McNARYS TO LEAVE FOR CHICAGO SOON

Senator to Speak on Radio National Hookup Then Go to Washington

Senator Charles L. McNary and Mrs. McNary leave soon for Chicago, where October 21 the senator will speak on a national broadcast in behalf of the republican party. The senator's plans then call for a speech in Indiana in behalf of the campaign of Senator James Watson, a speech in Iowa and one in West Virginia, all being made under the auspices of the republican national committee.

The senator said yesterday that he thought Hoover's chances were exceedingly good with the president gaining steadily. He predicted that Oregon would stay safely in the republican column. Senator McNary pointed out that the number of democrats seemed large because the party's members are quite talkative but he observed that the large, quiet vote was staying with the party.

Women to Vote Dry
Senator McNary said citizens would be surprised by the strength of the dry vote to be cast by women in Oregon. He said this vote was going to Hoover and was now being thoroughly organized by organizations which did not feature in publicity but which were very strong.

After his campaign addresses the senator will go on to Washington. He will be there the large part of the time before congress assembles the first Monday in December. This congress, the so-called "one duck" session, will probably be the last of its kind to be held in the nation's history inasmuch as the Norris amendment to be the federal constitution, now approved by congress, would abolish this session and substitute therefore a session convened in January after the president had been inaugurated the first of that month instead of March 4 as is the present custom. The Norris amendment has already been approved by nearly a score of states.

Love EIRD Case—A hearing will be held in justice court this morning in the case against William Roudenbough, accused of larceny by bailment. He is accused of failing to give to the owner of two love birds the money for which he sold them. Kenneth Kouscher made the complaint as owner.

THINGS are almost back to normalcy in the state capital building—Kenneth Randall is back dispensing food over the lunch counter. He was absent for a week or so, claiming he was ill. Friends of Randall's however believe he was on a vacation and used a cold as an alibi. Anyhow we are glad to see him back.

On top of information about salary reductions, the state department of higher education has something else to worry about. A reorganization of that department now appears in the offing, at least all things and authentic information points that way. But such is the fate of political jobs.

Floyd Cook, former chairman of the state republican committee, was a business visitor in Salem yesterday. Floyd is interested in the majority election in Portland and declares there are some good men running. He says Joe Carson is coming to the fore rapidly along with Schull and Mack.

The state board of control met in Portland yesterday in Governor Meier's new office in the M. & P. store. No business was transacted that would make much of a news story, but the board members did consider the budget estimates, and held a conference on other matters of state interest.

Gosh, Oregon is getting on the map, thanks to Governor Meier. Why, even Richard Washburn Child, democratic writer and other writers applauding Roosevelt, pointed to Oregon and its governor in an attempt to attack Hoover. That surely should give Hoover a great boost in this state.

Child referred to Meier's statement urging the retention of the present administration as "ship-politics." He goes further declaring this type of politics was "tapping for political purposes, the confidence of the nation." He should have waited until after he heard Roosevelt last night so he wouldn't have embarrassed the democratic nominee. He certainly wouldn't have written that today.

Some people kind of take a liking to rodents. Even after seeing the bronchos every day at the state fair for a week and writing reams about it, we have heard of them going up to Portland to see the same old thing boosted perhaps by a little more censored line of propaganda. A member of the press gang—the Oregonian representative in fact—was one of these who wanted more, apparently.

JACKSON'S GAIN IN REGISTRATION 5210

Total Increase is 30,457; Other Counties Also Report Gains

Jackson county reported the largest registration increase of any of the 29 counties that have reported to the secretary of state following the close of registration October 15. Jackson reported a gain of 5210 over the total registration of four years ago. Both republican and democratic gains also were the highest so far filed. Multnomah and Lane are included in the seven counties remaining to send in their official figures.

Three other counties, filing reports today, all showed increases in totals and in the major parties. They are Columbia, Curry and Josephine. Their figures bring the total gain to date to 30,457, of which 11,648 are republicans and 20,778 democrats.

Jackson county listed 12,114 republicans, an increase of 2515 over the 1928 registration. Democrats listed were 6501, or a gain of 2809. All other parties listed 524, a slight decrease from minor parties in the last presidential election. The total is 19,139.

Josephine county registration increased 1093, of which 649 were republicans and 493 democrats. Complete figures were 4523 republicans, 1866 democrats, 123 from all other parties for a total of 6512.

Columbia county reported 5580 republicans, or 151 more than in 1928, but the democratic vote jumped 577 for a total of 2355. It also reported 133 from all other parties for a total of 5848.

Curry county reported 1513 republicans, an increase of 254 over four years ago; 617 democrats, an increase of 190, and 71 from other parties for a total registration of 2391 voters.

The new log bridge on the North Silver Falls market road is now about 75 per cent completed according to County Engineer Hedd Swart. Swart recommended at the start that the bridge be made of logs to blend with the scenery of the state park. It is located so that it is plainly seen from some distance while approaching from either side.

Swart stated that he thought the new bridge was the only rustic structure of the sort that is used on a state highway of this nature. He also thought that its life should be at least 15 years. It could easily be replaced with timber growing close at hand.

STUDENT LOAN FUND LOWERED BY $1500

Reduction in student loans available from the Methodist board of education from $4500 to $3000 for the 1932-1933 year at Willamette university has been announced by Dean Frank M. Erickson. As a result student requests for aid are being trimmed as low as possible and students who can get through the year without resorting to borrowing are being urged to do so.

This semester to date has seen 20 student loans approved for the half-year, the loans ranging from $20 to $75. No loans are made to students who have not completed one year at the school here. The loans bear five per cent interest from the time the student graduates from university or from the time he quits the school.

Dean Erickson is compiling data on the losses and gains sustained by the board on loans made to students here over a period of years. Many of the loans are made without endorsement or collateral and are entirely based upon the student's integrity.

Sample Ballots At Clerk's Office

Sample ballots, available to all voters, were beginning to be received at the office of the county clerk here yesterday. While ballots for the specific Salem precincts were not at hand, some were expected by today. The ballots are printed in color to distinguish them from the official ballot to be used November 8. So great is the number of names and measures that three columns of finely printed type is required for the ballots which are about three feet long.

CANNERY DUMPING CASE UNSCHEDULED

No date has yet been set for a hearing in the case of Ray Mailing and Dean Ray, Woodburn cannery operators accused of dumping refuse into the Padlock river, according to records in justice court.

Charges against the two were made early in September when thousands of fish were allegedly killed as a result of the dumping of waste matter from the cannery. Hearing in the matter was scheduled to be held in justice court here September 23 at that time, and later set over until early October.

At the last date set for the hearing, the district attorney's office and a representative of the state commission which filed the original charges agreed to set a new date for the hearing within a day or so.

The delay was said then to be caused by the fact that no report had been received on an analysis of the river water sent to laboratories at the time of the complaint.

REPUBLICANS OPEN UP IN NEW OFFICE

Marion county republican headquarters, duly moved to the former business location of the Salem Bank of Commerce yesterday, were ready to wage an intensive campaign for the ticket in the remaining days before election. New material on the national campaign and a considerable supply of Hoover and Curtis pictures, buttons and leaflets, were available at the offices for voters, without charge.

B. W. Macy yesterday addressed a letter to all men and women precinct workers in the county calling them to a general meeting to be held here Saturday night, October 24, at 6:30 o'clock. The gathering will be held at the Rose cafe, North Commercial street. Following the dinner, literature of the campaign will be distributed and the precinct workers will go over their campaign plans.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE STRIPED TIGER
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal artist, Paul Branson... inspired by the savage ferocity of the striped tiger, known throughout the world as the terror of the jungle. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
