

RESENTMENT IS GENERAL, WORD

Democrats Aghast as They See Votes Lost Through Sarcastic Phrases

(Continued from page 1)

First Methodist church here, indicated in a statement made yesterday, and printed below in full.

"The utmost disapproval" of Smith's political tactics and defamations against agencies of "known value to the moral life of the nation" was expressed last night by Milo Ross, president of the county Christian Endeavor.

Reflection of attitude with which the former presidential candidate's speech was received by W. C. T. U. members here is contained in the words of Mrs. Fred J. Toose, Jr., secretary of the union here.

"I did not hear all the speech, but the consensus of opinion among the people with whom I have talked today is that Smith's attack on the W. C. T. U. and other organizations would only assure Hoover reelection."

Belief on Bourbon Street Confirmed

Dr. Parker's statement on the Smith speech follows:

"Mr. Smith's admission that he was the author of the prohibition plank in the democratic platform only confirmed the belief in that regard held by every intelligent American. The leaders and the rank and file of the Methodist church were against Mr. Smith in 1928 because of his record and position on the prohibition question. Our position on that question is not altered by the fact that under other leadership the country is now promised what it failed to get through the defeat of Mr. Smith. We make no apologies for this fact.

"When he stated that 'a man is to be known by the company he keeps' and asked the nation to judge Mr. Hoover by such friends as Dan Poling, Col. Raymond Robbins, Bishop Ernest Richardson and Edwin Dinwiddie, he unwittingly paid Mr. Hoover a great compliment. Even the president of the United States could well be proud of such an aggregation of Americans as his friends.

"By this same token then would he have the nation judge Mr. Roosevelt? Are Mr. Smith—who in an hour when the nation expected some high constructive word on the economic issues of this campaign consumed the entire time hoisting of his friends for the liquor traffic and attacking the reputation of a woman—and the noisy Jerry crowd that booted the mere mention of some of the outstanding social and religious leaders of today, the friends of whom Mr. Roosevelt is to be known?

"We can well hope that Mr. Smith's rule does not apply both ways. At any rate that speech will make any dry or disaffected American of intelligence stop long enough to see who the stage hands are that are setting the scenes in this campaign.

Christian Youth Shows Disapproval

Christian youth's disapproval of the utterances Monday night of Al Smith are voiced in the following words of Milo Ross, president of the Marion county Christian Endeavor Union:

"Christian Endeavor is an organization of Christian workers which has given its support unreservedly to causes which seek to advance the moral attitude of the time. It is inherently non-political, and only reaches into politics as politics can be of use in expressing a spirit of citizenship. The cause of national prohibition is a plank in the Christian Endeavor platform. In this light, the words of Alfred E. Smith in denunciation of the work of the W. C. T. U. and the M. E. church, agencies of known value to the moral life of the nation, and of the life and work of Daniel Poling, who has given his time and energy in the fostering of progressive national ethics, can be received only with the utmost disapproval."

Speaking as president of the Marion county Christian Federation, which is sponsoring the appearance here November 1 of Dan Poling, Fred J. Toose, Jr., last night had the following comment to make on Smith's Newark utterances:

"I consider his speech a rabid appeal for wide opening of the doors for return of liquor traffic and that it demonstrates total lack of consideration for the stand of millions of American citizens who have honestly supported prohibition in principle and practice as a means of elimination of the evils of the old saloon and all other forms of liquor traffic."

Reflection of attitude with which the former presidential candidate's speech was received by W. C. T. U. members here is contained in the words of Mrs. Fred J. Toose, Jr., secretary of the union here.

"I did not hear all the speech, but the consensus of opinion among the people with whom I have talked today is that Smith's attack on the W. C. T. U. and other organizations would only assure Hoover reelection."

Belief on Bourbon Street Confirmed

Dr. Parker's statement on the Smith speech follows:

"Mr. Smith's admission that he was the author of the prohibition plank in the democratic platform only confirmed the belief in that regard held by every intelligent American. The leaders and the rank and file of the Methodist church were against Mr. Smith in 1928 because of his record and position on the prohibition question. Our position on that question is not altered by the fact that under other leadership the country is now promised what it failed to get through the defeat of Mr. Smith. We make no apologies for this fact.

