

Kostka Returns, Mikulak Out; Bruins on Way to Oregon

FULLBACK LOSS TO BE SERIOUS

Bobbitt to Take his Place in Portland Game for Shrine Benefit

EUGENE, Oct. 12.—(Special)—Stan Kostka, 200 pound steam roller back who rammed over the Oregon touchdown that beat Santa Clara here week before last, will be back in the lineup Saturday, when Oregon tangles with the dark horse U. C. L. A. team in Portland. Leighton Gee, who played a stellar game for the Weibtons, will probably see a lot of action, however.

Mike Mikulak, big fullback and one of the greatest defensive players on the coast, will probably be out of the lineup. Mikulak is suffering from an injured knee and shoulder, and Col. Bill Hayward, veteran trainer, believes he will be unable to play. Mikulak's absence will be seriously felt.

Howard Bobbitt, a veteran player who lacks Mikulak's weight, will probably be in the lineup in place of "Iron Mike." The rest of the regulars who saw action against the Washington Huskies will be in the game. Capt. Bill Morgan, tackle, is still suffering from a broken wrist but is able to play with the special cast. Bernie Hughes has almost completely recovered.

The game is sponsored by the Shrine and will be for the benefit of the Shrine hospital fund in Portland. It will be played in Multnomah stadium, scene of the Oregon-Washington conflict last week.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Coach Bill Spaulding of the University of California at Los Angeles gathered 33 of his grid warriors around him for a final workout today and then hustled them aboard a train for Portland where they will meet Oregon's football team Saturday.

He had to check some of the group from local hospitals to complete the team, some with influenza, bruises and sore muscles prevalent. He expects, however, to have his full starting team ready save for Lenny Bergdahl, quarterback, who has been out all season.

Before he left he named the following for his starting lineup: Bob McChesney, left end; Houghton Norfleet, left tackle; John Wood, left guard; Capt. Homer Oliver, center; Fred Haslam, right guard; Tom Rafferty, right tackle; Art Pivner, right end; Mike Frankovich, fullback; Walter Clark, left half; Bob Decker, right half and Joe Keeble, fullback.

Usually silent on the possible outcome of games, Coach O. E. Hollingbery told a thousand or more students at a rally just before the departure that his Cougars have, in his opinion, an excellent chance to vanquish the Bears.

Scoreless Ties Become Popular

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—(AP)—The football teams of Lincoln high school and Benson Polytechnic struggled to a scoreless tie in their game here tonight.

Scoreless ties have come in for apparently unprecedented popularity in the interscholastic league this season. Out of nine, games, four have ended without scores.

BARRED FROM GRID BY MARRIAGE

Believing that a good husband cannot be a good football player, Coach Hanley of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., has barred Kenneth Keenan, varsity fullback, from participation in the game this season. Meenan brought his wife to plead with the coach, but the mentor remained adamant. So Keenan will have to devote all his talents to being a good hubby. Mrs. Keenan, the former Joan Rogers, is shown above. The photo of Keenan was made during a recent workout on the grid.

Japanese Take to Baseball

By HARDIN BURNLEY

BASEBALL, America's national game, has taken a firm hold in far off Japan. And this year, as in the past, a group of American big league players have made the long trip overseas to show their skill before the enthusiastic Japanese fans.

Herb Hunter, who took the American major leaguers to Japan last year, arranged this trip. This time Hunter first took the players to Honolulu for two games. Following which some of the big leaguers returned home, the others making the trip to Japan. In the group that made the trip to Honolulu, were: Lefty O'Doul, of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Pie Traynor, of the Cincinnati; Jimmy Fox and Mickey Cochran, of the Athletics; Al Simmons, just recently traded by the A's to the White Sox; Moe Berg, Ted Lyons, of the White Sox, and Babe Herman, of the Reds.

Lon Warnecke, of the Cubs, and Lou Gehrig, of the Yankees, and possibly Babe Ruth would have joined the group but for the fact that their respective teams had to play the world series.

