

The Oregon Statesman

"No Favor Sways Us; No Fear Shall Awe" From First Statesman, March 28, 1851

THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO.

CHARLES A. SPRAGUE Editor-Manager SHELDON F. SACKETT Managing Editor

Member of the Associated Press The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper.

ADVERTISING

Portland Representative Gordon B. Bell, Security Building, Portland, Ore. Eastern Advertising Representatives Bryant, Gilchrist & Brunson, Inc. Chicago, New York, Detroit, Boston, Atlanta.

Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, as Second-Class Matter. Published every morning except Monday. Business office, 215 S. Commercial Street.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

Mail Subscription Rates, in Advance. Within Oregon: Daily and Sunday, 1 Mo. $1.00; 3 Mo. $2.75; 6 Mo. $5.00; 1 year $9.00. Elsewhere 10 cents per Mo., or $1.00 for 1 year in advance. By City Carrier: 45 cents a month; $5.00 a year in advance. Per Copy 2 cents. On trains and News Stands 5 cents.

Abolishing Liquor Control

The wets propose the repeal of the Anderson law which is merely the enforcement statute for the prohibition amendment in the state constitution. Do the voters realize the effect this repeal would have if carried? It would not only completely abolish all enforcement of prohibition, but it would prevent the legislature or the people from adopting ANY liquor control measure.

For so long as prohibition was written in the state constitution any control law for saloons or dispensaries would be unconstitutional. So the situation would be that there would be no law with penalties, etc. to make prohibition effective; and the legislature and people would be restrained from passing any substitute measure until the constitution is repealed.

It is true the state would still be under federal prohibition; but the slender staff of federal agents could not begin to cope with violations of the federal law and local sheriffs would have no state law to enforce.

Decent citizens all over the state should unite to defeat this repeal measure. It is hypocritical and dishonest. We do not believe there is a handful of wets in the state who really want to have no control over liquor; yet they vote for that when they vote for this repeal bill.

The orderly way to change prohibition in this country is first to repeal or alter the 18th amendment and the Volstead act; and then individual states may act. In this state the constitution should be changed before the enforcement statute is repealed. The fact that the wets do not take these orderly steps shows the insincerity of their purposes.

Answering a Query

JOE SHELTON, secretary of the Oregon Motor association, who rides around a lot over the highways to see what the motorists are getting for their money, professes to be mystified why the approaches to so many bridges in the state are curved. Some of the bridges themselves are curved; and Shelton wants to know the why for all the curves.

We are no engineer but we can answer that one. The reason there are curves for bridge approaches is to avoid all right angles.

Of course what Joe is aiming at is to have roads and bridges run together in a straight line. Now this is the reason why that is not practical. Your roads generally run parallel to the stream so as to get the "water grade". A bridge crossing is usually at right angles to the stream and hence to the line of road, so the road leading into it must either be at a sharp angle, which would be dangerous, or curved. When a highway crosses a canyon, it is often necessary to swing down the sides to get the proper gradient, instead of running straight down the hill and across the stream.

Road engineers however should pay more attention to bridge approaches, because many of them are inexcusably dangerous. Meantime drivers should remember that engineers can't alter some elemental facts of topography and completely wipe out hills and hollows.

Mr. Hyde Failed to Hide

A southern California school superintendent who had been living a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde life tried to drop his true character and name and under an assumed name marry a pretty Seattle girl and start life over again. He failed to succeed because the name he had assumed became known, was published in papers over the coast, and recognized just after he had taken out a marriage license. His plans foiled, the man has gone back home, been accepted by his forgiving wife. He will have the experience now of starting life anew, all right; and is lucky that he gets off without landing behind prison bars.

Strange indeed the stirrings of the heart which would tempt this fellow to make such a foolish break for "liberty". Perhaps he was tired of "inhibitions" and was willing to risk all in one flash of gay adventure. Perhaps his domestic situation drove him to seek escape. The incident illustrates the fact that you cannot tell what emotional tempests may be raging beneath the calm demeanor of ordinary men and women. Man's mind is a funny mechanism; and the way it will react is quite unpredictable.

