

Pair of Flying Squirrels Taken By Keizer Boys

L. J. Davies reported to the Statesman Thursday that his two boys Bill and James are the proud possessors of two flying squirrels which they caught on their farm in the Keizer district about December 1.

The squirrels are doing nicely in the cage which the boys made for them, and they expect to bring them to Salem sometime soon for exhibition.

This is the second report the Statesman has had recently on the capture of the rare variety, a Mt. Angel man making the first "capture."

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Dec. 15.—A jolly no-host skating party with bobbed riding over the ice at a roaring bonfire was enjoyed at the ice pond at the north of the city Monday evening with the group retiring to the Englehorn home for a wieners roast at the close of the evening. Those enjoying the sport included the Misses Susie Crow, Mona Vosburgh, Josephine Tandy and Ruth Englehorn and Reginald Vosburgh, George Tandy, Edward Englehorn and Jerry Minton.

First graders on the honor roll for the past six weeks include Margaret Morris, Norma Ruth Hoffine, Keith Evans, Helen Doris Friesen, Thelma Mae Hall, Dorothy Haven, Marian Burns and Rosetta Tricker. Mrs. Catherine Dyer is the teacher.

The attendance in the West Salem Sunday school has been very good all fall and has averaged over a hundred for the past three months. Mrs. Al C. Henningsen is the superintendent and has a very fine corps of instructors.

Tuesday evening the boys of Mrs. Henningsen's class in the Sunday school met at her home to complete the Christmas gifts they had begun on Thursday when they held a social evening with games and refreshments. Those attending were Jack Gosser, Thomas Tandy, James Allen, Herbert and Warren Fritts, Stanley Brown, Shannon MacFarland, Richard and George Keiso, Frank Einfeldt, Larry Wallace and Wayne Snider.

W. Harry Wiedmaier left the middle of the week for a tour of the southern Oregon cities, with stops to be made at Roseburg, Marshfield, Medford, Klamath Falls and other cities as far south as Ashland.

B. J. Wayman, who has been ill all fall with cancer of the liver, is critically ill now and his relatives have been notified. Mr. and Mrs. Wayman who came here five years ago, left South Dakota, where they had resided at Mitchell and Sioux Falls for 30 years, about eight years ago because of his health.

Mrs. N. W. Rolofson, who was called to Portland the first of last week because of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. W. M. Hunter, remained until the death and burial of her mother and returned home this week. Mrs. Hunter resided near McCoy many years and her father, David Maxfield operated the first steam ferry on the Willamette river, for 30 years. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Rolofson of West Salem, Mrs. Blanche Patton of Portland and Mrs. Jessie Shepherd of Oakland, Calif., all of whom were with her at her death Monday night, and two brothers, Don and Sam Maxfield of Salem and a sister, Miss May Maxfield of Dallas. She was buried Thursday afternoon in the Portland mausoleum, with pall bearers from the Meier

Charlie Chan is Here; No Sleuth But Herb Doctor

Charlie Chan has come to town: not the rotund little Chinese detective of Earl Derr Biggers' detective tales but an equally affable if more slender young man, who like his famous namesake admires some things American. Descended from a long line of herbalists, Mr. Chan deals in and Frank store employees. Mr. Hunter has been an employee of that store for the past 14 years.

Chinese medicines. He comes from Los Angeles, where he was for some time in partnership with his father in the medicine business.

Questioned as to his interest in western medicines, Mr. Chan replied that he has studied American textbooks of anatomy and physiology but that he limits his practice to natural herbal remedies.

He will open his business on N. Commercial street Saturday.
