Benefit Bridge is Planned, Large Affair

One of the large affairs being planned for the week ahead will be the benefit bridge for which Chadwick chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will be hostess Tuesday afternoon in the club rooms on the fifth floor of the Masonic temple.

Playing will begin at 2 o'clock. Auction and contract and "500" if there is demand for it will be in play. Reservations are being made with Mrs. Lullie Phillips and with Mrs. Emma Pearce.

The committee in charge of arrangements include: Mrs. Emma Pearce, chairman, Mrs. Lullie Phillips, Mrs. Veda Carson, Mrs. Ella Gibson, Mrs. Lillian King, Mrs. Myrtle Reeves, Mrs. Katharine Bernardi, Mrs. Viola Tyler, Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. Leah K. Phillips, Mrs. Della Smith, Mrs. Maude Tallman, Mrs. Nan Pettyjohn, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, Mrs. Elsie Harrison, Mrs. Thelma Green and Miss Elsie Wright.

Chemeketa Players Are Entertained

Chemeketa Players met Thursday night at the home of Miss Laurel Stoll and Vernon Stoll for an informal business session and business meeting. Discussion of problems arising out of the coming production of "Back-Seat Drivers" the first week in November occupied the major part of the evening. Casting of the play, "The Great Divide," a mystery comedy, is almost completed. Refreshments were served by the hosts.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Peterson, Perry Reigelman, Miss Gretta Schofield, Miss Lillian Potter, Ervin Porter, Victor Williams, Willis Peary, Harold Madsen, Laurel Stoll, Frank Torgerson, Vernon Stoll and Mrs. Stoll.

West Salem — Mrs. Esther Henningsen entertained her reading club at her home on Gerth avenue Tuesday night. This is the second meeting for this congenial group of literary students and at it they decided to have the hostess of each meeting act as leader and to have no regular elected president. Miss Gretchen Riehart was chosen secretary, and the date of the regular meetings will be the second Monday of each month.

At this meeting each member gave book reviews, and many were intensely interesting. The November meeting at which each member will review a book written by Willa Cather, will be held with Mrs. Helen Auman.

After the literary part of the pleasant social evening, musical numbers were given by Miss Marian Zinser on the piano, and delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those enjoying the social gathering were Mrs. Jack Auma, Mrs. R. E. Legge, Mrs. Stanley Waters, the Misses Gretchen Riehart, Bunny Miller, Thelma MacDonaid, Marian Zinser and Mr. and Mrs. Al C. Henningsen.

Attractive bowls and baskets of colorful fall flowers were effectively arranged in the living rooms where the literary evening was spent.

Monmouth — Mrs. Velma Smith was hostess Monday night to the Business and Professional Women's club of Monmouth and Independence. There was a large attendance, and exemplification of the order was given for Miss Pauline Riley, Mrs. S. Dietrick, Mrs. L. C. Forbes and Miss Lora Parker.

Ms. H. Hagmeier as chairman of the program committee presented an interesting talk stressing the duty of each member to vote. Miss Bess Sharrow and Miss Faith Kimball also talked on this subject. Each member brought a box of lunch and these were auctioned off to the highest bidder with Mrs. Dietrick in humorous costume acting as auctioneer.

Further plans were made toward a benefit card party the club is sponsoring the night of October 31 in the Legion hall. New business concerned the south Williamette district conference of Business and Professional Women to be held in Monmouth in January.

Liberty — An interesting meeting was the Silver tea, sponsored by the Liberty Women's club, Thursday afternoon at the Liberty hall. As the women's clubs have designated October for special child welfare work, a large part of the program was given by the primary grades from the children's farm home at Corvallis.

Mrs. C. F. Bishop and Mrs. Fargo, of Jefferson, gave a brief talk. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. William Zosel, on November 3.

Hollywood — The Merry Mingleers club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. S. Barker.

Those present included: guests, Mrs. Olin Cross and Mrs. Dan Scharr; club members: Mrs. A. McCain, Mrs. A. W. Fletcher, Mrs. P. P. Phipps, Miss Orrie Mitchell, Mrs. J. J. Ackerman, Mrs. Geo. Tharp, Mrs. J. E. Woodburn, Mrs. L. B. Malm, Mrs. C. C. Colwell, Mrs. H. Jones, Mrs. Tod Lehnardt, and the hostess, Mrs. E. S. Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Maclean are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son, F. Thor LeRoy, born October 11 at the Deaconess hospital.

