Large Church Wedding is Beautiful Affair At First Presbyterian Church New Year's Eve

Miss Louis Nunn Becomes Bride of Hugh McGilvra in Church Ceremony; out of Town Guests Increase Interest in Service

ONE of the most beautiful church weddings of the year was one of the concluding social events of the old year, New Year's eve in the First Presbyterian church. Here at 8:30 o'clock Miss Louise H. Nunn, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Nunn and the late J. J. Nunn, and Hugh McGilvra, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McGilvra of Portland exchanged the wedding vows read by Rev. J. R. Jeffrey of Forest Grove, before a very large number of friends from Salem and over the state.

The church was lighted with the soft glow of tapers. Tall ivory cathedral tapers in a many pointed candelabra graced the altar and shed their mellow light over the wedding party which took its place on the steps of the chancel while Miss Louise Findley softly played the processional. Preceding the ceremony Miss Josephine Albert sang "Calm as the Night" by Bohm.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother, Charles Nunn of Marshfield, wore a smartly fitted gown of chalk white crepe with high collar neckline, sleeves that fitted closely from elbow to wrist and which fell to tip toe length. A chic collar of opalescent beads completed the neckline. Over her dark hair the bride wore a coronet fashioned like a Russian peasant headdress from the veil which trailed in sweeping lines over her shoulders.

A shower bouquet of Jeanina Hill roses, lilies of the valley, and pink sweet peas were carried. Her only ornament was a large cameo brooch, which belonged to her grandmother.

Mrs. Charles Nunn, matron of honor, Miss Margaret Nunn, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Charles W. Redding, and Mrs. Kenneth Litchfield as bridesmaids, wore pastel gowns of net, period fashioned, and wore turbans and carried muffs edged with fur.

A lovely note in the ceremony quite took the breath of the audience when just as that part of the ritual was reached when Mr. Nunn was to give the bride in marriage, the soft organ music stopped and from out the side wings of the church came a clear ethereal voice singing a phrase of "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Beta Chi sorority home. Pastel flowers in profusion were used about the guest rooms of the sorority house. The service table was centered with a bowl of pastel flowers and flanked with tapers all beyond the tapers were on each side smaller bowls of flowers.

On the fireplace before which received Mr. and Mrs. McGilvra and their wedding party was a shower bouquet of pastel flowers which formed a beautiful background for the group. Mrs. Nunn and Mr. and Mrs. McGilvra Sr. received at one side of the room.

Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Joe Dyer of Astoria and Mrs. Filmer Carter of Portland, and Mrs. Walter Kaufman of Corvallis. Presiding at the urns and cutting the loaves were Mrs. F. A. Elliott and Mrs. Frank O. Hagelin of Portland.

Assisting in serving were a group of the younger set: Miss Florence Power, Miss Rosalie Burden, Miss Rosalind Van Winkle, Miss Marjorie Christenson, and Miss Ruth Durland, all of Salem, Miss Irene Clark, Miss Jean White and Miss Elma White, all of Portland, and Miss Beatrice Lockhart of Ashland.

Mrs. Hugh McGilvra has since her graduation from Willamette university, been connected with Camp Fire work in Portland and for the past two years has been executive secretary of the organization there. She was a member of the Beta Chi sorority in Willamette.

Mr. McGilvra is a graduate of Willamette and is now owner of the News Times of Forest Grove. He was affiliated with the Kappa Gamma Rro fraternity in Willamette.

Mr. and Mrs. McGilvra left for a two weeks wedding trip into California and will be at home in Forest Grove following their return. As a going away costume Mrs. McGilvra wore an ensemble of bordeaux red and wore a white fox fur.

"Happy New Year" Parties Hold Spot Light in Week End Social Activities in City

Club Dances, Watch - Night Parties, Private Dancing Parties and Informal Social Evenings Keep Salem Lights Late

GAY is the word for the last night of the old year. Guests and dancing, watch parties, and amusements—all combined to make New Year's eve one of the happiest and jolliest of recent years in Salem.

The Subscription club danced at Masonic temple. Formal and beautifully appointed the dance was one to remember. Dinner parties, small and large were enjoyed before the dance and many of those attending the dance called during the evening hours at the Lois Lachmund home for the annual New Year's at home enjoyed there.

The Tillicum dancing club enjoyed its third annual New Year's dance. A dinner preceded the dancing hours with covers placed at a gayly decorated tables for 200 guests. Between the dinner hour and dancing a surprise feature presented was an hour's vaudeville performance given later as the feature comedy program at the Elsinore.

Promptly at midnight all manner of New Year's favors and noise makers were presented and the New Year was well received.

Special guests included Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Pound, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Compton, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, Mr. and Mrs. George Hurst, all of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loeffler, Mrs. Higgins, Captain and Mrs. A. Lee Merrill, all of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fulgham of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Baile Savage of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Leon W. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey, all of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Connell of Portland, Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Burdette, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon of Baker; and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frierson of Portland.

Out at the Hillside club dancing was enjoyed from 10 o'clock until 2 o'clock and many guests enjoyed this delightful annual custom of the club. Gay decorations and favors added to the happiness of the occasion.

The Wisteria club danced the evening hours away at Castilian hall. Dinner and supper parties marked added gaiety for the members of the dancing club on the New Year's eve.

Evenings at home to greet the new year were enjoyed at the T. A. Livesley home when Tommy Livesley entertained for a group of the younger set; Miss Flavia Downs was a New Year's eve hostess for a dancing party at the Dr. C. A. Downs home; Miss Molly Gallagher was entertained with a New Year's eve party for a group of university young people; Mrs. Clifford Brown entertained informally with an "at home" to her friends, and so the round of affairs went with few of Salem people unentertained on New Year's eve.

An interesting luncheon was enjoyed at the Spa Friday noon by a small group of Salem and Portland women. Covers were placed for Mrs. Hannah Martin, Miss Heloise Crosby, Mrs. R. Glatt of Woodburn, Mrs. Charles Bolten, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Davey, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Floyd, all of Portland.

Mrs. Ione Hickerson and children, Jean, Robert and Donald, were guests from Seaside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher for the Christmas holidays. They returned to their home Saturday.

Mrs. Clifford A. Smith and Miss Gertrude Sheild of Seattle are the house guests of Miss Lena Cherrington for over the holidays.
