CHICAGO, Nov. 4-(AP)-Brisk right-about-face action lifted wheat more than 2 cents a bushel today from the commodity's record low point, 41%

Of Past Week

Plain signs that for at least the time being the wheat market was in a decidedly oversold condition led to more general buying today than has been witnessed since the latest extraordinary down swings of grain values began a week ago. Helping to hoist wheat prices were upturns in securities and cotton, together with indications that Canadian government-sponsored support of the Winnipeg market had been renewed, and that overseas purchases of Canadian wheat were on a gigantic scale, 3,000,-000 bushels yesterday instead of between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 as heretofore announced. Although reacting somewhat from top levels and showing late symptoms of fresh unsettlement, wheat closed relatively firm at substantial net gains, 114-114 higher than yesterday's finish, corn %-1 up, oats 14-% advaned. Today's closing quotations:

Serious, Portland; Butter is Steady PORTLAND, Nov. 4-(AP)-

Conditions within the butter market continue more or less of steady character. There was no change in the price on the open market for either prints or cubes during the day.

Continued strength was displayed for the underscores and up to 91 score but anything above that was hard to move except at lower-score values.

Make of butter was reflecting increase in the Portland plants but some falling off was noted from out-state points, due to the tions depending upon quality. unwillingness of buyers to pay ex- Even at the higher values, asking treme prices. There appears to be prices by growers in that area treme prices. There appears to be plenty of butter of all sorts for all requirements of the trade. Butterfat buying prices continus strong and generally around the high point. Trade in the egg market appears a trifle dull but without general price change. There is an undercurrent of easiness in the east and especially so for storage goods.

Market for live chickens continues to reflect steadiness here. There was no change in the price or demand for hens which are moving out well. Spring stuff remains sluggish and generally around the low mark.

Carryover of country killed calves continues quite serious here as a result of the liberal arrivals and curtailment of demand. While there was no further price change for the day, the movement

There remains quite a good outward movement of country killed hogs. Prices are steady and have not yet reflected the late slashing period ranged from 16-16% cents, of livestock values. Lambs are steady.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER S EGW-Portland-620 Es. California's

High 16 Cents

Like the Oregon hop market,

Washington reports a new high price for the season the past week, with the top offer there a quarter cent above the Oregon top. Washington buyers offered 17 cents a pound for 113 bales bought in the Yakima valley. This lot was ima included 236 bales at 161/2 cents, 39 bales at 16 % cents, and 129 bales at 16 cents per pound, net to growers, with price variagenerally continue above dealers bid prices. No sales were reported made in the Puyallup valley in

At New York, hops business has picked up somewhat this week.

The increased firmness at primary points has strengthened the views of operators there, and some disposition to ask an advance of one cent, was reported. On November 3, Pacific coast 1932 crop choice hops, were quoted to the trade at that market at 22 cents per pound; fair to primes 19-21; 1931 crop at 16-19 cents and older growths at 9-15 cents per pound.

The highest price paid for California hops this season occurred late in the week, when 253 bales of Sacramento hops netted producers 16 1/4 cents, As a rule, Sacramento hops sell at prices somewhat under those in other districts, but have averaged relatively high this season because of ex-future outlook for northwestern prunes. Further defiation of the English pound has rendered orders from that source still more difficult to obtain, and will undoubtedly affect the market unfavorably, at least for the time The functioning of the California pool has caused many of the northwestern operators to feel encouraged and the general feeling is at least as steady as is was at this time last week. Cleaning up of supplies in the east, particularly in New York City, has lent strength to the # general tone of the market.