O'Doul, Berg, Lyons, Traynor and some of the others continued on to Japan after the Honolulu games, planning to stay until well in December. While several exhibition games will be played in Japan by the Americans, the main purpose of their going there is to coach the Japanese ball players. O'Doul will coach them in batting, Lyons in pitching and Berg in catching.

The Japanese are really baseball crazy. They love the game and are familiar with every detail of it. Last year when the American stars played there the games were attended by crowds surpassing anything ever seen at a baseball game in this country.

The Japanese have a baseball organization they call the University League, and it is composed of six teams representing the universities of Waseda, Meiji, Keio, Rikkyo, Imperial and Hosei. And on these teams there are many really fine ball players. In fielding some of the Japanese are on a par with the stars of our big leagues, but at that they lack the power and weight to become sluggers. In the games against the American stars last year, a picked team Japanese gave a good account of themselves. The Japs suffered several shutout defeats, mainly due to their lack of strength at bat, but in the field they played brilliantly.

Lefty O'Doul, who is exceedingly popular in Japan, will try to impart to the Japanese players the secret of hitting. And "I'll be happy if I can do it," said Lefty before he sailed. "Japan is a great place, and the Japanese are fine and gracious people. My trip last year provided me with one of the most pleasant off-seasons I ever enjoyed."

had their disgust right there and then.

Long runs for touchdowns, long passes for touchdowns, passes intercepted for touchdowns—these are the thrills for the average spectator, but, fickle fellow that he is, he won't go to the game unless the teams appear to be evenly matched, so that his thrills must come by surprise. And if there are a lot of them, he howls that he has been misled about the evenly matched status of the teams.

Of course both teams could do a lot of scoring; that's where the biggest thrill of all comes in. Such games are more common than they used to be, thanks to the forward pass, other varieties of open play, and the recklessness with which they are used. But even so, both teams score in less than 40 per cent of the games, if the scores we picked at random out of the 1931 record book are typical.

In making that survey, we noticed that certain teams would score and be scored on in nearly all of their games; while others, losing some games and winning others, would participate in not more than one or two in which both teams scored. It didn't seem to make much difference whether they were national leaders or obscure colleges nobody ever heard of in a football way.

For instance last year University of Southern California played five games in which both teams scored, out of its 11 contests; while Notre Dame figured in only two of that kind, out of nine, one of the two being of course the game with U. S. C.

Games in which each team scored two or more touchdowns were exceedingly rare; less than 10 per cent; and of course one touchdown often is an accident. Despite all the evolution of the game, it is still the customary thing for only the stronger of two teams to score, aside from the "breaks," and even the stronger of two fairly even teams usually fails to score unless it gets some sort of a "break." For those who absolutely demand a lot of scoring, we recommend basketball.

BEARCATS OFF FOR CALDWELL

Coyotes Have Edge on Dope But Whitman Scout Says Willamette's Strong

Willamette university's football squad, 22 strong, will board a "rattler" this afternoon after a light practice, headed for Caldwell, Idaho, where Friday night the Bearcats will engage in their first Northwest conference game of the new season against the College of Idaho Coyotes.

The "dope" is all in the Coyotes' favor with the almost negligible exception that they did not hold Washington State to so low a score as did Willamette; a circumstance which spells little since "Babe" Hollingbery, the Cougar coach, in between two hard games with California schools, was giving his regulars a much-needed rest last Saturday, whereas they played a larger part of the game with the Coyotes.

On the other hand the manner in which Anse Cornell's boys rolled over Albany college recently, coupled with the fact that Albany held Whitman to two touchdowns, proves conclusively that the Coyotes have an edge as strong as any in the conference.

Despite all this the Bearcats' case is not entirely hopeless. Their first line of defense has been strong all season and this week Coach "Spec" Keene has concentrated on more defense, including work designed to stop Idaho's passes, which are expected to be numerous.

