SCHOOL TAXATION IS WILLS' SUBJECT

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Nov. 26.—A crowded house heard the talk by county school superintendent Josiah Wills Friday night at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association. His subject was schools and school finances. He explained the annual county levy which is the base of the year's work, the elementary school fund, special tax, high school tuition law and gave the arguments both for and against the proposed unit system which it is expected will be considered at the next legislative session.

A committee composed of Mrs. M. A. Schneller, Mrs. R. A. Tansy and Mrs. Ray Binegar was instructed to purchase new stage curtains before the next meeting. The teachers, Miss Georgiana and Miss Eleanor Briggs will be in charge of the program, Friday, Dec. 23, when pupils of the school will give the annual Christmas entertainment. Mrs. Walter Bush, Mrs. J. P. Smart and Mrs. J. B. Smith compose the refreshment committee.

An excellent program was given beginning with a group of musical numbers by the members of the Orchard Heights Entertainment with Mrs. Bob Adams at the piano. Mrs. Leon Brown gave a number of delightfully humorous readings, Roy H. Pease a group of banjo numbers and J. B. Best novelty numbers on the accordion and banjo.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Ryan of Tacoma were house guests during the Thanksgiving holidays of Mrs. Ryan's grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Edgar. Additional guests for Thanksgiving dinner were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith of Kingwood.

