CHAMBER INVITED TO WHITMAN GAME

Willamette Students Talk At Luncheon; Erickson, Keene Introduced

Salem's chamber of commerce members were invited to help Willamette university massacre Whitman next Saturday in a varied program given at the noon-time luncheon Monday. Presiding at the program put on by Willamette students was Walter Erickson, student body president and star backfield man on the team. Roy S. Keene, coach, characterized Erickson as the best athlete Willamette had had in seven years and an excellent student.

W. L. Phillips, strong supporter of Willamette, introduced Erickson. The latter said the football team was determined to wipe out the memory of the Pacific defeat Saturday by a Whitman win. Erickson, Keith Jones, Fred Paul and other stalwarts on the local team will be playing their last game Saturday.

Keene said Pacific university got the jump on his Bearcats and outplayed them. "The team needs no hopping up for the Whitman game," he added. "It's determined to win."

Keene expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of Salem business men in providing work for Willamette students and in supporting the teams by attending the games.

Many Games Won — Midge Hewitt, student body vice president and song queen, added her invitation to the Saturday game. The "pop-eye" men's quartet sang three well-received numbers and the Willamette university ten-piece orchestra played as the luncheon began.

Phillips, in introducing Keene, summarized the latter's record for the seven years he was here. In conference games Keene's teams have won 103 out of 124 games. In football his teams have won 21, lost nine games; in basketball they have won 49 games out of 60 and in baseball they have won 33 out of 36.

STATE SENATOR - ELECT JOHN D. GOSS, from Coos county, was a visitor at the capitol yesterday and will be there today to appear before the state tax commission representing a Coos county firm. Goss went to San Francisco after he voted last Tuesday and did not know until his arrival here that he had been elected.

Goss will succeed J. E. Norton, former representative, who expired for the senate. But Norton was swept out with other republicans in the recent gale. Regarding his vote for president of the senate, Goss said so far he was undecided. He intended conferring with other democrats before pledging his support.

It appears there is a movement on foot to stop Fred E. Kiddle from attaining Willard L. Mark's chair in the upper house. Kiddle claims all but eight of the senate votes, but a Portland story yesterday stated 12 votes so far were pledged. Even with the "Stop Kiddle" movement the eastern Oregon senator still retains the edge.

A letter from E. W. Snell yesterday stated he had pledged 46 of the house's 60 members to his election as speaker. Snell would make an excellent speaker to succeed Frank J. Lonergan. Snell stated the many new members to the house did not affect his promise of election as many of these were already pledged.

The state board of control late yesterday, without a dissenting vote, eliminated the position of supervisor of transportation which automatically puts W. W. Ridehaugh out of a job one week hence. The elimination of this job, created by the state treasurer, will save $6000 in the board of control budget.

Ridehaugh, Governor Meier said, had done a good piece of work and has saved the state in traveling expenses more than $100,000, but he believed his usefulness has been served. The Ridehaugh question has been before the board several weeks, but was ended at a private conference here last night.

And still the matter of prohibition is one of the paramount issues before the people. Much future action by state officials hinges upon the pending opinion by Attorney-General I. H. Van Winkle. The governor has requested the opinion, and upon it will depend the enforcement policies.

BONDS EXTENSION PLAN PROGRESSES

Payment this month of $29,900 interest by the Oregon Pulp & Paper company on its $350,000 outstanding first mortgage bonds was interpreted locally yesterday as indicative of successful progress on the extension of the bonds proposed by the company two months ago.

The local concern has asked all bondholders to set ahead the principal payment date on their bonds for four years from May 1, 1933. The bonds, all serial, were all to be retired in the next decade under the original indenture.

Under the new plan, to which 76% of the bondholders must subscribe, interest will be increased to 6 1/2 per cent a year, payable semi-annually, and $90,000 a year in principal payments will be consumed May 1, 1937. Meanwhile the company covenants to pay no preferred dividends until $380,000 in bonds have been taken up.

A check of bonds held locally showed yesterday that all but one bondholder in $70,000 represented here, had agreed to the new plan.

The mill is now running three shifts daily on all machines.

FEW STUDENTS NOT ABLE TO PAY FEES

Only six Willamette university students have thus far been unable to pay their first semester's tuition fees of $77. N. S. Savage, university business manager, said yesterday. At the final date for non-delinquent payment, November 5, 25 students were dropped from classes because of non-payment but since that time 19 have made up the fees, Savage said. Students are dropped under a trustees' order made two years ago, limiting the time students may have to make up their tuition payments. Savage said he thought the showing this year remarkable in view of conditions. Notes or post-dated checks are not accepted as payments.

Mr. Savage said a few more students had enrolled at the university yesterday. At the final date for non-delinquent payment, November 5, 25 students were dropped from classes because of non-payment but since that time 19 have made up the fees, Savage said.

Night Classes in Machine Work to Be Offered Again

With the cooperation of the state and federal vocational department and the Salem high school it has been possible to organize two night classes in machine shop work at the school, under the leadership of C. A. Guderian, shop instructor. T. T. Mackenzie, vocational director, stated yesterday. The classes have been organized with the purpose of aiding those who are not able to take the regular high school work.

FORECLOSURE FILED AGAINST GOLF CLUB

The State Savings and Loan company yesterday filed suit to foreclose its mortgage against the Illahee Golf club, local corporation which owns and operates an 18-hole course on the Independence Ferry road.

The complaint recites that the loan was made April 18, 1930, and that the club agreed to pay $105 monthly for 15 months. Principal of $994 has been paid and interest has been paid to June 15, 1932, the plaintiff declares.

Taxes for 1930 and one-half of 1931 are said to be unpaid. Principal of $9900, interest, fees and costs are sought by plaintiff in the suit.

LATOURETTE HEARS DUNNE'S ROAD SUIT

Hearing of Joe Dunne's suit against the state highway commission will be before Judge Earl Latourette of Oregon City, it was announced yesterday. Latourette is expected here Thursday to have a demurrer filed by the defendant argued before him.

Attorney Devers of the highway department said yesterday that similar suits to that filed by Dunne had been quashed on numerous former instances. He tried to hold up further work on the Wolf creek road until the 1933 legislature meets.

Dunne filed an affidavit of prejudice against Judge L. G. Lowelling and the defense is said by county clerk deputies to have a full docket for the week.

Judge Lowelling, here yesterday for the case of the Union Central Life Insurance company against Adolph Studnika, said he would not hear any more cases after his present docket was cleared up until he had handed down decisions in all pending cases argued before him.

Judge L. H. McMahan will open his court here today with the case of Maude Lantim, administratrix of the estate of the late Lewis C. McCoy, against Edna McMillaney. The suit is for the collection of a promissory note.

THE BATTLE OF HASTINGS-1066 A. D.
"Nature in the Raw" — as portrayed by J. Scott Williams... inspired by the surging fury of the Norman hordes under William the Conqueror, in their merciless onslaught against the English in the Battle of Hastings, October 14, 1066. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild" — and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

Lucky Strike CIGARETTES
"IT'S TOASTED"

No raw tobaccos in Luckies — that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world — but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild" — so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words — "It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