Scout for Whitman Has Kind Words

An encouraging word comes, of all strange places, from Walla Walla. Roger Folgate, Whitman assistant coach, scouted the Bearcats at Pullman last Saturday, and his report resulted in the following remarks in the Walla Walla Union:

"Willamette, not heretofore considered on tap with Whitman, Pacific, C.P.S. and College of Idaho, fired at the Bearcats when heard around the world when the Bearcats calmly held W. S. C. to a 30-point victory Saturday.

"Of course W. S. C. used its reserves largely and did not exert itself much on this 'breather' game, but nevertheless the Bearcats who were driving up the field with a passing attack when the game ended, deserve a lot of credit.

"Six of Spec Keene's dependables, including Walt Erickson, were out on injuries, so proportionately speaking the big school reserves had the better of it."

Keene, in practice this week, was still looking for a right end to pair with "Wienie" Kaiser on the opposite extremity. Clarke is still on the injured list. One possibility is that Carson, another freshman, may get the call. Emery, a center, will start the season started, also is being considered.

The Bearcats held two night practices in addition to afternoon workouts this week. The night sessions were devoted largely to signal drill, to accustom the boys to handling the ball under the lights.

Dallas Team Goes Friday To Sheridan

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—Dallas high's football team will go to Sheridan this Friday for their second game of the season. Last year Dallas won over the Sheridan team by an 8 to 6 score and the locals are hoping to increase the margin this year.

Dallas is showing better form now than they did when they fought a scoreless tie against the slummi. They handed Dayton an 18 to 6 beating here last Friday and have gained a little confidence since then. Coach Shroves plans to start practically the same lineup as he used against Dayton last week in the Sheridan game.

This tentative lineup is: ends, D. Cadie and Friesen; tackles, H. Kliever and E. Peters; guards, Senter and E. Hockett; center, Retzer; quarter, B. Cadie; halfbacks, Frack and McMillan; fullback, Lewis.

Beginning with the Molalla team here on October 23 all Dallas high football games will be played on the new field at the old fairgrounds. The field has been graded and the turf taken off to make a much better playing field than the one on the campus. When the new field is completed it will be possible for cars to drive up facing the field so spectators can sit in their cars and watch the games. This new field will make it possible to keep the campus in good shape for baseball instead of tearing the field up every fall for football.

Canzoneri Flattens Frank Petrolle in Three Rounds, Meets Brother Billy Next

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion, scored a spectacular three-round knockout over Frankie Petrolle tonight before a shivering crowd of 12,000 in the closing show of the outdoor season. The ten round bout was a non-title affair.

Canzoneri, punching venomously, left little doubt from the start of the outcome of this battle with the youngest of the fighting Petrolles from Fargo, N. D.

Canzoneri's older brother, Billy, in a regulation title defense in Madison Square Garden November 4.

A half dozen left hooks, followed by a short right uppercut to the chin, flattened Petrolle after one minute, ten seconds of the third round. It was the first knockdown, but so stunned was Petrolle, who took a severe heat through the first two rounds, that he fell backward to the floor and never moved as the toll reached "ten" over him.

Canzoneri conceded Petrolle a wide weight advantage, coming in at 132 1/2 pounds while Petrolle scaled far above the lightweight limit at 140 1/2.

Petrolle, a plunging, sawed-off, bent over warrior with a face that bore evidence of many a leather barrage, willingly carried the battle to the champion through the first two rounds, but all his courage got him was a maximum of punishment.

Tony moved about him leisurely, plastering his twisted nose with short lefts, ripping a steady flow of right uppercuts and right crosses to Petrolle's willing head.

Frankie wavered a bit near the end of the second but kept plunging forward. He bled freely from the mouth as Canzoneri finally opened up the big guns, blasted Petrolle from his path in the third, and hustled off somewhere out of the chin wind to get warm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Kid Chocolate, the flashy little Cuban negro who has fought for all the titles within his reach, seeks New York state recognition as the featherweight champion in a 15-round bout with Lew Feldman in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Beaten off in his quest when Christopher (Bat) Battalino held the crown, once a challenger for Tony Canzoneri's lightweight laurels, the slim negro faces another opportunity through Battalino's inability longer to make the 126 pound limit of the featherweight class.

