New York State Expenses, Debts and Taxes Contrast Poorly With Federal Data

That New York state expenditures, debts and taxes under administration of Governor Roosevelt and his predecessor Governor Smith show a startling and damaging contrast with those of the federal government under Presidents Hoover and Coolidge, is revealed in a study made public by the non-partisan Engineers' National Hoover committee.

In making public the report, which has attracted wide attention in engineering circles, John V. D. Reynolds, nationally known steel maker and bridge builder and chairman of the committee stated that "times of stress bring all of us face to face with facts which every engineer habitually has to face in his work—and that the facts of our management of government must now be faced by the electorate."

$37,162 Due City From Payments On Bonds Nov. 1

Over 500 notices of installment and interest payments coming due November 1 on Bancroft improvement bonds have just been mailed by City Treasurer C. O. Rice. Money due the first of the month from these bonds, which have been to finance sidewalks, street paving and sewers, amount to $37,162.71. Payment this year has been slow.

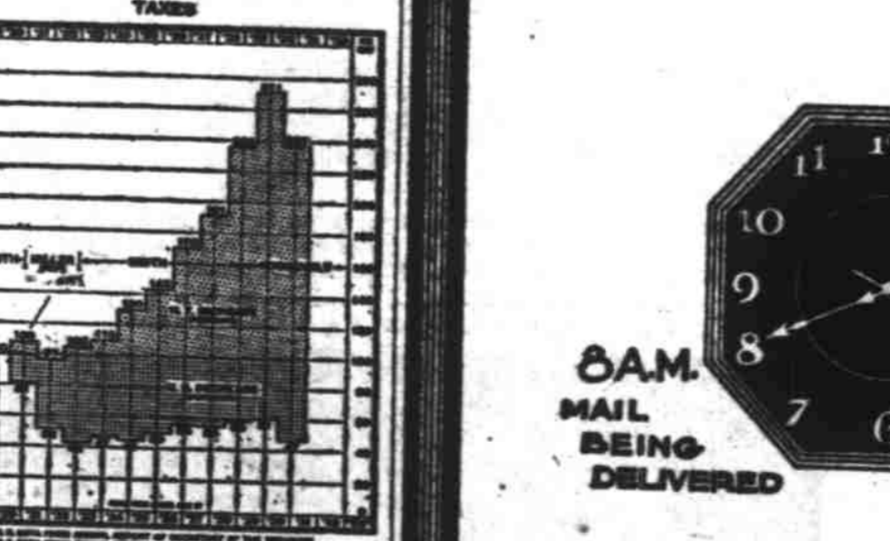

Expenditures in New York State, according to the findings of the report, show a continually upward swing, reaching as high as 325 per cent since 1920, in which the pronounced upward turn of expenditures during the last two years record of the Roosevelt regime "is particularly evident, and this during times of persistent necessity of government economy."

In New York state and federal debts the report discloses similar conditions in which the state debts under the Democratic presidential aspirant reached an increase of 74 per cent as compared with the decreasing trend of debts of the Federal government, of which the Federal housekeeping, conducted on the "pay as you go" basis shows an actual reduction of 31 per cent in national debt since 1920."

The Engineers committee points to taxes as the inevitable result of the "notorious incompetency of the Roosevelt administration. Fancy phrases," said Mr. Reynolds, "can't offer escape from the hard fact that the burden of taxes under which New York suffers reached its peak of 271 per cent of those of 1920 under the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, while Federal tax collections remained nearly

DAN POLING FLIES HERE NOVEMBER 1

Prohibition Leader Speaks At Armory Against State Dry Law's Repeal

Swooping from the air, Dan Poling, prohibition leader and crusader, will land in Salem Tuesday, November 1, to speak at the armory at 8 p. m. The meeting is held jointly under the auspices of the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred and the Christian Federation of Marion county. Such is the announcement of Fred J. Toose, Jr., chairman.

Fulfilling his promise to return again to Oregon to speak for state prohibition, Dan Poling is to talk in the principal cities of Oregon, making all his dates by airplane. "If they succeed in calling a vote on repeal of the Oregon dry law, I will be in the fight personally as a citizen of Oregon," was Dr. Poling's declaration months ago, before the initiative petition had been sufficiently signed to make a vote certain.

Says Many Misled By Propaganda
The Oregon Citizens' Committee of One Hundred, of which J. R. Ellison, Portland, is chairman, sponsors this campaign of education for voters of the state. Dr. Poling believes that there are many sincere people who have been misled by wet propaganda

P.G.E. Reduces Rate to State By 15 Per Cent
The Portland General Electric company yesterday cut its power rates to the state an additional 15 per cent, effective July 1, 1932.

The agreement was signed by representatives of the company yesterday and presented to the state board of control. The annual savings are to be $4000.
With this cut, the annual state expenditure for power will be reduced from $26,000 two years ago to about $22,000. William Elzig, secretary of the board of control, told the board. More than a year ago Elzig effected a saving of about $10,000 under a master meter system, and with the present 15 per cent cut the reduction has been brought down to the new figure.
Lex Bullock, a sophomore candidate for center at Illinois, is a son of "Matt" Bullock, for 17 years trainer of Illinois athletes.