"When he stated that 'a man is to be known by the company he keeps' and asked the nation to judge Mr. Hoover by such friends as Dan Poling, Col. Raymond Robbins, Bishop Ernest Richardson and Edwin Dinwiddie, he unwittingly paid Mr. Hoover a great compliment. Even the president of the United States could well be proud of such an aggregation of Americans as his friends.

"By this same token then would he have the nation judge Mr. Roosevelt? Are Mr. Smith—who in an hour when the nation expected some high constructive word on the economic issues of this campaign consumed the entire time hoisting of his friends for the liquor traffic and attacking the reputation of a woman—and the noisy Jerry crowd that booted the mere mention of some of the outstanding social and religious leaders of today, the friends of whom Mr. Roosevelt is to be known?

"We can well hope that Mr. Smith's rule does not apply both ways. At any rate that speech will make any dry or disaffected American of intelligence stop long enough to see who the stage hands are that are setting the scenes in this campaign.

Christian Youth Shows Disapproval

Christian youth's disapproval of the utterances Monday night of Al Smith are voiced in the following words of Milo Ross, president of the Marion county Christian Endeavor Union:

"Christian Endeavor is an organization of Christian workers which has given its support unreservedly to causes which seek to advance the moral attitude of the time. It is inherently non-political, and only reaches into politics as politics can be of use in expressing a spirit of citizenship. The cause of national prohibition is a plank in the Christian Endeavor platform. In this light, the words of Alfred E. Smith in denunciation of the work of the W. C. T. U. and the M. E. church, agencies of known value to the moral life of the nation, and of the life and work of Daniel Poling, who has given his time and energy in the fostering of progressive national ethics, can be received only with the utmost disapproval."

Speaking as president of the Marion county Christian Federation, which is sponsoring the appearance here November 1 of Dan Poling, Fred J. Toose, Jr., last night had the following comment to make on Smith's Newark utterances:

"I consider his speech a rabid appeal for wide opening of the doors for return of liquor traffic and that it demonstrates total lack of consideration for the stand of millions of American citizens who have honestly supported prohibition in principle and practice as a means of elimination of the evils of the old saloon and all other forms of liquor traffic."

Reflection of attitude with which the former presidential candidate's speech was received by W. C. T. U. members here is contained in the words of Mrs. Fred J. Toose, Jr., secretary of the union here.

"I did not hear all the speech, but the consensus of opinion among the people with whom I have talked today is that Smith's attack on the W. C. T. U. and other organizations would only assure Hoover reelection."

Belief on Bourbon Street Confirmed

Dr. Parker's statement on the Smith speech follows:

"Mr. Smith's admission that he was the author of the prohibition plank in the democratic platform only confirmed the belief in that regard held by every intelligent American. The leaders and the rank and file of the Methodist church were against Mr. Smith in 1928 because of his record and position on the prohibition question. Our position on that question is not altered by the fact that under other leadership the country is now promised what it failed to get through the defeat of Mr. Smith. We make no apologies for this fact.

"When he stated that 'a man is to be known by the company he keeps' and asked the nation to judge Mr. Hoover by such friends as Dan Poling, Col. Raymond Robbins, Bishop Ernest Richardson and Edwin Dinwiddie, he unwittingly paid Mr. Hoover a great compliment. Even the president of the United States could well be proud of such an aggregation of Americans as his friends.

"By this same token then would he have the nation judge Mr. Roosevelt? Are Mr. Smith—who in an hour when the nation expected some high constructive word on the economic issues of this campaign consumed the entire time hoisting of his friends for the liquor traffic and attacking the reputation of a woman—and the noisy Jerry crowd that booted the mere mention of some of the outstanding social and religious leaders of today, the friends of whom Mr. Roosevelt is to be known?

"We can well hope that Mr. Smith's rule does not apply both ways. At any rate that speech will make any dry or disaffected American of intelligence stop long enough to see who the stage hands are that are setting the scenes in this campaign.

