Study Series Open Without Charge to Silverton Students, Adults

SILVERTON, Nov. 12 - The Smith-Hughes agricultural department of the Silverton high school is offering a series of ten night classes in which the principles of animal breeding will be studied. Some work will also be done on the principles of plant breeding. Classes begin November 16 at 8

This work is offered to boys out of school, to former graduates of the department and to adults of the community who are breeding animals and are desiring fuller knowledge of livestock improvement starting with elementary biological principles of animal life and carrying the study step by step to the practical problems, Subjects taken up will include biological foundation, reproduction, heredity, mendelism, prepotency, variation, inbreeding, crossbreeding, grading up, selection, line breeding, fertility, sterility and abortion,

The course is entirely free, being a community service offered through cooperation of the local agricultural department, the Silverton public schools and the state and federal boards for vocational education. The meeting will be held at the rear of the high school building.

Boys from the Smith-Hughes department have purchased livestock for their project work. Harry Way secured a purebred Duroc Jersey pig from Tom Miller; Elmer Thompson purchased a hog fom Miller, both hogs being from the A. N. Doerfler stock. Grover Leitchy and Carl Frink have each secured a Poland China pig from the M. G. Gunderson stock farm.

LABISH CENTER, Nov. 14 -The Hazel Green and Labish Center C. E. societies held a joint meeting Sunday night at the local schoolhouse, with an attendance of over 50. Discussion in the young people's group centered around the good and evil in newspapers, the meeting being in charge of Harry Boehm, Florance Pugh had charge of the topic for the high school group, which, in Bert connection with Armistice day, considered world peace and war.

The budget committee of the local society will meet Friday night at the home of the chairman, Valmer Klampe. The nominating committee will meet next Sunday night.

Lighting facilities at the Labish school have been augmented the past week through efforts of the community club. A flood light for the grounds has been installed and wattage in the main room has been materially increased.

Mr. Miller who is employed at the W. R. Daugherty place, has been very ill with measles. His daughter Helen has also been very sick with the same disease. Ernest Garbarino and Edward McClaughry, students at the University of Oregon, spent the week-end at home. Miss Constance Weinman, instructor at the Sutherlin high school, also visited her parents this weekend.

Farm Doin's Run Variety

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 — Friday night B. J. J. Miller noticed that his young colt didn't come up to the barn for her regular feeding so he went to hunt for her. After a long search he found her at the bottom of a 10 foot well, with a broken neck. The well was an old one not being used for many years. The young mare was three years old, weighing around 1200 or 1300 pounds.

NEW FRENCH LINER LARGEST VESSEL AFLOAT

With beads of the finest champagne of France trickling down her gigantic steel bow, where Mme. Paul Lebrun, the First Lady of the Republic, had cracked a bottle of sunshine, the new pride of the French mercantile marine, "Normandie," slid down the ways at the historic Penhoet shipyard, in St. Nazaire, to bring to France the honor of owning the largest vessel in the world—not only that, but the largest craft ever built. It is interesting to compare the size of the new mercantile marvel with that of the Majestic and Leviathan. The Normandie, besides being 105 feet longer than the Majestic, has a gress tonnage of 73,000 as compared to the latter's 56,621, while the French vessel out-reaches the Leviathan by 113 feet. Owing to the recent change in the tonnage of the American liner, she falls far short of the records for comparison. The land-lubber may gain a good idea of the size of the new ship's 1,020-foot length when it is pointed out that the vessel would stretch for about four city blocks, and if placed on end would reach to a respectable distance of the top of the Empire State Building in New York, which measures 1,248 feet from base to crown. The Nermandie will go into commission early in the Spring of 1934 on the Havre-New York run. Although her speed is still a matter of conjecture, engineers predict that she will lower present records, the trip to New York taking less than five days.