Weekend Will be Busy Time For Club and Society Women of City

THE weekend forecast and a look ahead into the week that is coming indicates that Salem women will need to take a good long breath before they begin activities.

The American Association of University Women is in session today following an opening meeting Friday during which time a president's session, led by Mrs. J. A. Jelders and an educational session led by Miss Beryl Holt were held.

A banquet in the evening at the Masonic temple at which Dr. Edward Sison of Reed college presented in manner an address of educational importance, was an outstanding meeting of the session.

Today at 12:15 o'clock Mrs. J. A. Jelders, president of the Salem branch of the A. A. U. W. will preside over a luncheon meeting in the Masonic temple where all the meetings are being held.

The afternoon will be taken up with club reports, the development of special topics concerning education and the election of a new president. Mrs. G. A. Johnson of Portland is president of the state organization and is presiding over the convention sessions.

Today also is the legislative conference of the Salem Women's club and to this women from all over the country are expected to come. It is an all-day meeting with a no-host luncheon at 12 o'clock in the Argos hotel.

The meeting was to have been November 12 but it became necessary through conflicts of the state president, Mrs. Charles N. Bilyeu, to hold the meeting today and observe President's day November 12. At the later date there will be a covered dish luncheon in connection with the state president.

In addition to club events there will be two large parties today. Miss Dorothy White will entertain complimentary Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., at the White home. This will be a smart affair for a group of the younger maids and matrons.

This evening at the home of Mrs. E. E. Gilbert, Miss Beatrice Hartung will entertain with a colorful Halloween party complimenting about 30 of the university set.

And for the week ahead there is one of the largest parties of the season. Mrs. L. D. Lambeth and Mrs. Karl Heinlein have extended invitations to over 50 guests for a smart bridge tea at the Marion hotel.

Then there is the meeting Monday at the Women's Republican club at the Republican headquarters, corner of Liberty and State streets at 2 o'clock. Congresswoman W. C. Hawley will be the special speaker at 2:30 o'clock. Other talks will be given concerning the ballot measures which will appear for vote in November.

Monday Chapter A. B. of the P. E. O. Sisterhood will be guests of Mrs. William D. Smith, at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith will discuss ballot measures.

And also Monday the Sigma Nu chapter of Delphians will have an extra session for their year at the city library.

Saturday night Illihee country club is planning a Halloween dance, the first one to be given by the club this year.

The first of the four dances given by the Subscription club will also be an event of Saturday night at Masonic temple. This will be a very smart, formal ball and will draw a large group of the young married set of Salem as well as a number of invited guests.

Still in the spirit of Halloween will be the party being planned for November 1 by members of the Forum of the First Methodist church, and the high school will present its first opera November 4.

Busy — and this is only a glimpse of what is coming.

Hayesville — The Hayesville Woman's club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Bedwell Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Robin Day and Mrs. Clark Ritchey were chosen as leaders for a roll call contest, the members of the loosing side to present the winning side with a picnic the last meeting in the spring. Mrs. Revilla McAfee gave a book review on "The Bridge of the Gods."

Members present were Mrs. Clara Talmadge, Mrs. Revilla McAfee, Mrs. Roy Badgley, Mrs. Robin Day, Mrs. A. Stettler, Mrs. Elizabeth Siddell, Mrs. E. L. Moore, Mrs. Alice Heers, Mrs. Dave Janzen, Mrs. Joe Teal, Miss Ida Denny and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Bedwell.

Mrs. A. T. Brocker of Blackwell, Okla., Mrs. Emma Klein and Mrs. R. L. Bedwell were special guests.

Motoring to Portland Tuesday was Alice Mathy, Caroline Jensen, May Seely, and Juanita Hald, of the Salem Women's Breakfast club. They attended the Portland Breakfast club and tell of an interesting program presented by that group.

Hilarity Club Begins Season

Members of the Hilarity club and several additional guests were complimented with a delightful evening of bridge at the home of Mrs. Dow Lovell Wednesday.

The living rooms were cleverly decorated in keeping with the spirit of Halloween.

Those who enjoyed the affair were Mrs. Gilbert Kenner, Mrs. Dot Medley, Mrs. Leon Hansen, Mrs. Junior Eckley, Mrs. Louise Lorenz, Mrs. Carl Allport, Mrs. Claude Fallin, Mrs. Dan Hammond, Mrs. Doyt Davies, Mrs. Robert Blumenthal, Mrs. T. C. Campbell, nee Florence Allport of Goldfield, Nev., and Mrs. Dow Lovell.