Schools Combine To Give Program On Thanksgiving

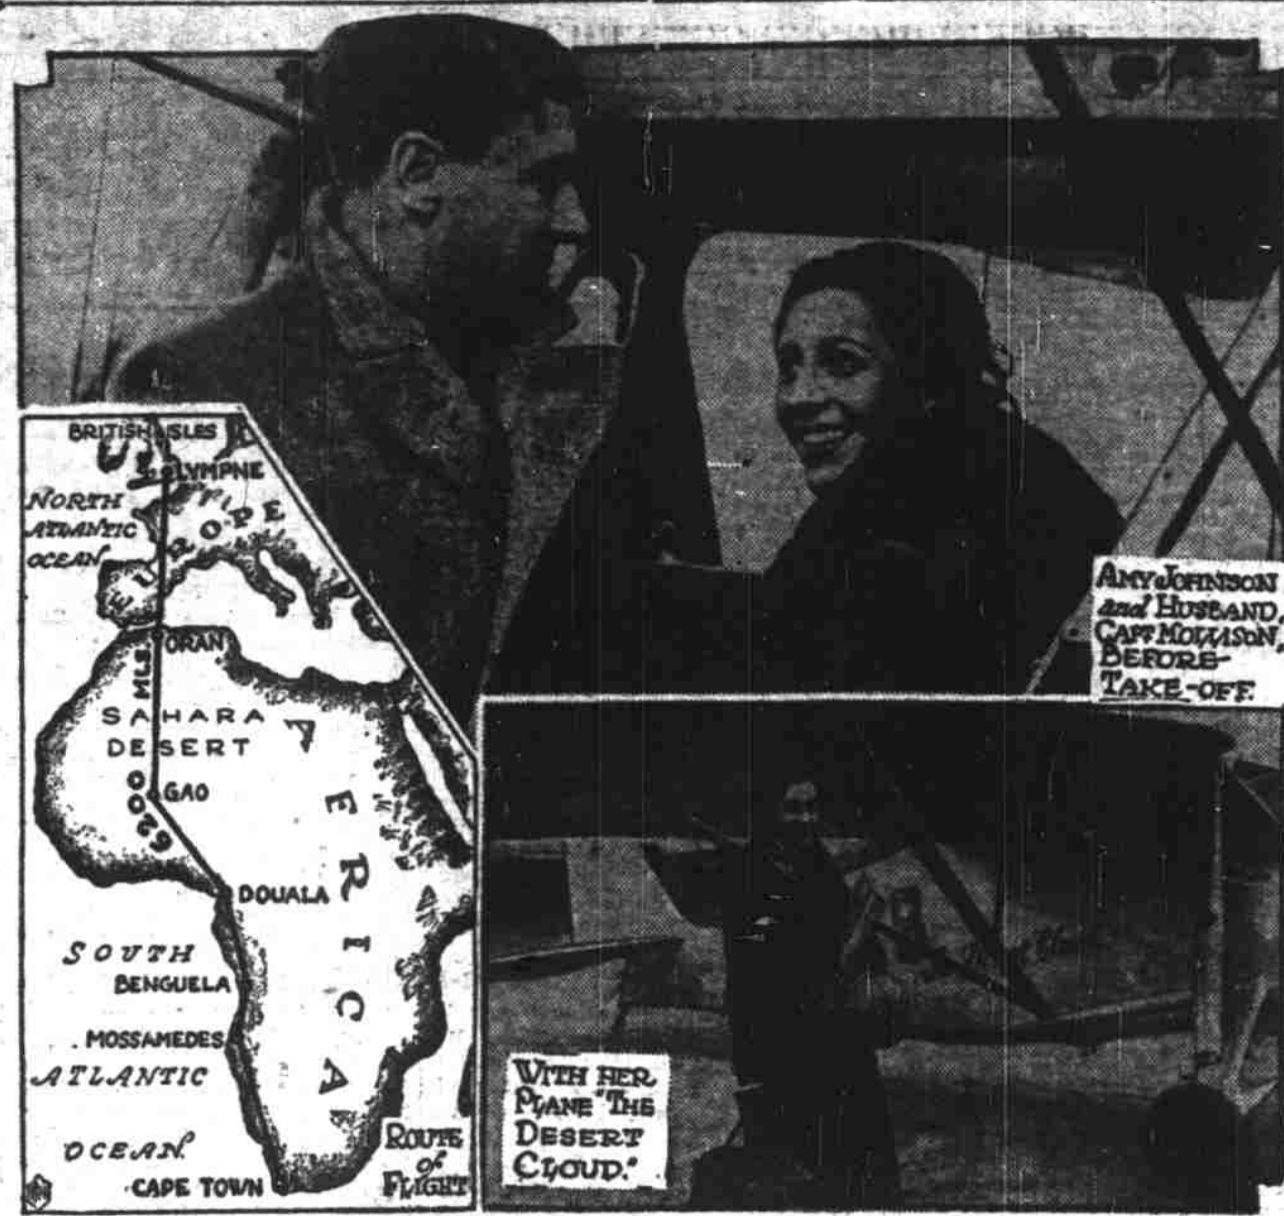

WOODBURN, Nov. 25.—Pupils at the Lincoln and Washington schools here combined Wednesday in giving a Thanksgiving program at the Lincoln school.

The first and second grade gave a song and drill. The third grade offering was a recitation by Jack Rae, assisted by the best of the class. All of the fourth graders took part in a corn drill and a short play. The fifth grade gave an Indian play, dealing with the experiences of the Pilgrims. Frank and Jim Sotish gave musical numbers on harmonicas. They represented the sixth grade. The seventh and eighth grades combined in giving instrumental music and a short play.

MOLLISONS KEEP AIR RECORDS IN FAMILY

Though the record of Captain James A. Mollison for his London to Cape Town flight has been broken, it is hardly likely that he will feel the loss very keenly, for the record still remains in the family, his daring wife, Amy Johnson, having set the new one. Capt. Mollison, who is the only man who has ever flown eastward across the Atlantic alone, took 4 days 17 hours for the flight from England to South Africa, but his "better half" did it in 4 days 6 hours and 50 minutes, lopping over 10 hours from hubby's mark. Friends of the Mollisons believe that Amy was actuated in making the flight by a spirit of "getting her own back" on Captain James for his refusal to allow her to accompany him on his trans-Atlantic flight. But whatever the reason, Captain Mollison feels no chagrin on being beaten by his wife, his cable to Amy on her arrival at Cape Town being sufficient evidence of his enthusiasm. "Well done, Amy. It is truly a glorious feat," it read, and the world concurs. The two most dangerous hops of Miss Johnson's great flight were those from Oran, Algeria, 1,350 miles across the Sahara Desert to Gao, French West Africa, and the 1,050-mile flight from Gao to Douala, French Cameroons. The latter hop was made over impenetrable jungle for most of the way, in which a flier, if forced down, would probably never be found. The most remarkable feature of the flight was the enormous stamina displayed by Miss Johnson. With only short rests between hops, she was comparatively fresh when she brought the wheels of her plane "The Desert Cloud," to rest at Cape Town.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Nov. 26.—Mrs. J. J. Schrag, whose home is Detroit, Mich., and Miss Regier, of Mountain Lake, Minn., both missionaries to northern China, who have been in the states for some time on furlough, and are now en route to resume their work in the mission fields, were guests Friday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Smith. The Smiths met the women 11 years ago in China and again six years ago, and Miss Regier is from the same home town in the east that Rev. Smith came from. The two women expect to sail on the Empress of Asia from Vancouver, B. C., December 3.

Mayor and Mrs. Guy C. Newgent were hosts Thanksgiving day to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wood of Salem, an aunt of Mrs. Newgent and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McIntire of Sunnydale, a brother of Mrs. Newgent, and the Newgent family at an attractive late family dinner party with the color scheme of lavender and gold carried out in floral accessories and in the slender tapers used in the rooms.

A lovely family reunion was enjoyed by the John Friesen family, at the A. G. Schroeder home at Hayesville, where 47 relatives gathered to spend Thanksgiving day. The families attending were the A. F. Friesen family, the G. K. Friesen family and the F. S. Friesen family, all from Dallas, the D. R. Doerksen and Henry Doerksen families both from Salem and the Dan K. Friesen family of Salem and Harry Bier and from West Salem the Ben Doerksen and John Friesen families.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buffin, who have been living at Coquille for some time have moved back to their home on Ruge street, just off Rosemont. Mr. Buffin, who has been a cheesemaker at Coquille for some time, cut his hand quite badly and is incapacitated for cheesemaking, so he moved home for the present. They plan to build here this spring.

