Portland Symphony Holds Much Interest

The concert announced by the Portland Symphony orchestra for Monday night, January 16, holds special interest for two reasons. The first is that Edouard Hurlmann, violinist, will be the soloist, playing Dvorak's Violin Concerto, and second, the latter half of the program will be devoted entirely to Wagner.

Beethoven has been chosen to open the concert. Promptly at 8:30 p. m. the audience will hear the strains of his overture to "Coriolanus." Those who have never heard this Beethoven work have new musical thrills in store, while others will have an opportunity to enjoy again its dramatic strength and beauty. It is based upon the legendary Roman hero who was the subject of Shakespeare's play.

Hurlmann's appearance as soloist is one of the main attractions of the season. He is concert master with the orchestra, and has made several concert tours in the northwest. His performance of the Dvorak Concerto is greatly anticipated and will be the first Dvorak work on any program this season.

The second part of the concert will be a fine treat for all lovers of Wagner. Willem van Hoogstraten, conductor, has arranged the following numbers: Prelude and Love-Scene ("Tristan and Isolde"); Forest Murmurs ("Siegfried"); Siegfried's Rhine Journey ("The Twilight of the Gods"); and Wotan's Farewell and Magic Fire ("The Valkyries").

Another month will bring the close of the present Symphony orchestra season, which opened in November. Two more Monday night concerts and two Sunday matinee concerts will remain after the January 16 program. They are: Sunday afternoons, January 22 and February 5; Monday evenings, January 30 and February 13. Reservations for any concert may be made through the Symphony office, J. K. Gill company, Portland.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
A perky white collar will turn any dowdy frock into a sensation... but when it is an essential part of a very new frock... we say, that's twice as sensational. One look at the model sketched today, and you'll want it immediately. The collar is so unusual, the sleeves reflect former years with their leg-o-mutton effect, and interesting seamings leaves nothing to be desired.

Pattern 2498 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric and 3/4 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with this pattern.

Send 15c in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly your name, address and city, and state. No return is necessary. The new spring fashion book is ready. Containing 25 colorful pages of lovely Paris-inspired models for every spring need, this beautiful book should be in the closet at every hour of the day. Every style is practical and easy to make. There are models for the larger figure, and pages of delightful junior and kiddie styles. Send for your copy. Price of catalog 15c. Catalog and pattern together 25c.
