

Reed and Novak, Ranking Wetters, Clash on Mat Tonight

PAIR BELIEVED WELL MATCHED

Cleveland man Ready Again; Ashby and Gardinier to Renew Their row

One of the most promising wrestling attractions that Matchmaker Harry Plant has managed to entice into the armory this season is offered tonight when Rob-in Reed, former world welter-weight champion, comes back after an absence of several months to match his skill with that of Bobby Novak.

Reed arrived in Portland Monday on his return from the east and will be in Salem this morning. Novak, who suffered a spinal injury when Henry Jones dumped him in spectacular fashion for the deciding fall of their recent match here, informs the matchmaker that he has fully recovered and is in first class condition.

Reed made the trip by automobile from Columbus, O., between Friday night and Monday night after wrestling at Columbus Friday night. His machine tipped over at Caldwell, Ida., but there were no casualties. Tonight's match here will be his first since leaving Ohio.

If Novak hadn't already shown local fans what he was capable of doing against top rank opposition by out-grappling Jones throughout most of their bout, the fans might not realize what a potentially good wrestler Bobby Reed is. They saw Novak topple several good men in the elimination tournament here, but prior to the Jones match there were many who doubted if he could hold his own.

Novak lost that one but showed he had the cleverness and strength to meet anybody of his weight on even terms. Therefore the customers now consider him a good match for Reed, and a good turnout is expected.

Against Reed, Novak is up against the same sort of problem that he faced when wrestling Jones; a resourceful opponent who knows how serious the threat of Novak's figure-four hook scissors may be, and knows ways to avoid it. Jones checkedmate the figure-four cleverly during most of his match with Novak, but fell victim to it once.

In the opening contest "Spike" Ashby and Joe Gardinier will renew an argument which a referee halted when it wasn't fully decided two weeks ago. Gardinier was considered by many fans to be more guilty of rough tactics than Ashby in that bout, but Gardinier when warned of one violation, tried something else, where as Ashby, enraged by his opponent's methods, finally became too consistent in his closed-hand slugging and was disqualified. Another slam-bang bout is expected.

Silverton Wins Over Wranglers By 30 - 24 Score

A collection of young giants from Silverton upset the extremely good record which Caldwell's Wranglers have been making this year, when they defeated the sport goods quintet 30 to 24 on the Y. M. C. A. floor here Saturday night.

The Silverton town team took an early lead but the Wranglers fought their way back to a tie, 14-14, at half time. The second half was hard fought but the visitors forged steadily to the front. The Wranglers will play Mill City Wednesday night.

Strangler Wins On Foul, Curley Suffers in Kayo

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Amid scenes of disorder in which Promoter Jack Curley was the chief sufferer, Ed "Strangler" Lewis won a winning match from Ray Steele of Glendale, Calif., in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Steele was disqualified for repeated roughness after 32 minutes, Eddie Forbes' wrestling was the signal for a near-riot.