Auxiliary is Planned Monday night the women who are eligible to membership to the auxiliary to the American Legion for the proposed Kingwood Post for West Salem are requested to meet at the city hall for the purpose of organization. Mrs. E. L. Harold of Eola is chairman.

Darrel T. Bradford, who owns and operates a shoe repairing shop on Edgewater street, has installed a lathe and saw in his spare time and began to fashion clever toys and wooden novelties and has now on display an attractive assortment of substantial toys, erokinoe boards, doll houses, kiddie cars, trucks, and statuary. So complete and desirable are the hand made gifts that it borders on a new manufacturing industry and West Salem may be proud of the new venture, that adds useful and beautiful toys to the list of Oregon Products.

Members of the American Legion, who have applied for a charter for the organization of a Post for West Salem and the auxiliary are planning an organization banquet to be held in the community hall at 7:30 on December 7. There are 25 men signed up for post membership. Milo Jensen and Mrs. Ray Ferguson are on the publicity committee for the banquet.

Guests at the homecoming of the J. I. Miller family included Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Derrel T. Bradford, Miss Hallie Kimple, Robert Miller, Robert and Donald Clark, Wayne Bradford and the parent-hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Miller.

Surviving are the widow, Mary Cleveland; a sister, Mrs. Jenny Pierce, 81, of Oregon City; and six children, Mrs. Addie Free of Liberty; Mrs. Jennie Bartlett of Salem Heights; Mrs. Mabel Elmer of Odessa, Oregon; Allen of Dallas and Raymond here; and seven grandchildren.

Rev. Neal is a native Oregonian born near Seio, and educated at Albany college, and has been in the African field for 20 years. Having a great knowledge of African life, its future development and its customs makes him a most entertaining speaker.

ELABORATE PLANS ARE FOR OPERETTA

Entire Chemawa Student Group Aids in Creating Oriental Idea

CHEMAWA, Nov. 26.—The annual operetta, "The Belle of Bagdad", which will be presented by the students of the Chemawa Vocational high school December 3, is becoming a major school project as the various departments center their efforts on final arrangements for its production. The operetta is oriental in its setting, and the home economics department is designing and making clever oriental costumes for the large chorus of girls, while the tailoring department is producing a colorful array of costumes for the boys.

The stage scenery of bazaars and Turkish minarets, is being designed and painted by the boys in the painting department, and the stage settings are being arranged by the art department, with the assistance of the school carpenter. Responsibility for the advertising has been assumed by the commercial department, and the announcements which they are using have been printed in the school print shop.

The girls physical education department has been working for some weeks on the intricate and delightful dance steps which are a unique feature of this production, while approximately a hundred students from the music department are hard at work on the tuneful choruses, solos and quartets. Practically the entire high school student body is assisting in one way or another.

MEASLES CUT DOWN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

QUINABY, Nov. 26.—The Buena Crest school put on a Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon. The turnout was small, as measles are in the community. Over half of the youngsters of the primary room are out of school, and little Bobby Morris has been quite ill.

The following program was given: "Our Thanksgiving Menu," Marjorie Bressler, Betty Boston, Linda Gerod and Doris Ritchie; "The Youthful Boasters," Wayne Weese, Robert Ziellinski, Lloyd Tonkin, Marilyn Gigger and Leroy Futrell; song, Edith Nelton, Catharine Diem, Bobby Beckner and Agnes Ricketts; recitations, Betty Boston, Edith Nelton, Leroy Futrell and Lloyd Tonkin; "Mrs. Newlywed's Thanksgiving Dinner," Dolores Buchanan, Helen Diem, Bruce Jones, Paul Penny and Leroy Futrell.

The 4-H sewing club girls of Buena Crest met at the home of Mrs. Albert Girod Friday afternoon. It was suggested that business meetings be held at the school every other Friday. Finished articles of work will be brought to the meetings to be examined.

HOMER CLEVELAND IS CALLED BEYOND

LIBERTY, Nov. 26.—Homer Cleveland, 75, pioneer of the Liberty district, died at the home of his son Raymond, Saturday morning after a two months' illness. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Rigdon's with burial in Belcrest memorial park.

Mr. Cleveland was born in Madison, Wis., July 8, 1857, and 48 years ago was wed to Miss Mary Dumas. Eight years later they and their four children came to Oregon, settling at once at Liberty, where her father, Joseph Dumas, had taken up land for them the year previous. They lived on the farm here continuously until six years ago, when they accepted positions at the state home for the feeble minded, where they worked until he became ill.
