

ANNUAL TEA IS PLAN FOR 22ND

Women's Club Names Committees for Martha Washington Event

WOODBURN, Feb. 2 — Plans for the annual Martha Washington tea, given by the Woodburn Women's club, were formulated Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting, held at the local high school.

The Martha Washington tea, one of the foremost social events of the season, will be held in the social rooms of the public library Wednesday afternoon, February 22. The club president, Mrs. Mabel Wendell, appointed Mrs. Ronald Burnett general chairman for the tea.

The various committees are: Program, Mrs. Paul Pemberton and Mrs. V. B. Bain; decorations, Mrs. A. E. Austin, Mrs. W. J. Wilson and a member of the Rural club; candy booth, Mrs. E. N. Hall, Miss Carrie Waterbury and a Rural club member; kitchen, Mrs. Henry Layman, Mrs. Ed Lytle, Mrs. Elvira T. Sims, Mrs. Henry Hall, and Mrs. S. W. Mangin; service, Miss Mary Scudder, Mrs. Eugene Courtney, Mrs. Helen M. Guss and six girls from the home economics department of the high school; advertising, Mrs. I. C. Beers, Mrs. L. S. Mochel and Mrs. J. J. Hall; soliciting, Mrs. Nettie Simmons, Mrs. Ronald Burnett and Mrs. Arista Nendel.

The Woodburn Rural club will be joint hostess for the tea, along with the Women's club.

An interesting program was given for the members. V. D. Bain, superintendent, told of the place home economics takes in the school curriculum, and mentioned the beneficial results from such training. The program was: Selections by the Kitchen Cabinet orchestra; a short play, "When Mother's Away"; group of songs by the girls' glee club and quartet; vocal duet, Daisy Shrock and Mary Alice Conyne; economics club song, Mary Shaw, Frances Goldade, Floris Nelson, Merle Marita and Billy Chase.

Mrs. Guss, the home economics instructor, explained the various exhibits. In the domestic arts department, under the supervision of Miss Nelma Saylor, there were displays of clothing made by the girls.

BELMONT DEATH OF INTEREST

DUGHTER, SHE MADE A DUCHESS - SOCIETY QUEEN IN '30S

The death in Paris of Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont ended one of the most colorful careers of modern times—a career that began in a small Southern town and wound upward to leadership of society in the world's largest city and generalship in the great army of women who fought for the equality of sexes.

Mrs. Belmont, born Alva Smith, came to New York from her native Mobile, Ala., in the '70s. She first entered the spotlight by marrying William Kissam Vanderbilt, and stayed in it by the lavishness of her entertainments until she ultimately climbed to dictatorship of the mighty "400." In 1895, she divorced Vanderbilt, and the same year married her daughter Consuelo, to the Duke of Marlborough, an event that caused an international sensation.

In 1924, she married Oliver Belmont and after several more years of ruling society from her $3,000,000 marble palace at Newport, R. I., became aligned with Alice Paul in the fight for women's suffrage. She remained a prominent leader in the National Women's Party until victory was won, after which she devoted herself to the struggle for legal equality for the sexes.

In 1924, Mrs. Belmont closed her house at Newport and retired to live in Paris. But she kept in touch with America and was credited with a large share in obtaining the last amendment to the Cable act, which gives American women the privilege of retaining their nationality after marriage to a foreigner.

SCHOOL CLINIC IS SCHEDULED ON 8TH

HUBBARD, Feb. 2 — Meta Friend entertained the Woman's club at her home Wednesday afternoon. Sadie Scholl, president, presented Sadie Rich with a present from the club since she has moved from Hubbard to Molalla.

Blanche Brown reported that there would be an all-day school clinic Wednesday, February 8 at the Pythian hall for Broadacres, White and Hubbard with Dr. Burke as examining physician, assisted by the nurses, Neva Lynnes, Blanche Brown, Louise Grims, and Minnie Knight. Immunization for diphtheria and smallpox will be given.

Sadie Rich read a paper on "Pioneering in Oregon." Among the interesting things she told was that F. W. Seftemaster was the longest continuous resident of Woodburn, having lived there 54 years.

In keeping with this thought the members present told where they were born and when they arrived in Hubbard. Sadie Scholl was the only member present born in Hubbard.

Marie de Lespinasse and Louise Grims played a saxophone duet accompanied by Neva McKenzie. The next meeting will be at the home of Rebecca Cleaver when Valentine day will be observed.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM, Feb. 2—The section of the Southern Pacific beginning at the Willamette bridge and going through West Salem with L. G. Richardson, section boss has been reduced to a crew of three men employed only three days per week. At the same time that the crew and time are being reduced, the section has been lengthened and now extends over 30 miles of track from the Marian-Polk inter-county railroad bridge to the other side of independence and to Dallas. Guy Weaver of West Salem has been laid off and Fred Gehrig transferred. The present crew is Albert Hille of West Salem, Charles Rosenahl of Dallas and Ivan Wood of Amity.

The teacher, Lyle Thomas and the pupils of the eighth grade visited the legislature Wednesday forenoon, getting first hand information in the operation of law making of the state.

The regular monthly meeting of the Standard Bearers will be held Friday night at the home of Mrs. De Lapp, with Miss Violet Wallace in charge of the study, Doris Reed, the devotionals and the Misses Valma Keiso and Ruth Maerz hostesses.

Pupils of the West Salem school who were on the honor roll for the entire semester are: first grade, Margaret Moritz, Keith Evans, Rosetta Tricker and Norma Ruth Hoffline; second grade, Donald Barton, Frances Preisler, Winifred Newton, Doris Pyeatt, John Janzen, Hugh Gookin, Elsie Snider and Betty Les Austin; third grade, Virginia Riesbeck; fourth grade, Jean Templeton; fifth grade, Evelyn White and Bethal Smith; eighth grade, Leo Gookin.

The regular meeting of the Jolly Time Quilting club was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Rietson with another all day quilting bee. Those attending were Mesdames Robert Ketterman, W. D. Phillips, Phil Hathaway, Emmett A. Dickson, Rex Swelgert, Martha Rietson, Charles Wurm, Ed Coates, George Lathrop, Homer Harrison and Elmer Rietson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Rex Swelgert next Wednesday.

Mrs. Guy C. Newcomb opened her home to the members of the Ladies' Aid society and friends for their regular monthly business meeting Wednesday afternoon. Various entertainment plans were discussed. For the February tea, Mrs. Phil Hathaway, John A. Yantis, Ted Burns and Bertha K. Engstrom were named general committee.

CHARITY SHOW NETS $75 FOR RED CROSS

DALLAS, Feb. 2 — The charity show held at the Majestic theatre Tuesday night as a benefit for the local Red Cross fund brought over $75 which will be turned over to the local chapter, together with a large supply of canned goods, groceries, toys and clothing received at the matinee.

George W. Gould, manager of the local theatre, was responsible for the idea of the charity show and secured the aid of the Dallas Women's club in staging it. Jack Eakin, state commander of the American Legion, acted as master of ceremonies at both the matinee and evening performance.

The show started off with two numbers played by the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Alice MacBride. Following this the Delphin society presented two living pictures. Donald Pinkerton gave a tap dance, and George Cooper and his wife presented an act dealing with an experiment in the making of home brew. Other features on the program were two songs by the Junior high girls' glee club, a tumbling act by the high school girls' team, a solo by Harold Witteraft, a tap dance by Beverly Bales, and a skit by the Neighbors of Woodcraft. One of the most interesting parts of the program was a short play by the Dallas Firemen.