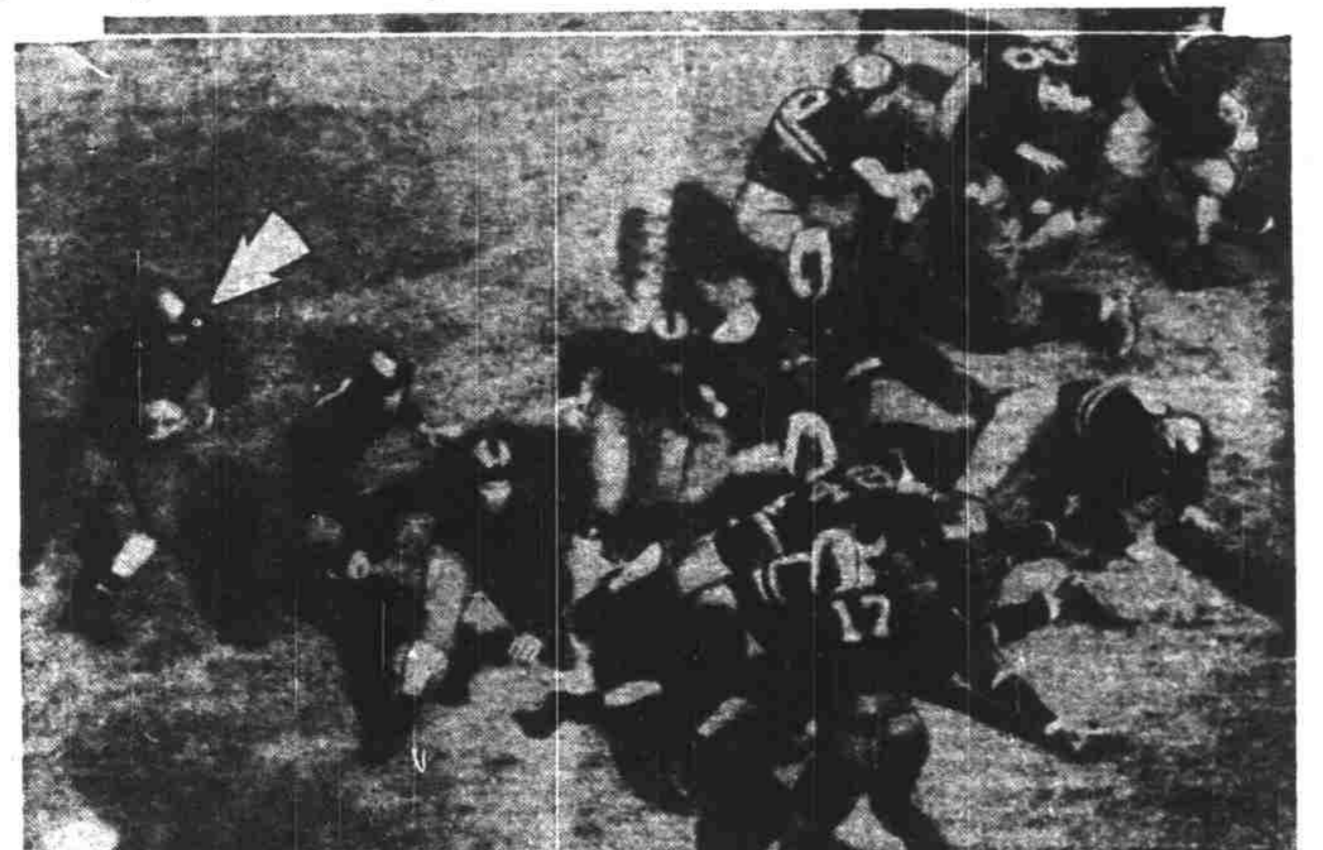

A group of Steele's followers, including a number of wrestlers, leaped into the ring to protest. One of them knocked out Impresario Curley with one punch. A group of the Garden's special officers hurried to the rescue and ejected Curley's assailant and soon had the situation under control.

Larmer Fire is Basis for Two Warming Suits

Two actions seeking damages from the Larmer Transfer and Storage company for losses growing out of the $600,000 fire which destroyed that concern's warehouse December 6, 1930, were filed Monday in circuit court here.

John Fitzhugh asks $4385 for loss of furniture stored in the warehouse and Fanny and J. A. Rogers seek $513 for a similar loss. Both plaintiffs contend Larmer was responsible for their goods while they were stored in his warehouse.

GRIDMEN OF ARMY DEFEAT NAVY 20-0

Quite according to fact, as well as form, an infinitely superior Army team triumphed over the gallant but ineffectual Navy to win the annual classic of the service schools, by 20 to 0, at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. Except in the early minutes the Navy never had a chance and the 70,000 sellout crowd was treated to the spectacle of unequal play in which the Navy held its own only in the matter of supreme gallantry. Mertz, Army halfback, is shown going around the Navy left end, during the first quarter.—International Illustrated News photo.

