Schissler Denies Rumor He may go to Fordham as Coach

HOWARD JONES GETS CONTRACT

Old one had Year yet to go But Five-Year Extension Granted Trojan Boss

CORVALLIS, Ore., Dec. 7. -(AP) - Paul J. Schissler, head coach at Oregon State college, returned from the east today and left shortly afterward for Los Angeles with C. A. Lodell, graduate manager, and H. S. Rogers, chairman of the board of control, to attend the Pacific Coast conference meeting. After the Oregon State football team played Fordham and Detroit universities in their recent invasion of the east, Schissler remained in the middlewest instead of returning with the Schissler said he was surprised to read of the resignation of Coach Pop Warner of Stanford, and expressed regret, declaring the Coast conference will lose part of its national prestige with the departure of Warner.

The Oregon State coach denied rumors that he had been offered and was considering a coaching berth at Fordham to succeed Major Cavenaugh, resigning.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7 .-- (AP) -Coach Howard Harding Jones' contract as football mentor at the University of Southern California was renewed today for a five-year period. The old contract has another year to run.

In making the announcement, Dr. Rufus B. von Kleinsmid. president of the Trojan institution, said the university wished to express its appreciation for Jones' "fine influence and sportsmanship as a coach as well as his ability to turn out winning teams."

While no statement of salary was made, it is understood the new contract will call for the same pay as the old one, which expires late in 1933. It was generally understood that this was approximately $12,000 a year.

During his eight years as coach at Southern California, Jones' grid elevens have won 72 games lost 10 and tied 2. They have either won or tied for the Pacific Coast conference championship six times in that period.

To date, Jones holds the impressive record of 144 victories since he started coaching in 1908 against 37 defeats and 9 ties for an .878 average. An end at Yale, from which he Jones coached at Syracuse, Yale, Ohio State, Yale again, University of Iowa, and Duke uriversity, before coming to Southern California in 1925. His teams won the Big Ten championships at Iowa in 1921 and 1922.

COMMENTS

Just a case of the pot calling the kettle black, mates; that's our verdict concerning Mr. Sips. (He's laid off us for a long time so we won't call him Mrs. Sippi any more.) Just yesterday Sips gave Wayne Pettit some publicity about a new rowing machine Wayne is reported to be operating in his apartment to keep down the poundage.

And would you believe it, before the ink was dry on that item, what was Sips doing but loading one of those selfsame contraptions into his own snappy coach, preparatory to taking it home and 1, 2, 3, 4-ing away the spare tire that he has accumulated by inhaling too many of his own Sips for Yesterday we had the privilege of watching some basketball played under the new rules. Just a practice scrimmage, but it showed us what effect the radical changes are likely to have.

Teams will not be under any great strain due to the requirement for getting the ball up the floor to the scoring end in 10 seconds. That's quite a period of time. New "Technique" In Punt-Snaring Merely Accident

LINCOLN, Neb., - (AP) -When Chris Mathis, chief of the "rabbit halfbacks" on the University of Nebraska gridiron squad, caught the fancy of fans in a game with Kansas by snaring punts over his shoulder while facing his own goal, experts marveled and inquired of Coach Dana X. Bible about the new technique in safety play.

Mathis hadn't bobbled a single one, despite his peculiar manner of receiving, and the writers scented something new. But Bible explained it:
