

KEIZER TO ENTER CLUB COMPETITION

Cold Weather Cuts Into Attendance, but Variety Business Done

KEIZER, Dec. 12.—On account of the extreme cold weather, only a small audience attended the community club Friday night. A short business session was held with President Cole in the chair.

A committee for the hot lunches was appointed: chairman, Mrs. Harry Oldenburg; Mrs. J. C. Ackman and Mrs. J. A. Reynolds. Mr. Cole gave a report of the meeting of the Federated clubs. The entertainment committee was instructed to look into the several contests suggested, and select one or two.

The entertainment committee is chairman, Mrs. Iva Keiso, Miss Irma Keefer and Mrs. M. S. Bennett. Mrs. Roy Nelson announced the benefit program to be given at the school house Thursday night by A. S. Meloy, Edw. W. Tillson, concert pianist, and S. H. Hughes, president of the Salem Associated Charities and M. C. Moynihan, chairman of the Associated Veterans organization gave talks on their plans for helping the needy, asking that vegetables or fruit or wood be donated.

Chemawa quartet, Oscar Braden, Joe White, Lewis Pitt and Peter Levay, gave several group selections. A trio of stringed instruments, guitar and ukuleles played by Woodrow Ball, Frances Thomas and Lewis Pitt, was enjoyed. A luncheon was served and home made candy and popcorn balls were sold which netted a small sum for the hot lunches.

TRIO SHORT PLAYS ARE VOTED SUCCESS

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 12.—The three one-act plays turned out quite successfully this year despite the fact that the intense cold weather kept a percentage of the regular crowd away. The total taken in was $40. "Friday for Luck" given by the Freshmen and Sophomores, proved to be quite a comedy and the characters: Muriel Cooper, Ruth Ramey, Helen Mairland, Tom DeCoster, Marlow Butler and Marcus Crowley, each did their parts exceedingly well.

Crinoline and Candlelight was a colorful fantasy—the coloring of lights and of costumes was excellent. The acting of this play was well done by Beryl Kelley, Ione Moore, Myrtle Swerengen, Eleanor Bell, Joan Anderson, Pauline Sloper, Marion Ruef, Paul Carey, Henry Quipping, Melford Hoover, Edward Dunckel, Chester Lenhard, Alfred Haener, and Richard McKee. The senior play, "The Dress Rehearsal," proved to be quite a delightful riot with a love motif. Those who participated in the play were Gertrude Gentemann, Joe McEl-downey, Helen Newton, Jack Berry, Elizabeth Baker, and Myrtle Cox.

A great deal of credit for the production of the plays goes to Mrs. Hazel Stalsberg and Miss Margaret Eddy, directors of the plays, and to George Gentemann, general manager, Olea Syversen and Louie Haley, property managers.

KING AND QUEEN OF HEALTH

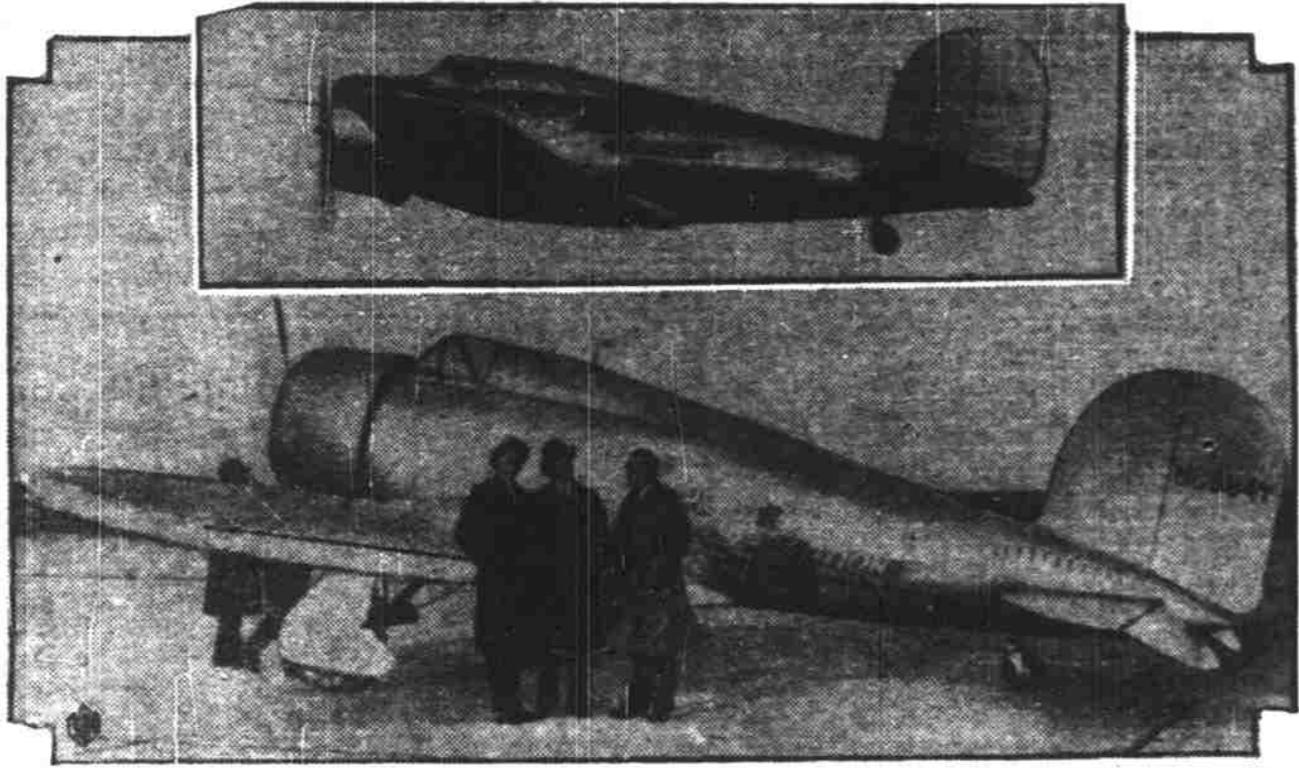

THEY'RE AT HOME IN THE KITCHEN

DOROTHY EILER

ROSS ALLEN

The healthiest boy and girl in the United States, chosen from among 950,000 entrants from all over the country at the 4-H Congress in Chicago, will devote their lives to the alleviation of human suffering. The boy, Ross Allen, of Harrison County, W. Va., will be a doctor, and Dorothy Eiler, of Atkin County, Minn., the healthiest girl, plans a nursing career. Ross is twenty, as handsome as he is healthy. He's a great believer in the early to bed idea and is also an advocate of eating just what you like. He scored 99.4 points out of a possible 100, a perfect score having been marred by the fact that one of his teeth overlapped another. Dorothy, sixteen, is 5 feet 3 1/2 inches tall, weighs 126 pounds and is a brunette with sparkling brown eyes. She, too, is a disciple of the early to bed maxim and the eat-what-you-like principle. Dorothy has never been ill in her life, except at the age of three when she had the measles—she ever heard of one measles! She is a modern girl in every respect, save one. She uses powder and lipstick, goes to dances and parties and has a good time. The one exception is that she does not spend any time watching the scale, dieting being a cardinal sin in her eyes.

COAST-TO-COAST DUSK TO DAWN AIR EXPRESS

A group of officials is shown standing by the first of the fleet of Lockheed Orion low-wing, retractable landing-gear monoplane, which are being put in service on dusk-to-dawn nightly schedule between New York and Los Angeles. The planes, which cruise at over 170 miles an hour, will carry only through traffic between the two points. At top is an action photo of the plane in the air, with landing-gear withdrawn. The three officials of the company shown are, left to right, Philip H. Philbin, Jr., president; Vance Brees, vice-president, and James G. Woolley, vice-president in charge of operations.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Dec. 12.—Because of the inclemency of the weather, the carnival and auction sale to be sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' association is postponed, probably until next week.