Hands Across the Sea

WHAT is this gesture from Rome? It is Mussolini with hands outstretched across the sea. And what is Mussolini reaching out his hands for? He reaches to America, kind-hearted America and asks remission for debt. The hands were stretched out 15 years ago to get the money; now they are extended in supplication that the debt be forgiven and forgotten.

In the general scaling down of things the creditor always loses. So it has been and probably will be with the U. S. A. over these foreign debts. We do not expect them to be paid, but that doesn't make the taste in our mouths any sweeter. At least Uncle Sam has learned the folly of financing further foreign wars.

The liveliest political bunch in the town is the Young Men's republican club which is wading into this political campaign aggressively. These young fellows are interested in public affairs, not from the standpoint of good government. They have a meeting tonight at the court house, and it will pop up a lot of the old wheelhorses to go up and see the enthusiasm which these chaps display.

The democratic press of the state is raging over the tariff on flax products. And would you believe it, they are complaining because the rates are NOT HIGH ENOUGH. If ever there was an outfit trying to gain office under false pretenses it's that bunch of demagogues.

The Capital Journal makes merry with Hoover's promises of four years ago which have not been fulfilled. Yet that is precisely the method that Franklin Roosevelt is using now to gain the highest office in the land. Promises, promises, with not the slightest guarantee or assurance that he can make good on his promises.

Old Man Talmadge shot a sharp bolt last Sunday when he remarked about Columbus having trouble with his crew. Suppose they had elected a new captain in mid-ocean... well, history would have had nothing to say about 1492.

The varsity Emerald has an editorial entitled "The Last Lap". University boys ought to be good on such a subject.

BITS for BREAKFAST

By R. J. HENDRICKS

One Arm Brown again: Start of the Modoc war: (Continuing from Sunday) "As soon as the men were dismounted and advanced in line, standing at order of arms in front of the horses, I was directed to enter the camp to see Captain Jack and inform him of our friendly mission and assure him that no harm was intended, but that he would be required to move his people to the reservation. Going from camp to camp I was not able to find Captain Jack.

"As I came out of one of the huts I saw Scarface and Charley coming up the river bank. Scarface, ed Major Jackson, who was still mounted, the major ordered him to halt, at the same time drawing his revolver. At this Scarface paid no attention, but came on into the village, all the time haranguing his people and demanding that they fight to the death, telling them that if they would be quick enough they could kill every soldier without the loss of a man. With an oath, he rushed past me and went into Bogus Charley's tent, and in a moment both Scarface and Bogus appeared with their guns drawn, and called to the women and children to throw themselves flat on the ground. Then I knew they were going to fire upon us. I immediately started toward our men, saying, 'Major, they are going to fire!'

"At this, the major ordered Lieutenant Boutelle, who stood in advance of the line, to take four men and arrest the two Indians and hand them to the soldiers. As Boutelle stepped forward with the four men, the two Indians fired. The warriors in the camps in the heavy sage brush in the rear of the village fired almost simultaneously. Then all was din and confusion; men were falling in lines, the riders' horses were dashing here and there and kicking among us, but instantly came

When daylight revealed the presence of the cavalry in Captain Hooker's camp, Hooker's men made a rush for their canoes, evidently to reinforce Captain Jack, but were prevented by the citizens. The object of the authorities was explained to the Indians, and a few of them were in the act of giving up their arms when the firing began at Captain Jack's camp. "Instantly the Modocs fired on the citizens and a fierce fight at close range took place, so that, looking across the river during the fight with Captain Jack, we could see another battle going on almost opposite to us. Two citizens, Jack Thurber and William Nus, were killed and Joe Penning was maimed for life, and the Indians, securing their own horses, which were near at hand, escaped to the long rocky ridge east of where the Frank Adams farm is now located; while the citizens rallied at the Crawley cabin.

"Captain Jack, with most of his best and most desperate men, had made good his escape, though at the time both he and Scarface were reported among the killed, even by the prisoners. We had lost Sergeant Harris, killed, and as nearly as I can remember, six men were mortally wounded, and several others painfully though not dangerously hurt. Among the Indians killed were Watchman and We-sing-ko-pos, leading warriors, and Black Jim, Long Jim and Miller's Charley were among the wounded. The loss on our side amounted to fully a third of the military force in the field, and was quite sufficient to disable Captain Jackson's small force for the time being.