DADO CHAMP AGAIN

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 12.—(AP)—"Speedy" Dado, swift punching little Filipino, regained the state bantamweight title here tonight as he scored a 10 round decision over a countryman, "Young" Tommy in one of the fastest fights seen here in many months.

PARRISH GOES TO WEST LINN

Game Here Cancelled; all Local Gridiron Squads Take to the Road

All of Salem's four football teams will take to the road this week and there will be no game here. The nearest contest will be at Chemawa, where Coach Les Little's Indians will meet Oregon City high Saturday afternoon.

Parrish junior high made the exodus of local teams unanimous when it arranged for a contest at West Linn with the West Linn high "B" squad, after its scheduled game here with McMinnville junior high was postponed.

The squad from Yamhill county finding itself unable to come. Parrish will play at West Linn today. Leslie junior high will meet Oregon City junior high at Oregon City Friday afternoon.

With Willamette heading for Caldwell this afternoon to play College of Idaho Friday night, and the Salem high squad going to Bond where it will play Saturday, the game at Chemawa is the only one in the Salem vicinity this week end.

RED HILLS GRANGE MEETS; ALSO CLUB

LIBERTY, Oct. 12.—The community club will meet at the hall Friday, October 14, at 8 p. m. Annual election of officers will be held at this time. A program and reception for the teachers will follow. The committee in charge asks that cake, salad and sandwiches be brought for refreshments.

The regular meeting of the Red Hills grange was held at the Liberty hall Tuesday, with a potluck dinner at 8:30 o'clock.

Reports of the Home Economics and Agriculture committees at Macley were given. The following names were presented for membership: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Trumble, D. or o. y. Browning, Frances Shogren, Florian Huberts, Dale Dasch, Reed Chambers, and Harold Pruitt. William Dellsell was voted into membership as an unaffiliated member and Lena Hummel and C. A. Ratcliff as new members.

In the lecturer hour, Mrs. C. W. Stacey explained the four measures especially being backed by the grange. A ten minute talk on prohibition by Mr. Hansen was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be October 25 at which time work of the first and second will be taken by a number of candidates.

Happy Harmonizers To Furnish Music Again This Season

EVANS VALLEY, Oct. 12.—The Evans Valley Community club will hold its first meeting October 24 at the school house.

Oscar Johnson, president of the club will appoint his committee for the following month Friday night.

The women members of the community club plan to serve lunch at the A. P. Solle auction Wednesday. The women of this club have made extra money for their treasury this way before.

The Happy Harmonizers, who last year furnished much enjoyment at club meetings, have begun their rehearsals again. There are about 20 members of the Happy Harmonizers and Jim Strum is their president.

Erghis Tears Down Rebekah Property; Several Buy Homes

HUBBARD, Oct. 12.—T. Erghis bought and is razing the building on the Rebekah property west of the printing office. Simon Hostetter has bought from the city the corner property west of Well's garage. He is repairing the house and as soon as it is ready will move in with his family.

J. Higgenbotham, who formerly occupied the Chas. King house has moved with his family to the old George Walter place. Clyde Ainsworth is planning to buy the Poinsett property that belongs to the Congregational church. He with his family are living there now.

GRICE, DORAN JOIN HUNT MOUNTAIN VIEW, Oct. 12.—Ammon Grice and George Doran left this morning by auto for Lake county where they will join others who left Friday in the annual deer hunt. They will seek big game in the mountainous region adjacent to Paisley. Others in the party are J. E. Best, Larkin Grice, Lester Lipper and Glenn Atkey.

MARGARET HULT WINS JEFFERSON, Oct. 12.—Twenty-seven members and friends of the Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church enjoyed a "depression" party in the church parlors, Saturday night. Margaret Hult received first prize on her costume, and Burton Thurston won the second prize.
