REMODELING DONE AT GRAND THEATRE

Walls Modernized; Picture Starting Today "Wild Girl", Fox Film

Extensive remodeling of the interior of the Grand theatre has either been completed or soon will be, making that playhouse one of the best equipped in the city. Renovation made in the last few weeks includes taking out of the old wainscoting along the walls and the substitution of modern, fine appearing wall effects. Saturday night the entire lower floor will be re-seated with comfortable box-spring seats. A new carpet has been placed throughout the lobby of the theatre.

"Wild Girl" with Charles Farrell, Joan Bennett and Ralph Bellamy in the stellar roles comes to the Grand for four days starting Sunday. This is the first of the new Fox pictures which will be shown at the Grand. In the city of Salem, Manager O. E. Schmidt having recently closed a deal for the entire group of Fox attractions to be played first run in Salem. "Wild Girl" is a dramatization of Bret Harte's famous story, "Salomy Jane's Kiss." Other notable supporting the three leading stars include Minna Gombell, Eugene Pallette, Irving Pichel, Sarah Padden and Louise Beavers.

A few of the pictures which will be brought to the Grand screen in the near future include "Down to Earth" with Will Rogers, Irene Rich and Dorothy Jordan; "Rackety Rax" with Victor McLaglen, Greta Nissen and Arthur Pierson; Zane Grey's "The Golden West," with George O'Brien; "Chandu," with Edmund Lowe, Bela Lugosi and H. B. Walthal; "Sherlock Holmes" with Clive Brook, Miriam Jordan and Ernest Torrence; "Tess of the Storm Country," with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell; "Six Hours to Live," with Warner Baxter, Miriam Jordan and John Boles; "Hat Check Girl," with Sally Eilers, Ben Lyon and Ginger Rogers; "Call Her Savage," Clara Bow's returning vehicle; "Walking Down Broadway" with James Dunn and Boots Mallory; and "Too Busy to Work," with Will Rogers and Marian Nixon.

'WILD GIRL' COMES TO GRAND THEATRE

Presenting such popular favorites as Charles Farrell, Joan Bennett, Ralph Bellamy, Eugene Pallette and Irving Pichel in a vivid and colorful story of pioneer days in a California mining camp, "Wild Girl" offers many pleasing surprises to the Grand film followers.

Judging from the reaction of the audiences at its opening recently, this Fox Films production will take its place among the really outstanding pictures of the season. Both Farrell and Miss Bennett give portrayals of a brand new type. He portrays the character of a grim-faced sergeant, late from the Civil War, seeking the betrayer of his sister. Miss Bennett, abandons the society roles with which she has been identified to burst forth as a hoydenish madcap mountain girl. And both achieve new dramatic heights with their brilliant performances.

Bellamy as a big-hearted gambler, Pallette as a swaggering stagecoach driver and Pichel as a disappointed rival, all provide grand support. In bringing the original Bret Harte characters to life, Under Raoul Walsh's deft direction, Harte's "Salomy Jane's Kiss" is re-created magnificently. The scenes, most of them filmed high in the California Sierras among the stately big trees of Sequoia National Park, are superbly staged and photographed.

ARLISS TO APPEAR IN LATEST PICTURE

"Successful Calamity" Will Open at Elsinore Today; Play has Message

A new George Arliss picture is always an event of importance to the motion picture public and "A Successful Calamity," his latest Warner Bros. triumph, opening today at the Elsinore promises to excel all of its excellent predecessors in popularity.

The story deals with an American family of great wealth; a great financier, his young and lovely wife and his two grown children; all of whom find themselves so busy with the pleasures and duties imposed upon them by their money and position that no time is left for the enjoyment of real family life.

In an attempt to remedy this unhappy situation the father announces suddenly that he is retiring. Amazing and far reaching complications result immediately. The delightful comedy unfolds against the most luxurious settings ever devised for a picture of this type. It is presented with a cast so excellent that every bit part is played by an actor or actress of considerable note.

"A Successful Calamity" is adapted from a highly successful stage play of some seasons back, written by Clare Kummer. John Adolff, who directed George Arliss in "The Millionaire," "Alexander Hamilton" and "The Man Who Played God," is credited with the direction of this new Arliss picture.

Although the entire program is dominated by the character portrayed by Arliss, the supporting cast is even more noteworthy than previous ones seen in Arliss pictures.

Mary Astor, one of the loveliest and most capable of the screen's leading women, plays the part of the young and susceptible wife of the financier. Evelyn Knapp, who played with Arliss in "The Millionaire," is seen again as his daughter in this picture. William Janney, promising youthful screen and stage actor, is the son. Grant Mitchell, himself the featured player in many lesser productions, has the important role of the Will-ton butler. David Torrence, Hardie Albright, Hale Hamilton, Fortunio Bonanova, Randolph Scott and Murray Kinnell are featured players.

'KLONDIKE' COMING TODAY, HOLLYWOOD

Thrills, action and gripping suspense furnish the screen fare for the Hollywood theatre patrons today with the opening of "Klondike," the sensational Monogram melodrama of trans-oceanic flyers and the Alaskan wilderness. Lyle Talbot, the star, presents an excellent performance in the role of the brilliant young surgeon who is wounded from his native city by public opinion and joins a friend on an almost suicidal trans-Pacific flight resulting in the spectacular crash which provides the motivation for the gripping Alaskan sequences.

Supporting Talbot are such brilliant performers as Thelma Todd, Henry B. Walthal, Tully Marshall, Jason Roberts, Ethel Wales, Pat O'Malley, Priscilla Dean, Myrtle Stedman, George Hayes and Lyle McKee.

Another distinctive feature of the Yukon picture is the premiere screen presentation of Capt. Frank Hawks, world famous speed flyer, who gives a splendid performance in his first historic role as the flying pal of the young doctor.
