Ramblers and Trojans all set for Year's Biggest Game

Notre Dame Favorite Since Sick man Better; Cool Day is Forecast

By BRIAN BELL LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 .- (AP) -With all their football behind them until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Notre Dame and Southern Calffornia players tonight wondered what the weather man proposed to do about the climax game in the huge coliseum.

When the Indiana Ramblers left Tucson, Ariz., early today rain was falling here for the first time in months, but the experts insisted the rain would go its way before game time and the field would be fast at the kickoff.

Several inches of snow in the mountains some 60 miles from the football battlefield sent temperatures down and enthusiastic forecasters thought the day would bring an ideal football day, clear and cool. Attendance Mark

No less interested than the opposing players were some 100,000 customers, who were all set to establish a season's attendance record in the stadium, which has not been filled since the Olympic Notre Dame reached here in prime physical condition, in contrast to the condition prevailing part of the way on the westward journey, when its train presented the appearance of a hospital unit. The warm air of the desert and a friendly Arizona sun seemed to have combined to rout the flu germs threatening Coach Hunk Anderson's peace of mind.

Coach Howard Jones took his Trojan players away from the noise and excitement of the city to an unannounced seaside retreat and there they will remain until tomorrow afternoon. The Southern California players are hale and

After a slow start betting gained momentum. Notre Dame continued a slight favorite at odds of 10 to 7 and 10 to 8. The bettors favoring the visitors liked the divertified attack of the Ramblers, suggesting Anderson's lads would sooner or later get a pass receiver in the clear and hand him the ojan supporters pointed out only two touchdowns had been scored against the home team in eight games, but Notre Dame rooters countered with the statement that both these came as the result of passes. And this the Trojans could not deny.

Southern California, too, was expected to pass from time to time and the overhead attack may be launched when the Trojans press into Notre Dame territory for the first time.

Notre Dame was expected to introduce a starting backfield of Jaskwhich, Brancheau, Koken and Banas, but the first quartet might downey and Tom McLaughlin. include Murphy, Sheeketsky, Lukats and Melinkovich.

California was prepared to start its first string line and backfield.

HIGH SCHOOLS MAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)— The National Collegiate Athletic association, through its president, Dr. Charles W. Kennedy of Princeton, today announced plans for a new move to bring about interscholastic participation in the rules-making bodies of the N. C. A. A., including football.

Dr. Kennedy's call for the annual meeing of the association here December 29-30 disclosed that it is hoped to have representatives of the national federation of state high school athletic associations sit with the national football rules committee in an advisory capacity, similar to that now occupied by football officials and sional leagues adjourned to meet coaches. The federation previously rejected this proposal.

Notre Dame also draws them in at the game, makes a big profit from football. It might also be 'buying'' players. We never have heard it hinted.

But that's beside the point. Of course Southern California and Notre Dame get the best material, whether it's the reputation of Howard Jones and the halo of Knute Rockne that draw the athletes, or filthy lucre. What makes this material the best and what makes football teams out of it?

Of course the Trojans will weigh 2123 when they line up against the Rambiers, but most of the added weight will be in the backfield where it isn't supposed to count so much.