BALDWIN REPORTS FOR W. U. SQUAD

Emerson Baldwin, slongated basketball toser who was a member of the Willamette university squad a portion of last season, turned out again Monday although he is not in school and will not be available until the second semester.

Coach "Spec" Keene planned to reduce his squad early this week to a number somewhere near that which will be carried throughout the season. This may not be the last cut, however, as the potentialities of some of the men have not yet been thoroughly tested.

Fred Paul, veteran member of the squad who has been delayed in turning out because of an injury to his hand, made an appearance Monday afternoon though he is still unable to use that member.

PORTLAND SIGNS 3 EASTERN PLAYERS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Three new players were signed to the Portland club, of the Pacific Coast baseball league, today by Tom Turner, president of the club.

They include Frank D. Compton, 24-year old outfielder, who played semi-pro ball in and around Philadelphia last season; Chester Murphy, 26, a righthanded pitcher from Springfield, Mass., and Vincent Grudis, also 26, a second baseman from Mineville, Pa.

All three were recommended to President Turner by Connie Mack. Turner leaves tomorrow by automobile for Columbus, O., to attend the meeting of minor league officials.

Baer-Schmeling Bout in Chicago Dempsey's Plan

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Ancil Hoffman, business manager of Max Baer, heavyweight boxer, announced tonight he had received a telegram from Jack Dempsey in which the former world champion proposed a bout between Baer and Max Schmeling.

The bout would be staged at the Chicago world's fair, next June, according to Dempsey's telegram. Dempsey said that Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, had agreed to the fight and he only needed approval of Hoffman to go through with the plans.

Hoffman said a fight with Dempsey as promoter and Schmeling opposing Baer, would be a "natural" and that he wired Dempsey "to count on Baer's services."

Benny Bass Puts Reilly to Sleep In First Stanza

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Benny Bass, veteran Philadelphia lightweight, knocked out Eddie Reilly, of New York, in the first round of their 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas arena tonight.

Bass boxed the New Yorker for the first couple of minutes, saw an opening and sent Reilly down and out with one crashing right to the jaw after the fight had only gone two minutes, 17 seconds. Reilly was "out" for 10 minutes. Bass weighed 131½ pounds; Reilly 133½.

CURT COMMENTS

Some fans have been asking us why Pittsburgh, rather than Colgate, was picked as the eastern representative in the Rose Bowl football game at Los Angeles January 2. 'Colgate was unbeaten, unscathed on," is the general cry. Why pick a team that has been tied twice?"

So we took the trouble to look up Colgate's record. It defeated St. Lawrence, Case, Niagara, Lafayette and Mississippi colleges, which are not listed among the "leading colleges" from a football standpoint; their records do not appear among the scores obligingly compiled by the metropolitan sport page staffs for the benefit of the busy reader.

Colgate defeated Syracuse, but Syracuse had lost to Ohio Wesleyan, Southern Methodist and Michigan state, the latter 27 to 13, as compared to Colgate's 10 to 0. Colgate defeated Penn State 31 to 0; Penn State lost to Harvard 46 to 0 and lost also to Temple, Waynesburg and Syracuse.

Colgate beat New York U., which sounds like something until you find that the erstwhile violent victors also lost to Fordham 3 to 9, as compared to Colgate's 14 to 0, and to Fordham. So about all the claim Colgate has to national recognition is a victory, 21 to 0, over Brown.

Brown was undefeated up to the time it met Colgate; had beaten Yale, Harvard, Columbia and Holy Cross. Brown beat Yale 7 to 2; Yale lost to Army 20 to 0 and on the basis of that particular set of comparative scores, Colgate comes somewhere near being on a par with the unbeaten.

So you see an undefeated college team in the ea. is in much the same boat as an undefeated high school team in Oregon; it makes a lot of difference who the opposition has been.

Whitman, basketball champion in the Northwest among last winter, claims to be in much the same position as Willamette with respect to prospects for the coming campaign; three lettermen are all Nig Borleske can muster. They are West, Mills and Irving. However he has Gibson, the quarterback flash who looked good on a basketball floor two years ago, and Nelson, also a member of the squad in some past years. Nig will probably worry along.