The honors for bridge went to Mrs. Carl Allport, Mrs. Louise Lorenz and Mrs. Dan Hammond.

Monmouth — Mrs. A. E. Tetherow entertained the Tuesday Bridge club at her home this week. Autumn flowers made an attractive setting for the three tables. Those enjoying the affair were Mrs. H. Dodds, Mrs. Delmer Dewey, Mrs. H. W. Morlan, Mrs. James Gentile, Mrs. A. F. Courter, Mrs. George Cooper, Mrs. Cecil Guthrie, Mrs. Glenn Hillbrand of Independence, Mrs. F. B. Butler, Mrs. Cora Riddell, Mrs. Mina Cornelius and the hostess, Mrs. Tetherow.

Gervais — The American association of University women, most of the members being from Salem, were guests of Mrs. Scott Jones last Wednesday afternoon. They came out to see the collection of antiques owned by Mrs. Jones. The display was cleverly arranged by Mrs. J. A. Jelders. Some historical pieces were loaned by women in this community. Mrs. Jones served tea to the 50 ladies present.

Monmouth — At the regular meeting Tuesday night of Seabeam circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, Mrs. F. E. Murdock directed the following program: Cornet solo; reading, John Githner; piano solo, John Murdock; reading, George Murdock; vocal number, John Githner with Mrs. Murdock at the piano.

Mrs. D. C. Abel, familiar known as "Mother Abel" of Lyons, is a guest of Mrs. G. F. Johnston for a few days.

An enjoyable day was spent by women of the Illihee Golf club Friday on the club course. Mrs. William G. Stacy, Jr., won the day prize. A noon luncheon was served with Mrs. C. N. Needham and Mrs. Frank Shafer as the hostess committee.

Surprise Party is Jolly Affair

Miss Marian Morange and Miss Perle Miles were the inspiration for a jolly surprise party Friday night at their apartment when a group of friends called for a social evening and presented gifts for a kitchen shower for the apartment.

Present were Miss Olive M. Dahl, Miss Gale Currie, Miss Leila Johnson, Mrs. Cecil Monk, Miss Margaret Stevenson, Mrs. Glenn Soliman, Mrs. Harold Myraker, Mrs. Mike Panek, Mrs. G. A. Downs, and Mrs. George Busch, house guest of Mrs. Panek from Amity.

Mrs. David Smith Compliments Son

Complimenting her young son, David Smith, Jr., on his eight birthday anniversary, Mrs. David Smith was hostess at an attractive affair on Tuesday afternoon. The rooms of the Smith home on Center street were lovely with Halloween novelties and autumn leaves and flowers.

At the tea hour, the serving table was attractive with novelties, and a birthday cake with eight rose tapers. Novel Halloween favors and small cup cakes, each holding a rose-taper marked covers for a group of the neighborhood children.

Mrs. Wynn Grier, who has been teaching in the Coquille high school, and who is an experienced dramatic director, has become associate director of the Creative Theatre section of the Salem Arts League. She will have the direction of "The Answer to a Madman's Prayer," the comedy written by Mrs. Julia Lytle. The section holds its sessions Thursday nights in the auditorium of the city library from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Lincoln — Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell nee Rachel Buckles, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Buckles of Lincoln, was complimented with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Myra Hendricks of the Four Corners, east of Salem, Thursday.

Those present were the honor guest, Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell, Mrs. E. E. Buckles, Mrs. D. R. Ruble, Mrs. Anna Neiger, Mrs. J. Hackett, and the hostess, Mrs. Hendricks.

Mrs. Irl S. McSherry has had as her house guest this week her sister, Miss Marguerite Elizabeth Doak of McMinnville. Miss Doak spent the weekend as a guest at the University of Oregon.

Grand Island — The Mothers' Circle club held its first business meeting following the summer vacation Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Will Umbanhour. As a surprise a shower was given to Mrs. Albert Umbanhour and a handkerchief and dish towel shower given to Mrs. Ernest Douglas, honoring her birthday anniversary.

Russian Drama Discussed

An exceptionally interesting meeting was enjoyed by members of Chapter G of the P. E. O. Sisterhood at the regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Herbert Rahe discussed in excellent manner the Russian drama.

