Corn Market Stiffens; Fate of Farm Bill Thought Black

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Dubious over agricultural legislative developments at Washington, many traders turned to the selling side of the wheat market late today, and prices slid downward.

Much talk was heard that the farm allotment bill had been so overloaded with amendments the measure would have little chance of being signed by President Hoover. Rumors of export business gave backbone to the corn market.

Wheat closed weak, 1/4-1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/2 off to 3/4 up, oats 1/4 down.

BULLS AGAIN FAIL TO SET NEW HIGHS

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Today's stock market cut its cloth closely to Wednesday's pattern, which meant that bulls again unsuccessfully tried for a definite break through the highs of the last two months' trading range.

Prices moved upwards during the morning and held fairly well until the last hour when wheat's weakness again influenced Wall Street's sentiment. Long traders took profits and shorts who had been fighting the rise added their contributions to the small trickle of selling orders, with the result that losses ranging from fractions to about a point were plentiful.

Volume, however, slumped down to 91,672 shares, the week's smallest turnover.

Procter & Gamble met rather stiff pressure from those who felt that competitive price cutting on soap products might influence Saturday's dividend decision. The stock lost 2 net. Gulf States Steel Preferred was up nearly 3 on reports the company's position had improved. Drug, Inc., rallied in response to news the company had disposed of its controlling interest in a British company.

U. S. Steel and American Telephone were sluggish, the former losing nearly a point net. American Can, Westinghouse, Loew's, Case and Bethlehem sagged in the neighborhood of a point. Rails clung tenaciously to recent gains, though small losses predominated.