"After the fight Captain Jackson sent his wounded across the river in a canoe, Dave Hill being the oarsman; Surgeon McEldey and a few more as a guard were also taken over and the men were conveyed to the Crawley cabin. The remaining troops mounted their saddled horses and, as there was no ford in the vicinity, hastily rode up toward the Stukel ford seven miles distant. Before arriving at the ford we reached them that Jack and his infuriated men had renewed the fight. Looking toward Tule lake great volumes of smoke could be seen arising from burning buildings. Dashing through the rapid ford, the poor horses seemed to realize the awful situation as they put forth renewed effort down the river with utmost speed on the east side, and soon the cavalry rode only the ground where the citizens and Hooker's men had so lately fought, but the wily savage was already wreaking vengeance on the inoffensive settlers, beyond the ridge on the plains and at the head of Tule lake.

Daily Health Talks

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

At some time or other it is probable you have had a nose-bleed. It may not have amounted to much, or it may have been severe. Whatever it was, I am quite sure that you are interested in it. A nose-bleed is rather a common occurrence and its importance and meaning are often overlooked. When persistent and frequently repeated, it may seriously interfere with good health and body development. In every case, the underlying cause of the disturbance must be determined. Removal of the cause results in cure and promotes normal development and growth.

A common cause of nose-bleed in children is a localized inflammation or ulceration within the nose which the child constantly picks at and picks. In these cases the ulceration should be treated by a physician and the child should be taught to keep the fingers away from the nose. A sudden attack of nose-bleed is sometimes caused by change of temperature, by strenuous work or play, severe exertion, or extremely hot weather.

Deformities of the nose, particularly a displacement of the partition between the two sides of the nose, may cause frequent attacks of nose-bleed. Another common yet neglected cause is the presence of nasal polypi—small tumors or growths in the nose that interfere with normal breathing. Polypi can be removed by a simple and painless operation.

Of course an injury such as a blow on the nose may result in bleeding, due to rupture of one of the many tiny blood vessels. Certain persons bleed more easily than others. In them, the slightest tap, blow or exertion will stimulate a nose-bleed.

It may be due to a blood disorder, which can only be determined by a blood test and careful physical examination. By tests, the bleeding and clotting time of the blood is determined.

Try not to get excited when a nose-bleed occurs, for excitement will increase the bleeding. It is important to keep as quiet as possible. Avoid exertion and movement.

Keep a cold, wet towel pressed firmly against the nose. If ice is available, the bleeding may be successfully controlled by applying it to the nose and kidneys, and the continuous applications for thirty minutes.

Seek Doctor's Advice When the dots form, do not remove them. Cotton packings may be placed in the nose to control the bleeding. Often they help to form clots, and that is the purpose of the treatment.

Repeated nose-bleeds in children or adults require careful attention. Physical examination should include an examination of the nose, throat, heart and kidneys, and the blood pressure should be taken.

Do not look upon repeated nose-bleed as a trivial matter. The cause may be obscure and difficult to locate. Prompt attention may prevent a serious ailment in later life.

Answers to Health Queries H. S. W. Q.—What do you advise for stomach ulcers? A.—Send self-addressed stamped envelope for full particulars and request your question.

Copyright, 1922, The Pacific States Press, Inc.

A Football "HUDDLE" By FRANCIS WALLACE

SYNOPSIS Ted Wynn agrees to the higher things in life so he leaves his position in a steel mill and works his way through Old Dominion College. He succeeds creditably. Under Coach Barney Mack, Ted becomes quarterback on the Blue Comets, losing only one game during the season. His only enemy at school is Tom Stone, who considers Ted his inferior. Both boys are rivals for the love of wealthy and spoiled Barb Eath. Following a misunderstanding, Ted ignores Barb, but his thoughts are always of her even while with lovely Rosalie Downa. At the Christmas dance, Barb slights Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is not in a position to be serious, Ted discontinues seeing her. In the spring, Barney lectures on football. Ted is commended for his somber, "The Man of Steel" Ted. Rosalie tries to make him understand he has his ideals centered around the wrong girl. Later in the evening, Ted, for the first time, realizes how lovely Rosalie is. Days of happy companionship follow. Barb is puzzled. Back at school, Ted's thoughts return to Barb. Then he meets Betty. They are exceptionally fond of one another, but realizing he is