Raspberries are New Winter Crop

S. Hamerick of route 6, Salem, reports that red raspberries are ripening on the new vines on his farm east of Salem. He was able to gather enough for the table from his vines, and states that it is the first time he has known the berries to be ripe this time of year.

Although Notre Dame has defeated Army 12 out of 14 games, the difference in the total score of the series is only 28 points.

REEDSPORT BOXERS, WRESTLERS COMING

Athletes from the Reedsport Y. M. C. A. will arrive in Salem Friday for the boxing-wrestling smelter to be held in the small gym at the local Y. building Friday night starting at 7:30 p. m. The Reedsport group is handled by Ivan Gay, former Multnomah club member.

Five matches each of boxing and wrestling have been arranged by the two Y. M. C. A. clubs. The Salem wrestlers are coached by Don Hendrie and the boxers by Clyde Grewell.

Plans are being made for a big athletic program at the local Y. M. C. A. for some day after the first of the year when a group of wrestlers, swimmers, boxers and volleyball players from the Portland Y. will come here to meet a similar group from Salem. All of the matches will be arranged for the same night.

Both the first and second Y. volley ball teams are practicing two nights a week in preparation for tournaments coming up this winter with teams from Tacoma, Portland and Seattle. The first team went to Portland last Saturday and won five straight games from the Portland outfit. The B team lost four out of five.

OREGON RATE FOR COMPENSATION LOW

The state of Oregon now enjoys the lowest rate under its workmen's compensation laws of any Pacific coast state, according to the new schedule which will become effective as of January 1, 1933. This was announced here by Charles E. Early, chairman of the Oregon state industrial accident commission.

In the general farming classification Oregon employers pay $3.25 per $100 payroll, as compared with $4.00 in California. The rate for mining, not otherwise classified, in Oregon is $6 as against $11.85 in California. Oregon employers enjoy a differential of $3.07 when compared with the California rate.

Probably the largest aggregate saving to Oregon employers under the existing rates are in the logging and sawmill industries. The Oregon rate covering western logging is $7.75 as compared with $14.00 in California. The Oregon rate covering sawmill operations is $4 as against $5.35 in California.

There also is a substantial differential in favor of Oregon in connection with logging railroad operations. In Oregon this rate and the compensation rate $8.80 in the state of California.

ARMY RECRUITING IS OPENED AGAIN

William Dietz, sergeant in charge of the army recruiting station in Salem, has been advised that the army has resumed recruiting men for enlisted personnel. Regarding the conditions he writes:

"Male, able-bodied, strong, active and free from disease, unmarried, and of excellent character and morals, a citizen of the United States or with first papers, must be able to speak, read and write the English language. "The pay varies from $21 to $24.15 per month, a clothing allowance of $18.00 for three year enlistment is given and what is left of this amount is given to soldier upon expiration of his term of enlistment. In addition to the pay and allowances a soldier receives free gratuity excellent food, desirable quarters, dental and medical attention, entertainment, athletics, recreation and an opportunity to attend one of the many schools for the purpose of making him a more valuable citizen upon his return to civilian life.

WARNER TO BE TEMPLE COACH

Resigns at Stanford After Nine Years; Howls of Grads one Factor

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Dec. 5.—(AP)—Glenn Stagg Warner, Stanford's famed football coach, resigned today and in the winter of a notable career that began nearly 38 years ago will move on to new fields to teach the old-fashioned strategy that has made him one of the great figures of the American college sport.

In a briefly worded note to the director of athletics, Dr. Thomas A. Storey, Coach Warner submitted his resignation this morning. It came with dramatic suddenness after previous official dispatches from various authorities at Stanford.

Warner's decision to move on to Temple university climaxed a year's consideration of offers received from the Philadelphia institution. A year ago when he was east with the Stanford team, "Old Pop" was offered the berth at Temple. He thought the matter over a long time before deciding to stay here.

