PAY REDUCTION FOR JUSTICES IS ASKED

Two-Year Moratorium Upon Highway Construction Considered Monday

Reduction of supreme court justices' salaries from $7500 to $5,000 a year is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Burke yesterday. This measure serves as a follow up to the senate's previous action in adopting a resolution proposing elimination from the state constitution the provision that compensation of judicial officers shall not be reduced during their term of office.

Another bill fathered by Senator Burke provides for reducing the salaries of all circuit judges in Oregon. Compensation of circuit judges in districts having more than 30,000 population would be reduced from $6000 to $4000 a year, while in districts of less than 30,000 population the salaries would be cut from $5500 and $5000 to $3500 a year. Salaries of circuit judges in the fourth judicial district, Multnomah county, would be reduced from $6500 to $4500 a year.

Consideration of a resolution introduced by Senator Dunne declaring a moratorium of two years on all new highway construction was made a special order of business for 2 p. m. Monday. The resolution would permit the highway commission to complete gaps between roads now under construction, and its action would not interfere with highway construction under contract at the present time.

Mortgage Bill Urged — A bill by Senator Dunne prohibiting the issuance of any more highway bonds, other than for repairs to meet a catastrophe, also was continued over until Monday afternoon.

The senate adopted a resolution ratifying the child labor amendment to the federal constitution. This amendment empowers the government to regulate and prohibit the employment of persons under 15 years of age.

Approval also was given a memorial urging congress to enact the Frazier bill, which would make it possible for the government to refinance farm mortgages and certain other indebtedness on a three per cent interest basis.

CLIFFORD TO TALK UPON TECHNOLOGY

Technocracy will be the subject of a talk next Tuesday evening, January 24, at eight o'clock, in the auditorium of the Salem public library by J. M. Clifford under the auspices of the Salem Arts league.

This talk is being given in response to a number of requests that have been made to Mr. Clifford in view of the fact that he has been making a study of this subject for a number of years and more than a year ago published in Salem the first article of a series which advocated practically the same system as is now being put forth nationally under the name of Technocracy.

This is the first public discussion of Technocracy in Salem and the meeting will be open for questions after Mr. Clifford has finished his presentation. It is sufficient interest develops, it is possible that a section of the Arts league may be organized to continue study of the subject.

The meeting is free to the public and all persons interested are cordially invited to attend.

Students Engage In Argument on Executive Job

Following heated discussion in the regular business meeting of the Associated Students of Willamette university Friday morning, it was decided to make the editor of the Willamette student yearbook, a member of the executive committee of the association.

The decision was made through passage of an amendment to the constitution. It was declared that this particular amendment was more widely disputed since the famous "suffrage for men only in May Queen elections" amendment was proposed four years ago.

28 Autos Lose Licenses, State Secretary Says

Twenty-eight motor vehicle operators' licenses were revoked by the secretary of state during the month of December, it was announced Friday.

UNIVERSITY SENIORS DENY EXAM PROTEST

Seniors at Willamette university feel that they have been misrepresented in statements issued through the local and Portland press recently regarding the stand taken by the class concerning new examination requirements for graduation.

A committee appointed recently by the faculty to study the case of the class, waited upon Dean Frank M. Erickson solely for the purpose of discovering just what type of examination was being contemplated by faculty and administration and not to protest the requirement.

It was generally understood throughout the student body and by some members of the class that a large number of seniors were anxious to protest. However, the majority voted to make the committee one of investigation only.

Goss Describes Scenic Paradise In S. W. Oregon

Senator John Goss made members of the Salem Ad club jealous of his country of residence as he described the scenery and the fishing luck in southwestern Oregon. The coast and redwood highways are opening up this paradise and Sen. Goss did a good job portraying the beauties of his country. The tales he told of fishing in the lakes and rivers of the state, he would qualify him for membership in any fishermen's organization.

Senator Goss lives in Marshfield. He is a lawyer with ranching interests and sportsman's tastes. He wears a Ph. D. degree and won by studies in Columbia university. He took one course under Woodrow Wilson who came over from Princeton to give it.

PRINCIPAL URGES SUPPORT FOR BUS

And Against Repeal Bill in Legislature; P. T. A. Has Meeting

STAYTON, Jan. 20 — Members and friends of Stayton P. T. A. enjoyed a "back to school night" at their last meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burmaster created a deal of amusement when they arrived attired as "school kids." All teachers in the grade school were on duty in their respective rooms.

Theo Norby, grade school principal, presided. A program committee consisting of L. A. Wright, R. G. Wood, Mrs. Inglis and Mrs. Keys was appointed, as was a publicity committee, Mrs. H. A. Beauchamp, Mrs. Space and Mrs. B. A. Schaefer. The financial report showed that $39.75 was added from the plays given recently.

Prof. Tobie gave a talk on the local school status, as compared with other schools, and also urged that people in this section get in touch with legislators in regard to the school bus and other important school bills coming before this session of the legislature. He stated that a great number of young folks would be denied the privilege of attending high school if the school bus bill is repealed.

The girls' glee club, under the direction of Miss Margaret Ireland, gave a pleasing number, and the audience also sang several of the good old songs, accompanied by Miss Ireland.

The losing side in the membership contest, of which Mrs. W. A. Widdie was president, served chilly and hot biscuits in the domestic science room. Mrs. Frank Stupka was biscuit maker.

Deaf Pupils Give Kiddle Gavel of Native Cut Wood

Senator Dunn, on behalf of the pupils at the state school for the deaf, presented a memorial to President Kiddle, of the senate, a beautiful gavel made from Oregon wood. Dunn explained that the students at the deaf school appreciated the many courtesies they have received from the state legislature, and had taken this means of expressing their thanks.

Senator Goss inquired if the deaf and dumb were the only persons in the state of Oregon who appreciated the legislative activities.

DR. HENRY SISCO LEAVES CHEMAWA

CHEMAWA, Jan. 20 — Dr. Henry N. Sisco plans to leave Chemawa the latter part of next week for Concho, Oklahoma, where he is being transferred at his own request, as chief physician in charge of the large reservation hospital recently constructed for the Cheyenne and Arapaho agency.

Dr. Sisco has been the local hospital physician for the past four years and during this time has labored faithfully to better the health and sanitary conditions. Local authorities believe the health situation now is as good as could be found in any community of like population.

While other schools in the state have reported a great many pupils recently absent because of influenza, the Chemawa Vocational school, housing nearly 800 pupils, has had not more than a dozen cases altogether.

Dr. Sisco will be succeeded at Chemawa by Dr. W. L. Lockman, who is being transferred here from the Yakima Agency in Washington.