Christian Youth Shows Disapproval

Christian youth's disapproval of the utterances Monday night of Al Smith are voiced in the following words of Milo Ross, president of the Marion county Christian Endeavor Union:

"Christian Endeavor is an organization of Christian workers which has given its support unreservedly to causes which seek to advance the moral attitude of the time. It is inherently non-political, and only reaches into politics as politics can be of use in expressing a spirit of citizenship. The cause of national prohibition is a plank in the Christian Endeavor platform. In this light, the words of Alfred E. Smith in denunciation of the work of the W. C. T. U. and the M. E. church, agencies of known value to the moral life of the nation, and of the life and work of Daniel Poling, who has given his time and energy in the fostering of progressive national ethics, can be received only with the utmost disapproval."

Speaking as president of the Marion county Christian Federation, which is sponsoring the appearance here November 1 of Dan Poling, Fred J. Toose, Jr., last night had the following comment to make on Smith's Newark utterances:

"I consider his speech a rabid appeal for wide opening of the doors for return of liquor traffic and that it demonstrates total lack of consideration for the stand of millions of American citizens who have honestly supported prohibition in principle and practice as a means of elimination of the evils of the old saloon and all other forms of liquor traffic."

PLANS UNMASKED, CLAIM BY BORAH

(Continued from page 1)

terms as a bunch of bigots and cranks who should belong in the Hoover camp. He said in effect if you have been in any doubt we now invite you to get out. Your presence, your influence are not wanted."

"In this remarkable speech all other questions were subordinated to the one question, give us beer, give us something to drink. What a magnificent political creed. There is nothing in his speech as reported here about protecting the dry states. He would leave them where they were, over-run by the liquor traffic in other states. There is nothing in his speech about preventing the return of the saloon. He would apparently permit that miniature hell on earth to return to American life.

Saloon to Return If Democrats Win

"Here is the creed, here is the program outlined by this distinguished leader. If this program is adopted it means we are to return to the saloon in 1914—the dry states can protect themselves, the saloon can come back.

"There never has been in this country a more sincere, conscientious and courageous body of men and women than those who have been fighting and are still fighting the liquor evil. They may be in error as to the best way to treat the subject. They may be wrong as to the best method of dealing with the subject. That is the subject. That is a matter of argument, a matter of debate. But to denounce as hypocrites and moral delinquents those who have fought in every way to eliminate this curse from society is nothing less than startling."

MASONS TO HONOR WINSLOW TONIGHT

Walter C. Winslow, new grand master of Masons in Oregon, will be honored tonight at a combined reception and annual homecoming banquet at Salem Lodge No. 4, A. F. & M. U., at the best method of dealing with the subject. That is the subject. That is a matter of argument, a matter of debate. But to denounce as hypocrites and moral delinquents those who have fought in every way to eliminate this curse from society is nothing less than startling."

The program will include music by the Barrick quartet and treat the subject of the reception committee.

Thomas Indicted On Five Counts, Forgery Charge

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25 (AP)—The county grand jury late today returned indictments on five counts of forgery against Elliott E. Thomas, 38, Redondo Beach school superintendent who came here Saturday from a restaurant in Seattle to admit he embezzled school funds over a two year period.

Ball was set at $10,000 and Thomas returned to the county jail.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. his attorney said will plead guilty and will throw himself upon the mercy of the court.

BOOKS ARE GRANDPARENTS

KEIZER, Oct. 25—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Book of Keizer are the proud grandparents of a baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fitzgerald of Portland. The baby arrived at the Book home October 15, weighed 4 1/2 pounds and is named Charles William.

POLITICAL BATTLE PLANNED BY LIONS

A virial political battle will constitute the program for the Lions club luncheon at the Marion hotel tomorrow noon. The republican and democratic county central committees who have been invited each to provide a speaker who will be allotted 15 minutes in which to present his side of the election contest.

R. J. Hendricks, long-time republican and former publisher of The Statesman, was named by Chris J. Kowitz, county chairman, to speak for the G. O. P. platform.

