Farmers may Plant 200 or More Acres in Place of Strawberries

WOODBURN, Feb. 1-Possibilties of a new industry, that of raising green peas for market, for this section of the country were voiced Tuesday afternoon when a large number of farmers attended a meeting held in the Woodburn armory. The meeting was under the auspices of the Woodburn Cooperative Fruit Growers' associa-

Mr. Binn, manager of the Farmers' Produce company of Portland, outlined the plans and workings of the project. The idea is that fresh green peas, for immediate marketing, will be raised in this section of the country. The peas would be shipped to eastern markets in refrigerator cars. In this vicinity the peas ripen soon after the crop in The Dalles is finished and before the Washington peas mature. The peas would be planted in February and marketed in June.

Although admitting that the Van Dorn, 67, a resident of the proposition as it stands now is Webfoot neighborhood near Dayton since 1893, died Tuesday at purely a gamble, and not urging anyone to go into the business very heavily, the outlined plan daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. MONMOUTH, Feb. 1. — Dr. L. E. Forbes, faculty member of the Oregon Normal school, presented statistics relative to the county unit system of school education. This system, said Dr. Forbes, originated 20 years ago, being first used in Colorado, where it has been continuously in use since. Maryland, Ohio and Montana also have used it, and where this system prevails the cost per pupil has decreased.

In Oregon the system seems most attractive in counties where the average of pupils and taxable property varies most. In these counties decreases in cost of instruction were noted as follows: Crook, $24 per pupil; Klamath, $25 per pupil; Lincoln, $26 per

Since some districts are rich in taxable property and others are not, objections to the county unit system are, first, that some districts will have increased taxes, even though the general cost is bard cemetery. Pallbearers will lowered; second, that in certain individual districts a protest will arise against having no direct Under the plan each county

Chesterfields are Milder

WHEN you ask a Chesterfield smoker why that's his brand—he generally comes right out flat-footed and says ... "It's because They're Milder!"

So we're going to keep right on doing everything we know how to keep them that way.

That's why we look for and buy the mildest and ripest tobaccos we can get. That's why we age them in our warehouses till they're mellow and sweet.

We believe that even the shredding of the tobacco ... and the quality of the paper it's rolled in, have a lot to do with the evendrawing, mild smoke that people enjoy in Chesterfields.

You can bank on this . . . every method known to science is used to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette that satisfies.
