meeting held Monday night, when representatives from the lodges, churches, civic groups and women's clubs discussed the matter. W. S. Muir, president of the chamber of commerce, presided at a dinner meeting held at the Presbyterian church.

Earle Richardson, who headed the Associated Charities that handled the local relief work last winter, reported on the amount of money raised and disbursed and the manner in which the work was handled. Dr. A. B. Starbuck, who has been chairman of the local Red Cross, stated that a charter to organize a county Red Cross chapter has been applied for, and that 22 county relief units are being organized at the request of the county court and these groups will be assisted by and cooperate with the Red Cross and the county court. He also stated that further supplies of flour and cotton materials will be available for distribution.

Judge G. L. Hawkins, speaking for the county court, said there would be little road relief work this winter but they would work through the Red Cross in every way possible. Mrs. Charles N. Bilyeu, who has served as secretary-treasurer of both the Associated Charities and the Red Cross for the past year, described the manner in which the records were kept, cases investigated, handling of used clothing and classes of relief work handled.

After some discussion by those present as to policies, and raising of funds, the representatives present voted to carry out the relief work this winter under the direction of the Red Cross, with the request that Earle Richardson head the Dallas unit and Dr. Starbuck remain as chairman for the county.

Several county unit chairmen are still to be appointed and as soon as this is completed a meeting will be called to discuss plans for the annual Red Cross roll call and the method of reporting cases to avoid duplications.

Maurice Dalton stated that the chamber of commerce has been pleased to cooperate in the relief work by supplying the needed office room and the services of their secretary, Mrs. Bilyeu, without cost to the relief organization and would do so again.

Gates Woman is Chosen District Rebekah Chief At Big Mill City Confab

MILL CITY, Oct. 12.—The largest attendance at any annual convention of the Rebekah assembly of District No. 7 was that of Saturday, when delegates and members of the organization met in Mill City. At the afternoon session, which was a closed one, there were 114 women present. Due to the fact that the I. O. O. F. lodge was holding a convention in the city at the same time none of the men holding membership in the Rebekah lodge attended the latter convention. To Mrs. Frank Taylor who was the outgoing chairman of the district assembly, is due much of the success of the meeting. Joe Formick, president of the Marion county I. O. O. F. association, presided over the meeting of the association.

The afternoon session of the Rebekahs was held in the I. O. O. F. hall while those of the I. O. O. F. association were held in the Four-L hall. The association takes in all the lodges of Marion county while those of the Rebekah district No. 7 comprise the lodges at Detroit, Gates, Mill City, Lyons, Stayton and Seio.

Stayton Members Drill Mrs. Grace Taylor presided over the convention. Mrs. Genevieve Scott was vice-chairman and Mrs. Abbie Geertson secretary. The drill team of the Stayton lodge seated the convention officer, after which the team put on a fancy drill, at the same time presenting each of the officers with a lovely corsage.

During the afternoon some part of the ritualistic work was given by a delegation from each lodge present. Mrs. Maude Rogers of Enterprise, assembly president; Mrs. Esther Frisbee Bond of Halsey, vice-president of the assembly, and Mrs. Grace Christensen of Portland, warden of the assembly, were present, as were also two past assembly presidents, Mrs. Halle Ingle of Albany and Mrs. Ethel Meldrum of Milwaukie. Forty-eight members were in attendance from outside the district.

New Officers Elected Just before the close of the afternoon session the officers for the next district convention were elected with Mrs. Genevieve Scott of Gates being elected to the office of district chairman, Mrs. Bodeker of Lyons district vice-chairman and Mrs. Ruby Horner of Gates secretary. The next meeting will be held in Gates. This is the second time that Mrs. Taylor has served as chairman of the convention, she having presided over the meetings five years ago when the convention was held in Mill City. At 5:30 o'clock the members of both organizations met in Hammond hall for the banquet and at 8 o'clock the evening program was started. This was an open meeting and 314 were present, said to be a record in attendance at any lodge function in the history of the city.

The program was opened with musical selections by the orchestra from Silverton and the same orchestra presented musical selections several times later during the program. Mrs. Gourley gave a comic reading, "On Being Clinie"; Mrs. Nina Wadsworth-Kahler delighted the audience with a group of piano numbers, and a trio composed of Mrs. Charles Gentry, Mrs. O. C. Hutchins and Mrs. R. L. Cooper sang. The trio was accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Dumivan on the piano and Mrs. Sven Ellason on the violin. The drill team of Stayton presented a fancy drill and also installed the new district officers. These six girls wore dresses of green and yellow or-gandy and made a beautiful appearance on the floor.

The two main addresses of the evening were made by R. H. Jones of Prineville, grand master of the Oregon Assembly, and Mrs. Maude Rogers, president of the Rebekah assembly. Other officers and past officers of both lodges, made short talks.

Both halls and the dining room were unusually beautiful with decorations of dahlias, asters, other late flowers and autumn leaves, mingling with the colors of the lodge.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

RIDE 'EM, COWBOY
"Nature in the Raw"—as expressed in the famous rodeo cry; inspired by the picture in the July issue of the National Geographic Magazine taken at the Ski Hi Stampede, Monte Vista, Colorado. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
