SENATOR HOTEL'S LEASE CANCELLED

Now in Hands of Hawkins And Roberts; Chadwick Seeking Lease

Cancellation of the existing lease on the Senator hotel here and taking over of the management from the Stage Terminal Hotel company, holders of the lease, was announced Wednesday. Hawkins & Roberts, lessees, took up the lease. It was understood last night that negotiations were on between Hawkins & Roberts and W. W. Chadwick, president of the Terminal Hotel company, for a personal lease to him of the hotel. Chadwick yesterday continued to operate the property. The Stage Terminal hotel company continues its leases on hotels at Eugene and Medford. The Senator hotel stands on leased ground belonging to F. N. Derby. Bonds against the property were issued to the public by Hawkins & Roberts who leased the hotel from Derby and released the building to the hotel company. Interest on bonds against the property is being paid promptly but a negotiation has been carried on for some time to secure the extension of the principal payments on the bonds.

HALF OF STUDENTS HAVE DIET DEFECTS

Corrections observed since the previous examination included: Teeth 93, tonsils 96, eyes 31 and vaccination 132.

Minor Accident Involving Salem Car is Reported

DALLAS, Nov. 2—A minor accident was reported 10 miles west of here today on the Wallace bridge road between cars driven by Mrs. Maude Logan of route 1, Salem and Albert R. Oakes of Salem. After going around a curve in the road Mrs. Logan's car skidded sideways and struck the other car as it came from the other direction. A wheel torn off the Logan car was the extent of the damage. Riding with Mrs. Logan was Mrs. Olive Goodrich, and with Oakes were Ray Lamb, A. F. Lamb, Clara Lamb and Marion Sprague. Deputy Sheriff Floyd Center investigated the accident but no action was taken.

L. G. LEWELLING For Circuit Judge

We commend the candidacy of L. G. Lewelling for the office of Circuit Judge for Linn and Marion Counties. Mr. Lewelling has had twenty-one years' experience as a trial lawyer and is thoroughly familiar with civil, criminal and equity procedure, and well-grounded in the principles of law. He was for three terms elected District Attorney of Linn County, Oregon, each time receiving the nomination of both Republican and Democratic parties. He was appointed to the Circuit bench by Governor Meier to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Hill. Ever since Linn and Marion Counties have comprised a third judicial district, one of the judges has resided in Linn County and the other in Marion County. This arrangement is a convenience to litigants and is economy to the taxpayers. Marion County now has one judge, and Linn County's candidate, in the person of Mr. Lewelling, should be supported by every Marion County voter who believes in fair play. Mr. Lewelling has the endorsement of the Republican Central Committee of Linn and Marion Counties, and the Democratic Central Committees of the same counties.

Majority of Credit Men Vote Hoover

Almost a two-to-one lead for Hoover was voted by the Salem Retail Credit association in a straw ballot taken at the regular meeting yesterday noon. The association gave Hoover 72 ballots and Roosevelt 12.

Brief speeches by George Rhoden, telling why the present administration should be continued, and by August Huckestein, talking on why a change is needed, featured the Wednesday session. "Primary difference in the two parties' attitudes on the tariff is that embodied in the difference between nationalism and sectionalism," Rhoden stated, indicating the democrats in favor of tariff protecting sections, as the tariff on sugar for southern democrats. Republicans insist the tariff be used for protection of all industry, regardless of section, he said. Huckestein told of outstanding accomplishments of the Wilson administration during the first two years, and avowed "the republicans in all their 12 years since 1920 cannot point to a single thing comparable to the early Wilsonian record." He said the democrats want a non-partisan tariff commission and a competitive tariff is being paid promptly but a negotiation has been carried on for some time to secure the extension of the principal payments on the bonds.

MINING CONGRESS MEETS AT ALBANY

November 10 Date; Display And Addresses Planned On Big Program

The next meeting of the Western Oregon Mining congress will be held in Albany on Thursday, November 10, according to George Jennings, Eugene, president. Arrangements for the meeting have been made by A. A. Garrett, Albany, vice president for Linn county and C. A. Ritchie and P. K. Colpitts, Albany, directors of the congress. Features of the meeting will be a comprehensive display of ores from the mines of Linn county; a stamp mill operated by city water which will crush ore and a gold panning demonstration on the main street of Albany in which local people will be offered an opportunity to try their luck. Letters coming to officers of the congress indicate that representatives of mining companies, mining machinery firms, engineers, state officials and many individuals interested in mining development will attend. Previous meetings of the congress have attracted an average attendance of over 300. Meeting at 7:30 p. m. The program outlined lists the principal meeting for 7:30 p. m.

Speakers from the geology and mining departments of the University of Oregon and Oregon State college, state engineer's office, leading mining companies and other organizations have been invited to appear on the program. Proposed legislative matters dealing with mining development will be considered. The congress is interested in developing the mineral resources of Marion, Linn, Lane and Douglas counties. It has no dues and its main function is to gather reliable information on mineral resources and assist in its dissemination.

Elks Will Hear Lively Program, Session Tonight

A lively program consisting of a one-hour show made up of a group of entertainers from Portland has been arranged for the local Elks lodge tonight. The entertainment committee has been working hard on this show and advises everyone to be on hand. The program will consist of tap dancing, song and whistling. Elks members, music by accordion and other musical instruments, adagio dancing, acrobatics and dancing. Members are also urged to attend the election-night party next Tuesday at the Elks temple. Members and friends are invited. Election returns will be the main attraction, with wrestling, singing and numbers by the champion American Legion drum corps making up the remainder of the program.

MACY PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE

Bert Macy, against whom assault and battery charge was filed in Woodburn court last week by Fred A. Hunt of Salem, pleaded not guilty before Judge Hiram Overton of Woodburn yesterday, but no date for hearing was set. Some question over Macy's bond was raised by Overton, according to word here. Macy, arrested October 23, immediately put up bond in the sum of $25, this being acknowledged in justice court here by Judge Hayden. Now Overton has sent word to Judge Hayden here that he wants date of November 2 instead of October 23 on the paper acknowledging the bond. And Hayden is wondering just why.

Altercation in which Macy was involved was provoked by Hunt, Macy says, and came up when Macy offered a $25 check for payment of meals at a republican gathering at Hunt's cafe. Hunt claims he was told 100 men would come for the dinner, and claimed $40 due on the meals. Then the fight started.

Goldstein Starts Pierce Co. Probe

Barnett H. Goldstein, special prosecutor named by Corporation Commissioner Mott to probe the affairs of A. E. Pierce & Co., will start to work at once, it was announced here yesterday. Goldstein will submit his findings to Multnomah county grand jury for their consideration. The concern is under fire for the methods followed in floating a large issue of Central Public Service stock in this state in 1930 and 1931.
