SACRED CO

Program Offered December 2 by Symphony

The first program to be given by the Salem Philharmonic orchestra association will be given December 2 under the direction of Jacques Gershkovitch, conductor. The program is eagerly awaited by the Salem public, and from the work observed during practice this week the indications are that there will be no opportunity for a disappointed public-unless it be that part of the public which does not hear the concert.

The personnel of the orchestra includes:

First violins, Mary Schultz, Dalbert Jepsen, Irene Morley, Jeanette Scott, Margaret Savage, Marjorie Wunder, Helen Purvine, Cleo Seeley, Gertrude Taylor, Jeanette Smith, Vina Coffell and Alex Melovidoff.

Second violin, Charles Nadvornik, Glenn Taylor, Dorothy Palmer. Georgia Harrington, Ralph Branch, Hume Downs, Marian Chase, Wallace Beckett, Maybelle Lilburn, Alice Chandler, Kenneth Hunt, L. B. Schmidt, Ruthyn Thomas and Fay Irwin Mertz. Viola, Mary Talmadge Head-

Aurora - An afternoon with Miss Peggy Perkins in Spain ataffair. tracted a large number to the home of Mrs. J. W. Sadler Wednesday, when Mrs. U. Eiler and Mrs. Sadler entertained the Aurora Woman's club. Miss Perkins, a writer from Portland, was introduced as the girl who bicycled over Europe, and told in her delightfully refreshing manner the most thrilling incidents in her travels in France and Spain, and the friendly liking for Americans by the Spanish people as compared to the indifference of the French who think of Americans only in terms of profit.

Mrs. Diana Snyder, wearing a gorgeous Spanish shawl, read two poems translated from the Spanish. Mrs. Dick Hughs of Beaver Creek, a former club member, gave two contralto solos, she was accompanied by Mrs. Frank Mil-