This year the offer was repeated, despite one of the most disastrous seasons Warner has written into the records of his long career. Disgruntled Stanford alumni were reported to be after his scalp. The "old fox" of the gridiron admitted this today when interviewed in his home where he is confined to bed with a cold.

"The longer coach stays at one place," drawled Pop, "the more familiar the alumni get with him. They begin to tell him what to do. They want to name his assistant coaches and even want to pick the team." But he also said he "wants it understood, that he is not leaving because of criticism. I had been assured of cooperation with those in charge here. I have no fault to find with the administration, student body and the rest."

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Back to Pennsylvania where he started his coaching career stretching across more than three decades comes Glenn S. "Pop" Warner to be football mentor at Temple university.

Warner's contract calls for five years of service at a salary unofficially reported at $15,000 a year. He will have full charge of the Temple football squad and will pick his own assistants.

Henry J. (Helme) Miller, former star of the University of Pennsylvania who has been head coach at Temple since 1925, will be retained in some capacity for a year.

Miller's contract expires with the end of the present year. He has been receiving $5500 annually. Temple athletic authorities and others in high place at the university were greatly elated that Warner chose Temple above all other institutions that were reported after him as football tutor.

Temple university, a young institution compared with the great seats of learning in the United States, has made rapid strides in the football world. The institution was founded by the late Russell H. Conwell in 1884 and chartered as a university in 1907. Today it has 12,500 students in its day and evening classes and 800 persons on its teaching staff.

In the eight seasons of Miller's regime, Temple has won 50 games, lost 15 and tied eight times. The team has traveled as far west as the Rocky mountains to play Denver university and among its victims have been Brown and Drake.

Stagg Joins Unemployed Army, Refusing Job With No Work; Schools Nibble

By CHARLES DUNKLEY CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, after 41 years as director of athletics and head football coach, at the University of Chicago today became a man without a job, ready to consider any proposals for coaching offered him.

Rather than become a "nuisance" in any honorary post created for him, the grand old man of the mid-way definitely declared he was through with the university when his term expires next June. He refused to accept the honorary position as chairman of the university's committee on intercollegiate athletics, which offered a salary plus his annual pension of $3000 that would have made up the salary he now is receiving.

Stagg said he wanted work; that he had too much vitality; too much energy and that he would look for a new adventure, just as he did when he was asked to come to Chicago 41 years ago.

He dismissed the honorary position offered him with his typical Stagg comment: "I could not and would not accept a job without work. I am fit, able and willing, and refuse to be idle and merely a nuisance as I would be were I to accept this position. I must have work to do and since I cannot be football coach I am leaving the university."

Stagg had hoped to continue for another year as football coach, but this hope was blasted when he received definite word from Thomas W. Metcalf, the new director of athletics, that he would not be retained as football coach.

Although he has received four or five queries from other schools, the 71 year old Stagg has accepted none.

SPAUDLING FAVORS HALVING AUTO FEE

Wants Quarterly Payment Plan Adopted; Opposes Increased gas tax

State Senator Charles K. Spaulding came forth over the week end with an announcement that he will support a 50 per cent reduction in license fees for motor vehicles, and payment of these fees on a quarterly installment basis, when the legislature meets in January.

Spaulding declared that he would not favor an additional cent tax on gasoline despite the urgings of members of the state highway commission that such a levy be imposed. "What we need in Oregon at the present time is real retrenchment," Spaulding said. "We are spending too much money and the time has arrived for taking stock."

Spaulding said he had obtained figures showing that a 50 per cent reduction in motor vehicle license fees would in no way disrupt the activities of the state highway department or make it impossible to continue maintenance operations. He also said the 50 per cent reduction would not interfere in the payment of outstanding highway bonds and interest.

The senator made it plain that highway construction should be curtailed under existing conditions and that only those roads which are absolutely necessary should be built. "Our highway construction program has been carried on blindly for many years," Spaulding contended, "with the expense on fixed conditions would improve and money would become more plentiful. Statistics show that conditions have not improved and we are now face to face with a deplorable condition."