Representing the democrats will be C. A. Robison of West Salem, who will speak on "America from International Viewpoint." Robison has viewed the United States from abroad while employed by American automobile interests.

REAL "BAD ACTORS" TERRORIZE REEL GOOD ONES

The depredations of an apparently well-informed band of clever crooks who specialize in relieving wealthy movie folk of their valuables has thrown the film colony of Hollywood and Los Angeles into a state of terror, bordering on panic. In the past year notables of the flicker world have been victimized by the gang. The most recent case was that of Miss West, of "Diamond Lil" fame, who was held up and robbed of $19,000 in jewels and cash in front of her home. Just a month previously the home of Zeppe Marx had been burglarized for $37,000 worth of valuables, while police were still seeking a clue to the perpetrators of the raid on the home of Carmel Myers, who was "strong-armed" out of $20,000 worth of jewels. But Hollywood's greatest fear comes from kidnap threats, which have been flying thick and fast of late. Marlene Dietrich, glamorous German star, Ruth Chatterton and Ann Harding are three notables who are being guarded night and day as the result of abduction threats. Many of the made film celebrities, too, have been menaced by "snatch" men and have taken to employing bodyguards. The Los Angeles police have been unable to make any progress thus far, although they did round up twenty suspects, but could uncover no concrete evidence against them.

MARLENE DIETRICH • CARMEL MYERS
RUTH CHATTERTON • ANN HARDING

Under the Dome

D. R. E. H. WIEGAND, and his staff of experts from Oregon State college, spent all day yesterday examining canned goods for the state board of control. Dr. Wiegand is from Oregon State college and his staff of assistants he had present, spent a full day sampling cases of different canned foods.

What a lucky break for samplers. Can after can of fruit, vegetables and other eatables were tested all day long in the basement of the capitol and still the staff did not seem to get enough and at the time of closing these experts and others were still testing food.

But that is just a sample of the thoroughness in which products are tested by the state board of control. In addition to all his duties as secretary of this board, William E. Hinz, does not leave a stone unturned to get the best possible goods for the state institutions—the above would attest to that.

And in addition yesterday the budget for state institutions was presented by Einzig after months of work with legislative heads, and the members of the board of control—all of them—accepted it without question. The budget for the biennium will show a saving under the present one of more than $1,000,000.

The budget now goes to Henry Hanzen, state budget director, who will scan the maximum requirements and no doubt cut a lot off all of them. Even so, these maximum budgets are a great improvement over previous years—thanks to the present administration.

Guy Gordon, district attorney of Douglas county and a great

Good News!

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25 (AP)—A gain of $11,000,000 in bank deposits last week in the seven western states comprising the 12th federal reserve district, was reported today by the San Francisco federal reserve bank. Deposits in demand accounts rose $10,000,000 while there was an increase of $1,000,000 in time deposits.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—(AP)—W. H. Phelps, president of the American Can company, said today indications point to a revival in the food canning industry in 1933. A shortage in many items has been disclosed, he said, with an approach to normal consumption.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—The foreign demand for American made automobiles and trucks increased nine per cent in September over August, the commerce department reported today. Car and truck exports amounted to $2,461,180 during the month.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—(AP)—With one road topping 1931 figures for the second successive week, freight business of western railroads continued on the upgrade last week. Missouri-Kansas-Texas not only surpassed last year's business but showed a gain over the week ending October 15. Freight business of the Wabash increased six per cent. That of the St. Louis-San Francisco line was 1.5 per cent ahead of the previous week.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25—(AP)—Some hundred persons have been added to the payroll of the Lane cotton mills of New Orleans, said today. The force now stands at 1,800 due to a "steady increase in orders from here and abroad," he said.

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

Indianapolis on Hoover Itinerary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—With election day but two weeks off, President Hoover decided today upon a swift political journey to Indianapolis for a speech Friday night before carrying his campaign into New Jersey and New York early this week.

Grand It's Pal Night

It's Pal Night at the Grand Home Owned Theatre. Tonight is Beauty Cream Night.