The topic of Russia is forming an interesting one for the chapter this year. Next meeting with Mrs. A. A. Schramm will be given over to the discussion of Russian music.

At the tea hour Thursday Mrs. C. K. Logan and Mrs. Frank Churchhill assisted Mrs. McGilchrist in serving. Mrs. Robert Boardman and Mrs. Al Adolphson were special guests.

Hazel Green — Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phillips (Laura Pepperling) of Jordan Valley were honor guests at a 7 o'clock dinner at home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williamson. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Borchers of Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yermem. Mrs. Phillips spent a winter here with her sister, Mrs. Williamson, attending school.

STUDENT PLAY IS SLATED FOR 18TH

GERVAIS, Oct. 21 — "The Little Ciondopper" will be given at the auditorium November 18 by the high school student body. Mr. Buchanan is coaching and the members of the cast are working hard learning their parts. The glee club under direction of Miss Catlin will make its first appearance at the time of the play.

The freshman class is planning a masquerade party in honor of the sophomore class for October 28 at the auditorium. Everyone is to appear masked. All teachers and alumni and parents are expected to attend.

George Stokx and Miss Ruth Knowles slipped away to Vancouver last week and were quietly married. They are now living in Woodburn. Mr. Stokx is employed with the railroad welding crew and expects to soon be transferred to Arizona.

A benefit dance is to be given at the auditorium Wednesday

Stanbrough of Normal at Monmouth Recalls Early Association With Hoover

MONMOUTH, Oct. 21 — A. C. Stanbrough who has been on the teaching staff of the Oregon Normal school for the past eight years, observed a birthday anniversary at his home Sunday. He was born Oct. 10, 1873 in Iowa, the state in which President Hoover was born August 10, 1854.

It is rather interesting coincidence that these two men, born with but 16 months difference in their ages, with Iowa as their native state, should each come west to Oregon and settle in Newberg where they became boyhood friends and companions, participating together in the friendly intimacy and rivalry of games and pranks common to small town life.

Both attended Academy. They were not acquainted in Iowa. In Newberg each attended the old Pacific academy but not at the same time. Mr. Stanbrough says that May Hoover, a sister of Herbert, was in school for three years in the same building and at the same time that he attended there.

Reminiscing a bit about his acquaintance with the boy who was destined to become so famous, Mr. Stanbrough says they called him "Bert" or "Bertie" Hoover in those days of 40 years ago, and his name so appears on the old school records retained at Newberg. When Bert Hoover went to Salem to assist in a real estate office opened there by his uncle, Dr. Minthorn, and the latter's brother-in-law, Ben Cook, Mr. Stanbrough continued in school at Newberg, and from that time their paths in life diverged.

Hoover's Memory Good. He avers that "Bert" had a splendid memory for faces. They had not met for about 20 years, when, after the war, Mr. Hoover with his wife and sons visited Newberg. A group of Newberg men arranged a luncheon with Mr. Hoover as the honor guest at a downtown hotel.

"I readily recognized Mr. Hoover, because, of course, I was looking for him," says Mr. Stanbrough. "But Mr. Hoover did not know who had been asked to meet him at the luncheon. However, he glanced over the tea or so assembled, and said: 'There's one face I remember, and came at once to shake hands with me. The memory of boyhood associations leaped the gap of time and separation.'"

"At that time I found Mr. Hoover very little changed in appearance from our last meeting 20 years earlier. But first during the present campaign his voice sounded perfectly natural to me, but it has changed in recent addresses until often I do not recognize its one time familiarity."

Mr. Stanbrough has followed the teaching profession during his adult life. For 15 years, he was city superintendent of schools in Newberg, his home town. He came to Monmouth in June, 1924, to head the Oregon Normal school's department of education, and continues in the same work.

MT. ANGEL, Oct. 21 — A big political rally is slated to be held in the auditorium here Monday night at 8 o'clock, when such prominent speakers as Max Gehlhar, state director of agriculture, and James W. Mott, corporation commissioner, will speak. Sam Brown, state senator, will also appear, talking on the Rogue river closing bill; and Clyde Spooner will talk against the bus and truck bill. Two speakers, representing each side of the college consolidation bill, will also appear.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Mt. Angel Farmers Union. Frank Hettwer, secretary, says other speakers will be lined up for the meeting.