Spaulding also indicated that he would support legislation abolishing any and all unnecessary boards and commissions. "We can get along very nicely without some of our present state activities," Spaulding said.

COURT UNDECIDED ON ROADS POLICY

Policy of the county court on road work for 1933 is as yet undetermined, members of the court indicated Monday. For that reason, whether Frank Johnson will be retained as roadmaster remains uncertain.

Johnson started work in 1920 when the $850,000 road bond issue was passed. For the last three years, since the death of Roadmaster Culver, he has held that position. Members of the court said Johnson was ready to leave the job at any time if there was no work to be done. However they pointed out that maintenance work must be kept up and probably secondary highway work done with state funds.

County Engineer Hedda Swart will be needed with some assistance to do the minimum engineering work required from year to year whether new roads are built or not.

Alleged Thieves Of Chickens to Enter Plea Today

Alleged larceny of 15 chickens from the M. N. Crowe place near here, caused arrest of Frank Morse, who yesterday asked 24 hours in which to enter plea before Judge Miller Hayden. Bail is $250.

HOP MEN TO BACK LAW ENFORCEMENT

Will Insist Remaining dry Laws be Observed; new Legislation Talked

Intentions of the hop growers to safeguard, so far as possible, whatever freedom repeal of the state prohibition law has provided and to prevent abuses which might cause the public to regret its decision at the polls, were revealed by Romeo Gouley, hop grower of this county and member of the state legislature.

The hop growers of the Willamette valley will insist on the rigid enforcement of the remaining liquor statutes," Gouley said. "While no program has as yet been outlined, it is felt that the 1933 legislature will be requested to increase the severity of the penalties for drunken driving rather than reduce or minimize the present punishment."

From other sources it was learned that a bill may be introduced in the legislature next January taking from the presiding judges the privilege of parole in cases where persons plead guilty or are convicted of driving motor vehicles while intoxicated. Several hop growers declared that they favored such a law and would lend their influence in support of the bill. In case such an amendment was approved by the legislature the governor would be the only person having authority to parole. There is a possibility that fines will be eliminated altogether after the first offense.

DRISCOLL FUNERAL MAY BE IN SALEM

Mrs. Oscar Bower of Salem, whose daughter, Miss Letha Driscoll, 32, was found dead on a beach near San Francisco, Sunday, left for that city early yesterday to take charge of the body.

Miss Driscoll lived in Salem a number of years ago, but later went to Klamath county where she married Milton W. Smith. The couple then returned to Salem, where he was employed by an electric company.

While living in Salem, Miss Driscoll took nurse's training in a Portland hospital, but completed her course after going to San Francisco. Surviving are her mother, Mrs. O. D. Bower of Salem; two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Mangus and Mrs. John Ovan, of Oakland, Cal.

The body probably will be brought to Salem for interment.

$1500 in Loans Distributed to Local Students

Checks totalling $1500 are being distributed this week to Willamette university students by Business Manager Savage. The funds come from the General Education board of the Methodist church and are for loans made by students to assist them through university. No loans bear interest and the student graduates or quits school. Term interest is paid at five per cent a year the first of the year following commencement. Principal of the loan is amortized over six years.

Usually $4500 is loaned to Willamette students by the board but slow repayments of outstanding loans and fewer gifts than usual have cut down the amount of money available. Three thousand dollars will be loaned this year; one-half the first semester and one-half the second.

Honor to be Paid To Dr. Doney at Chapel Exercises

Services commemorating the 25th anniversary of Dr. Carl G. Doney's acceptance of a college presidency will be held this morning at the Willamette university chapel exercises. Amedee Smith, president of the board of trustees, will preside and R. A. Booth, long a patron of the school, will speak.

R. J. Hendricks will present Dr. Doney with a bound book of letters of appreciation which have come from all parts of the world. More than 400 individual tributes to Dr. Doney's work are in the volume. Townspeople and alumni as well as students are invited to attend the exercises.

Dr. Doney has been in charge at Willamette since 1916.