A $1.00 Jar of Glenn Yronme's Beauty Cream Given Free to Each Lady Attending the Theatre on a Full Paid $5.00 Admission.

First Showing in Salem An All Star Picture with 17 Stars.

THE MIDNIGHT PATROL

REGIS TOOMEY-EDWARD BOOTH MARY HANSEN-SITTY BRIGGS EARLE FOYE

C. C. BURR

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

G. O. P. TICKET WINS SUPPORT

Steigley, Butler, Mott and Angell Endorsed by Governor Meier

(Continued from page 1)

men of other parties offered either no plan at all, or presented schemes of temporary character. The Hoover plan has been put into effect by congress. Because of its magnitude, and because of the ponderous machinery that must be newly built and put into operation, its full force has not yet been reached. But its beneficial effects are noted in business and industry, and in revival of public confidence.

"Mr. Hoover proposes improvements and enlargements of his plan. His opponent offers no strong criticism of the Hoover plan, and no easily understood improvement of it. Largely he offers himself to the people as one better capable of running the machinery than the man who invented it. He drew the specifications, and had it built under his own supervision.

"Governor Roosevelt has travestied the country over... but nowhere at any time has he pointed out a plain road by which he will arrive at his destination.

"There is one exception—he proposes an overhauling of the tariff. Yet he does not indicate wherein the tariff should be changed.

Oregon Industries Require Protection

"Oregon is distinguished for its lumber, its fish, its farm crops, its livestock, its fruit, its dairy products. All are now protected by the tariff.

"Yet ruthlessly low as they (prices) are, other countries with poorer standards of living could invade our domestic markets and undersell our Oregon producers and manufacturers if it were not for the tariff.

"Governor of Oregon, as one who has pride in his native state, and financial interests are tied up with the prosperity of the Oregon livestock grower, the Oregon grain farmer, the Oregon fruit raiser, the Oregon fisherman, the Oregon lumberman, the Oregon butter and cheese producer, the Oregon paper manufacturer, the Oregon sheep grower, the Oregon worker dependent on these industries, I don't want to take chances on Roosevelt's tariff policies."

BUDGET INDICATES EXTENSIVE SAVING

$1,032,000 Reduction Seen In Estimate Furnished By Einzig, Hanzen

Oregon taxpayers will be saved $1,032,000 during the next two years under the budget for state institutions approved by the state board of control yesterday. The estimate was made by William Einzig, state purchasing agent, and Henry Hanzen, budget director, after they considered maximum requests made by institutional heads.

The next move is submission of the complete budget, totaling $2,184,596 for the 11 institutions, to the budget department for preparation for the state legislature. The total appropriations from all sources two years ago was $4,196,188.

Einzig reported that all institutions had complied with Governor Julius L. Meier's request for at least a 10 per cent reduction made when the governor took office a year ago last January. He reports that the institutions will return about $640,000 to the general fund, which would be about 15 per cent saving.

The only major capital outlay requested for the next biennium are the construction of a nurses home and remodeling of the tuberculosis hospital at Salem. The report further states that patients will be well taken care of and provision for minor improvements were made with thought of permanent improvement. Even with this reduced budget, the report states great possibility of returning a saving at the end of the next two years.

The largest decrease will be in the appropriations for the state penitentiary, which includes the flax industry, the budget report shows. The institution request will be reduced from $817,350 to $252,000, or a reduction of $565,350. The penitentiary this year will return to the general fund about $185,500.

The state hospital for insane at Pendleton was reduced $233,444 in requests over two years ago, from $690,244 to $456,800 for the next two years. This institution will return $114,025 to the general fund at the close of the present biennium.

The state hospital at Salem appropriation was reduced from $1,087,393 to $846,483, or $191,910 less. A saving of $148,144 will be returned at the end of the year by the institution.

The state feeble minded institution budget for the next two years will be $255,000 as compared to $478,247 previously. A sum of $120,247 will be returned.

NO NIGHT COURSES, IS BOARD DECISION

(Continued from page 1)

ty school superintendent, because the Salem school district has not employed a trustee officer this year, the directors answered that the various principals and Miss Helen Bristow, secretary to Superintendent George King, were sorry in that capacity.

