

LIQUOR MAY BE OBTAINED HERE

But Prescription Needed; Salesmen Visit Salem Professional men

A drug store, when properly licensed, may sell not to exceed 480 pints of liquor annually. Sale may only be made on a prescription from a physician and may be had only in unbroken containers.

Restrictions Made On Method of Sale Liquor handled in the drug stores must be kept in a special cabinet, under lock with entry permitted only to designated pharmacists. Part-bottles of liquor cannot be kept and if found, render the druggist subject to revocation of his permit. A "bonded" permit is granted, larger amounts than 480 pints annually can be sold but it is understood that local druggists are confining their permits to requests to handle the liquor without bond.

Doctors limited to 200 prescriptions a quarter, the prescriptions being made on blanks furnished by the government. Druggists are not allowed to fill prescriptions which show any evidences of having been tampered with.

Price of liquor at drug stores will not be less than $2.50 a pint and may be more, local druggists estimated. To this will be added the rate of $2 a prescription which is the customary charge made by physicians. Local druggists yesterday were uniform in stating that their handling of liquor would be largely a matter of convenience since the total amount which could be handled and the rigid regulations surrounding its dispensing would not permit much annual profit.

'DAYS OF GOLD' IN MEASURE REVIVED

(Continued from page 1) been engaged with pans, plects and sluice boxes. Some have made good strikes, many have made wages, and many have failed. Many abandoned workings have been reopened by operating companies.

Individual deposits have doubled at the Denver mint, which collects a large share of the new gold produced in the west. For the first 10 months this year a total of more than $12,500,000 in gold was received, an increase of about $1,000,000 over the same period in 1931.

Gold hunters numbering 12,000 to 15,000 operating in the fields of California during the summer took out between $400,000 and $500,000 of the yellow metal. Walter W. Bradley, California state mineralogist, estimated.

The great majority of the California gold army barely eked out an existence during the summer. Bradley said in estimating the average daily earnings at 40 to 50 cents. A few of the luckier ones ran $1 to $2 a day, and one or two picked up nuggets worth $40 to $50.

Thousands swarmed the mountains in Oregon, some of them "made their sale" but most of them lost everything they started with. Most of the amateur prospectors worked in the hills around Grants Pass and in Baker county, in eastern Oregon. Several schools were set up by the chambers of commerce to instruct in small-scale mining operations.

The gold hunt in Washington brought out the story of Clarence Jordan, who acquired an old claim on Flag mountain, near Wenatchee, scooped out about $30,000 worth of gold, and then decided to let the rest of the treasure remain under ground so as not to be bothered with too much wealth on his hands at one time. This occurred in the Swank Creek area where in years past miners took out about $4,000,000 in gold.

BEER VOTE NOT SURE SUCCESS

Form of Garner Repeal is not Backed Unanimously

(Continued from page 1) felt the convention system was the best for ratification of repeal and that "congress can and probably will pass a bill authorizing the conventions."

To Decide Wordings The speaker's only course was to put the democratic vote plank up to the judiciary committee. If it is changed by that group and submitted to a vote in the house, the judiciary committee, which has jurisdiction over constitutional legislation, automatically relieves him of responsibility for its contents. Sumners then would handle the resolution on the floor Monday.

If the judiciary committee takes no action, Garner plans to have Representative Rainey of Illinois, party floor leader, submit the proposition for a vote. It will come after 40 minutes of debate, with no amendments allowed. A two-thirds majority of those present and voting is required for passage.

PLAN CONFERENCE OF GIRLS' LEAGUE

Willamette Valley Groups To Gather Saturday in Salem, Announced

Following out the idea started for the first time last year, a second Girls' League conference will be held here next Saturday. High school and junior high school principals, deans of girls and four members of each league will be in attendance. Representatives from schools all over the Willamette valley from Eugene to Portland are expected to be here.

One problem which will probably come up for discussion will be concerning the status of the dean of girls in schools. Some principals do not favor such a position and feel that a dean is scarcely necessary. Saturday's program will be as follows:

9:30 a. m. Address of welcome, George W. Hug, superintendent of schools. Announcements; song conducted by Miss Helen Prang, Parrish junior high.

10 a. m.—Address, Dean Kate W. Jameson, dean of women, Oregon State college. 10:30-11:30—Discussions, question box.

12—Luncheon, Masonic temple; address by Dean Hazel P. Schwering, University of Oregon. 1:30 p. m.—Address and recognition service, Dean Ella Wilson and members of Girls' League, Franklin high school, Portland.

2 p. m.—Girls, discussion and question box. Deans, address, Supt. Robert W. Goets of Silverton. 3 p. m.—Business meeting and election of officers.

The conference last year was backed by the league in Oregon City and held in that city.