The plays are ready for presentation and at this time the premiere appearance of the Glee club will be made. Officers of the club include, president, Aileen Douglas; vice president, Edythe Burton; secretary, Charles Johns, and director and pianist, Miss Robertson. Both boys and girls of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades are members and two parts, alto and soprano are sung.

Friends received word of the death this week of Jack Summers, who with his family, resided here for a number of years, and was engaged while here in the real estate business. The family left here for Klamath Falls and continued on to California, residing in Modesto for some time. His health was poor and the trouble finally claimed his life.

Ice Skating Popular An attractive seasonal sport that has been enjoying quite a vacation came into its own again and it is ice skating. On the lake between Kingwood Terrace and West Salem, many from all stations and of all ages are seen gaily skimming over the ice both with and without ice skates, and many a good natured tumble or hard fall is recorded.

The second meeting of the Kingwood Tea and Talk club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Breckenridge, and because of the extreme cold, not many attended. The gifts that had been brought were voted to be given to charity and it was decided to meet in January at the home of Mrs. J. R. Brown.

Friends in West Salem will be interested in learning of the marriage this week of Rev. George A. Pemberton to Artilla A. Hadley of Salem. Rev. Pemberton resided all summer in the West Salem parsonage with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gurnee Flesher, in the absence of Rev. and Mrs. Charles L. Dark, who make a trip to Kansas last summer. An exchange of names in the various school rooms in the school was held Friday and the trees, gifts and Christmas programs will be held December 23, at which time the mid year holidays will begin. The reopening will be January 3, 1933.

TAXATION TALKED FOR RURAL GROUP

ROSEDALE, Dec. 12.—The community club met Saturday night with about 50 present despite the cold. A good program was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Needham and Mr. and Mrs. R. Ladd. William McGilchrist, a former resident here, sang several numbers accompanied by his organ. Carl Abrams of Salem gave a talk on taxation. The school is preparing a Christmas program.

All are sighing for Oregon weather again, while thawing out drain pipes and radiators. Mercury has dropped to near zero a few times here. Word has been received from Miss Laura Cammack that she arrived safely in Tientsin, China, November 14, having had a very pleasant voyage. She with others took sightseeing trips in Honolulu, Tokyo, and Kyoto, the former capital of Japan. She will be some 100 miles in the interior for the winter.

SNAPPY DAYS CUT CLUB ATTENDANCE

LIBERTY, Dec. 12.—Due to the cold weather, attendance at the community club Friday was light, only about 30 persons venturing out. The hot lunch committee reported favorably and the project will soon be launched, working jointly with the woman's club.

The matter of making last year's costumes available for other children at the Yule program was discussed. Mrs. Westenhause, Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Smith will have charge of the task.

The program was furnished by representatives of the Salem chamber of commerce. Otto Wilson introduced the speaker, Charles Spaulding, whose subject was tax legislation at the forthcoming legislative session. Miss Lois Burton played two piano solos. A skit from the play "His Royal Highness" was given by the play cast. The play will be presented January 13.

COUNTY NURSE IS VISITOR AT SCHOOL

TURNER, Dec. 12.—Miss Nova Lyndes, Marion county health nurse, visited the Turner school recently and vaccinated pupils that were not vaccinated last time. She also conducted her one-month class in first aid in the junior high rooms. While in the district, Miss Lyndes made some needed professional calls.

The hot dish lunch served to over 100 pupils and teachers for the past two weeks has proved a success and is especially appreciated during the present cold period. A number of the two children go home for lunch. Mrs. Frances Whitehead is chairman of a committee to prepare the list of women who have volunteered their services. Two serve each day, once every two weeks.

The civics class under the direction of Mrs. Cleora Parks, had a very interesting bulletin board during the week, consisting of cartoons and reports of the opening of congress. On account of illness eight students of the room were absent during the week.

At a recent meeting of Marion County Officials' association, it was voted that they referee basketball games for $3, which is a reduction, and complies with the rate set by the Marion County Athletic association. Referees from Turner are Prof. J. R. Cox, Lynn McCully and John Hawk.