When the new budget was considered last spring, it was decided to eliminate the $900 position of school census taker and trustee officer as an economy measure. The school principals are handling the census this year.

The directors accepted Principal Wolf's recommendation that Olinger field be closed to the public when not being used by school children or for summer playground. The bridge at the southwest entrance will be torn down and the two gates to the field padlocked.

Wolf declared that no breakable or moveable property with the field open at all hours has been left intact and trespassers crossed the grounds, and boys and girls were to be found in the grandstand "at all hours of the day and night."

Resorting to barter, the board voted to trade a worn-out tractor formerly used at Olinger field for $100 worth of fire wood.

INDIANAPOLIS ON HOOPER ITINERARY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—With election day but two weeks off, President Hoover decided today upon a swift political journey to Indianapolis for a speech Friday night before carrying his campaign into New Jersey and New York early this week.

GRAND IT'S PAL NIGHT

It's Pal Night at the Grand Home Owned Theatre. Tonight is Beauty Cream Night.

A $1.00 Jar of Glenn Yronme's Beauty Cream Given Free to Each Lady Attending the Theatre on a Full Paid $5.00 Admission.

First Showing in Salem An All Star Picture with 17 Stars.

THE MIDNIGHT PATROL

REGIS TOOMEY-EDWARD BOOTH MARY HANSEN-SITTY BRIGGS EARLE FOYE

C. C. BURR

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

The Call Board

By OLIVE M. DOAK

- WARNER BROS. EL SINORE
 - Today — Joan Blondell in "Big City Blues."
 - Friday — Robert Montgomery in "Blondie of the Follies."
- THE GRAND
 - Today — Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in "Love is a Racket."
- HOLLYWOOD
 - Today — Regis Toomey in "The Midnight Patrol."
 - Friday — Tom Mix in "The Texas Bad Man."

BUDGET INDICATES EXTENSIVE SAVING

$1,032,000 Reduction Seen In Estimate Furnished By Einzig, Hanzen

Oregon taxpayers will be saved $1,032,000 during the next two years under the budget for state institutions approved by the state board of control yesterday. The estimate was made by William Einzig, state purchasing agent, and Henry Hanzen, budget director, after they considered maximum requests made by institutional heads.

The next move is submission of the complete budget, totaling $2,184,596 for the 11 institutions, to the budget department for preparation for the state legislature. The total appropriations from all sources two years ago was $4,196,188.

Einzig reported that all institutions had complied with Governor Julius L. Meier's request for at least a 10 per cent reduction made when the governor took office a year ago last January. He reports that the institutions will return about $640,000 to the general fund, which would be about 15 per cent saving.

The only major capital outlay requested for the next biennium are the construction of a nurses home and remodeling of the tuberculosis hospital at Salem. The report further states that patients will be well taken care of and provision for minor improvements were made with thought of permanent improvement. Even with this reduced budget, the report states great possibility of returning a saving at the end of the next two years.

The largest decrease will be in the appropriations for the state penitentiary, which includes the flax industry, the budget report shows. The institution request will be reduced from $817,350 to $252,000, or a reduction of $565,350. The penitentiary this year will return to the general fund about $185,500.

The state hospital for insane at Pendleton was reduced $233,444 in requests over two years ago, from $690,244 to $456,800 for the next two years. This institution will return $114,025 to the general fund at the close of the present biennium.

The state hospital at Salem appropriation was reduced from $1,087,393 to $846,483, or $191,910 less. A saving of $148,144 will be returned at the end of the year by the institution.

The state feeble minded institution budget for the next two years will be $255,000 as compared to $478,247 previously. A sum of $120,247 will be returned.

COURT STRADDLES ON CABINET ISSUE

LEIPSIK, Germany, Oct. 25—(AP)—In an unusual decision handed down today the supreme court upheld the action of the federal government last July in depositing the Prussian cabinet for failure properly to carry out its functions.

But the opinion also stated that this removal may be only temporary, that seizure of the executive power in Prussia by the federal authorities cannot be made permanent, for that would be a violation of state's rights.

