Music Festival Plans Near Completion

Plans for the Marion county high school music festival to be held in Salem December 16 are being perfected and indications point to an interesting program of secular and Christmas music. Considerable interest is being taken by a number of the smaller schools and a kindly spirit of cooperation is being expressed by the directors of music in these centers. The cultured influence of good music is today being felt in every community.

The approaching festival is the second event of the kind to be presented in Marion county, and it is sponsored by the Marion County Principals' association.

Mrs. Irving Rand of Portland, Mrs. Edward Burke and Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene were all-day guests of Judge and Mrs. John Rand Wednesday.

The program consisted of a drill by fourth graders, under the supervision of Mrs. Davenport, their instructor; three steel guitar solos, by Floyd Mattson; a recitation, "Women in a Social Game"; selections by the girls' trio of the high school, Daisy and Hazel Shrock and Vera Culp.

The women decided that the club help the Red Cross with the sewing for needy persons. Mrs. Ronald E. Burnett and Mrs. Elburn T. During the past 13 years, she married one man, divorced him; married her brother, divorced him and now she has married the third brother at Los Angeles.

long tables extending the entire length of the building with crepe paper decorations in Legion colors and lighted candelabra. About two hundred were seated at the tables where Col. H. K. Weidenfeld acted as toastmaster.

A fine musical program interpreted with toasts and addresses by several officials and legionnaires, one of whom was Mrs. Mabel McInterfer, state secretary-treasurer of Marshfield. Rev. P. W. Erickson gave invocation and benediction.

The two newly organized groups will meet with the community club December 19 in the community hall to decide upon a unification of building projects.

Woodburn.—The Hubbard Women's club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the second structure home of Dr. Ethel K. Riley, who lives in Woodburn. Dr. A.
