The General Electric Wash Test—of Penco and Nation Wide Sheets

As the star attraction of Penney's January WHITE GOODS Event we have arranged for the actual wash testing of 3200 sheets—1600 Penco and 1600 NATION-WIDE—by GENERAL ELECTRIC washing machines. This test was made by the General Electric company in their Home Service Department at Bridgeport, Connecticut. The Penco sheets were washed for seventeen hours continuously—the equivalent of four years home washings. The NATION-WIDE sheets were washed for thirteen hours continuously—the equivalent of three years home washings.

AND NOT ONE SHEET IN 3200 SHOWED ANY SIGN OF WEAR AFTER THE TEST.

To back up this statement we have arranged to get one each of these sheets so YOU can feel and examine them.

Some may want to know how seventeen hours and thirteen hours are equivalent to four and three years washing. Here's the explanation:

Penco sheets—17 hours equals 4 years. 17 hours X 60 minutes equals 1020 minutes. One washing is equal to 10 minutes. Therefore 1020 minutes equals 102 washings. The average housewife washes a sheet every other week or about twenty-five times a year. Therefore 102 washings equal 4 years home washings.

NATION-WIDE sheets—13 hours equals 3 years. 13 hours figured the same way equals 78 washings. Therefore 13 hours equals 3 years home washings.

When I like something I evermore like it!

THEY'RE Milder —
THEY TASTE BETTER

—and I like CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes. To me, they are mild—that is, they don't seem to be strong; and there is certainly no bite, so far as I can tell. To me, they taste better and they have a very pleasing aroma.

Every CHESTERFIELD that I get is well-filled, and I feel like I am getting my money's worth—that there is no short measure about it.

I like CHESTERFIELDS. They satisfy me.