This left a confusing situation. The government described the verdict as a complete vindication of its official newspaper reported under a headline, "Von Papen's Defeat," and most of the other newspapers agreed that both sides had fared about equally.

INDUSTRY PLANTS ARE SPEEDING UP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—An increase in industrial activity, factory employment, payroll totals and railroad commodity shipments from August to September was reported today by the federal reserve board in its monthly review of business and financial conditions.

The board said that industrial activity and commodity movement increased by considerably more than the usual seasonal margin while the advance in the volume of factory employment and payrolls also was greater

Protest Dumping Unwashed Apples

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Oct. 25 (AP)—Apple growers of Hood River valley today protested through the traffic association and the agricultural council to State Food Commissioner Michele against the dumping of unwashed apples onto the Portland markets from out of state growers.

Grand It's Pal Night

It's Pal Night at the Grand Home Owned Theatre. Tonight is Beauty Cream Night.

A $1.00 Jar of Glenn Yronme's Beauty Cream Given Free to Each Lady Attending the Theatre on a Full Paid $5.00 Admission.

First Showing in Salem An All Star Picture with 17 Stars.

THE MIDNIGHT PATROL

REGIS TOOMEY-EDWARD BOOTH MARY HANSEN-SITTY BRIGGS EARLE FOYE

C. C. BURR

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

WELLS ACQUITTED, TRESPASS CHARGE

SILVERTON, Oct. 25—(Special)—A verdict of not guilty was passed down by Judge E. L. Brown in the justice court this afternoon in the case of State vs. Horace H. Wells. The case arose out of trouble over the old abandoned right-of-way of the Silver Falls Timber company road in the Bridge creek district. The road went through the Fred Clow place. The right-of-way was being used as a auto road.

Lesler Godon, who is a brother-in-law of Clow and manages the Clow place, had Wells arrested for trespassing two months ago. Lyle Pass, deputy district attorney, of Salem, represented the state while Rex Albright of Silverton acted for the defendant.

Some heated arguments began in the city hall corridor after Judge Brown pronounced his verdict, but these were soon squelched.

FEDERAL BOARD WILL REGULATE

Thomas Request Granted by Power Commission; to Aid State Program of the legislature when he would ask for a law whereby the state utilities commission would have complete control over securities issued by all public utilities. Other legislation also will be asked which will enable the commission to efficiently and satisfactorily operate as a regulatory body, Thomas asserted.

(Continued from page 1)

Has no Jurisdiction Over Other Firms

"At the time the application of the commission was made to the federal power commission," Thomas said, "I requested they take jurisdiction over the three companies involved in the proceeding, but it is clear now that the federal power commission has no jurisdiction over any companies except those which are licenses and based thereon automatically by federal statute are subject to federal control until the state commission is given authority by state law.

"The Pacific Northwest Public Service company, since the formation of the Portland General Electric company and the conveyance and transfer of the physical power properties to the latter has no operating power units. It is now for all practical purposes a holding company and owns no physical property except the interurban lines, the car barns and car shops.

"The Portland Traction company has no power operation. For this reason it is apparent that the federal power commission could not take jurisdiction over either of the two latter companies.

"The only licenses project is the so-called Oak Grove project, which is owned by the Portland General Electric company."

COURT STRADDLES ON CABINET ISSUE

LEIPSIK, Germany, Oct. 25—(AP)—In an unusual decision handed down today the supreme court upheld the action of the federal government last July in depositing the Prussian cabinet for failure properly to carry out its functions.

But the opinion also stated that this removal may be only temporary, that seizure of the executive power in Prussia by the federal authorities cannot be made permanent, for that would be a violation of state's rights.

This left a confusing situation. The government described the verdict as a complete vindication of its official newspaper reported under a headline, "Von Papen's Defeat," and most of the other newspapers agreed that both sides had fared about equally.

INDUSTRY PLANTS ARE SPEEDING UP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(AP)—An increase in industrial activity, factory employment, payroll totals and railroad commodity shipments