WHAT great weather for the opening of the duck season this noon. And the ducks of Oregon didn't do so badly at Portland yesterday either. Of course this was written before we left for the game, but the Webfoots this year couldn't help but make a good showing even if the season to get them opened. And what great work on the part of Willamette Friday!

And speaking of ducks, Webfoots and things generally wet reminds us of crawfish. We know of several crawfish feeds the past week—and what feeds! Just ask Dr. Roy Birch, and others who enjoyed them. Did you ever eat crawfish? If nothing else do it sometime just for the education. The initiation at least is worth while.

One of these feeds was in the form of a double wedding anniversary, with neither bride present. Ed Rostein, who married Joe Adolph's sister at the same time Joe Adolph married Ed's sister staged the event. The two couples were married 29 years ago on the nineteenth of this month.

Complete registration reports from the various counties are coming in slowly. The total registrations do not indicate whether Hoover or Roosevelt will carry Oregon because most people do not now vote the straight party ticket. But it does show one trend, and that is Oregon will register more voters than it did in 1928.

Billy Magg, many years night janitor in the state capitol building, is seriously ill at the Salem general hospital. It was reported yesterday visitors were not allowed to see him at the present time. His co-workers and the friends he has made during his employment wish him a speedy recovery.

Hal E. Hoss certainly started something with his "Walk on the Grass" signs. Not only did that story get world-wide publication but several other sections have adopted the plan. This week a news dispatch from Washington, Pa., said a college president interested more in students than the lawn put out signs "Please Walk on the Grass."

Your correspondent, in commenting to Hal about his stunt, was taken aback when the secretary of state said we started the move. He recalled one day when the two of us were walking through the statehouse park noting the unusual signs, and the matter of walking on the grass came up. Thanks, Hal, you are generous, but the credit is all yours.

Word was received here yesterday that Charles A. Howard, superintendent of schools for Oregon, enroute to Medford and Marshfield, was taken ill at Roseburg and could not complete his trip. He has also cancelled two local speaking engagements in Salem and one at Vancouver, Wash. The nature of his illness was reported as not serious.

An attractive young woman, who apparently had lost her sense of direction in the state capitol building, entered the press room this A. M. and inquired for Mr. Bernstein. Members of the press gallery scratched their heads. It finally dawned upon one reporter that the woman was seeking the Associated Press correspondent, C. V. Bernhard. Five-cent cigars were passed around.

POISON CASE ENDS IN NOT TRUE BILL

Mina Foltz, Nurse, Freed Of Charge Brought by Former Patient

A not true bill against Mina Foltz, Woodburn nurse, accused by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Donaldson of attempting to poison Mrs. Donaldson's affections, was returned by the Marion county grand jury in a report made yesterday morning. The grand jury has had this matter before it since June 29, this year, when it came up following hearing in justice court.

Two other matters were reported upon, the jury returning a true bill in case of John Fennep, charged with assault with intent to rob the Henry Layman confectionary at Woodburn; and a true bill against Loyell E. Shinn, charged with non-support of a young son.

The case in which Mrs. Foltz, a practical nurse, featured, attracted considerable attention here and at Woodburn last May when charges against the woman made by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Donaldson were aired in justice court here.

The Donaldson's accused Mrs. Foltz of attempting to poison Mrs. Donaldson while the nurse was attending Mrs. Donaldson during illness. The private prosecutors maintained that the action was done to get Mrs. Donaldson out of the way, because of intimate feeling for Donaldson.

Mrs. Foltz in justice court denied intimacies with Donaldson, and claimed that lysol which was given Mrs. Donaldson was done so accidentally.

The grand jury will meet again next Thursday morning to consider a number of matters.

Two-Cent Stamp May Be Restored
Gibbard Reports

Two-cent postage may be restored, is a forecast indicated by a sub-committee of congress, stated Arthur Gibbard, assistant postmaster, in talking to members of the Salem Ad club about the new postal law. Falling off in letter mailings under the higher rate is given as a reason to restore the lower postage rate.

Mr. Gibbard outlined the new regulations particularly how they affect sending out of advertising material. He answered many questions pertaining to postal laws, and he assured the Ad men that it was strictly against the law for postal employees to read the postal cards.
