TECHNOCRACY GROUP AROUSING INTEREST

Third Meeting to be Held At City Library Next Tuesday Night

Keen interest in technocracy was manifested by an audience that taxed the capacity of the auditorium at the city library last Tuesday for the second meeting of the technocracy group.

R. D. Cooper gave an interesting review of Stuart Chase's latest book "A New Deal". S. H. Van Trump made a very instructive address on industrial evolution. The following is a summary of the talk by J. M. Clifford on technocracy:

Man, in his age-long struggle for leisure and freedom from toil, has finally arrived at that position where for the first time this goal is not only possible but probable.

The United States is the only country that is manned, equipped and ready to step into this new era.

SCOUT EXPOSITION IS NEXT WEEKEND

Achievements Which Earned Merit Badges Will be Shown at Armory

Committees and workers promoting the first annual Boy Scout Merit Badge exposition to be held in the Salem Armory next Friday and Saturday, reported that nearly all of the 22 display booths to be seen at the show were allotted to business men of the city cooperating with the scouts in the event. Arrangements for special entertainment and many features that will make their first appearance in Salem in this unique exposition have been completed.

PAIR HELD; CHARGE LIQUOR POSSESSION

Bryant Allison was in county jail and Robert Lee Phillips out on $500 bail yesterday after being arrested on liquor charges by federal officers, Prohibition Agent A. F. Mariott reported. Allison, he said, was unable to put up $1000 bail set by U. S. Commissioner Lars Bergsvik.

Mariott arrested the pair on Court street here Friday, charging Allison with possession and transportation and Phillips with possession of intoxicating liquor. Allison's car was seized.

The alleged liquor confiscated, according to the agent, consisted of alcohol and Old Colonial whiskey.

Garden Club to Hear Cuthbert Tomorrow Night

The Salem Garden club will meet at the chamber of commerce Monday night at 8 o'clock. Prof. F. A. Cuthbert, of the department of landscape architecture of Cornell, will speak on "Civic Improvement." The public is invited to attend.

Anyone who has ideas on the subject of civic improvement is invited to present them to the club. The club would like to know where to begin the improvement to Salem.

NORDICISM SUBJECT TUESDAY'S LECTURE

Willamette Professors to Give Third of Programs Mrs. East, Organist

In the northwest the safest place for blue-eyed blondes? Is Hitlerism in Germany another evidence of Nordicism? Is the white race really the superior race? Such are some of the questions which it is suggested will be considered by Dr. Sova B. Smith, in his lecture, "Who Blackened the Eyes of the Nordics?" Tuesday night at 8:15 in Waller hall. The lecture will be the third in a series of joint lecture-organ concerts presented to the public by the faculty of Willamette university. The guest organist for the evening will be Mrs. W. H. East, well-known organist of the local First Church of Christ, Scientist.

An audience of over 300 attended the second program of the series two weeks ago and the committee on arrangements is anticipating an even greater attendance Tuesday night.

Dr. Laughlin, professor of economics and sociology at Willamette university, is a native of Iowa. He received his A.B. degree at Penn college, great Quaker college of the middle west, took his master's degree at Harvard college, the leading Friends' institution of the east, and returned to his native state to complete his doctorate at Iowa State university. He also has been a graduate student at Harvard and Chicago universities.

Prior to coming to the local institution, Dr. Laughlin was professor of social sciences at Culver Stockton college, and was, for one year, a teacher in a boys' school near Jerusalem. His lecture Tuesday night will deal largely with questions of race, dispersion and classification of races, subjects on which Professor Laughlin has the reputation of being an authority.

For her organ concert at 7:45, Mrs. East has selected a program of numbers by Dudley Buck, Baptist and other organ masters. Mrs. East's many friends will welcome the opportunity to hear her in a concert appearance. To her it will be a pleasant experience to play again the organ, thoroughly renovated and modernized, upon which she had her first organ training. Under the direction of Frank W. Chase, former head of the school of music at Willamette.

LIVESLEY ELECTED HEAD OF HOP MEN

Root Damage Reported and Work to be Done Over; Beer Hope Expressed

T. A. Livesley of Salem was elected president of the Oregon Hop Growers association at a meeting held Saturday at the Marion hotel. Ross H. Woods of Dayton is vice president; J. B. Myers of Salem, secretary-treasurer; and J. R. Linn, retiring president, delegate to the executive committee.

Serious damage to hop roots, either through freeze or downy mildew, was reported by several growers yesterday. Two large growers declared that at least 25 per cent of their hills were in bad shape, and growers who report heavy damage, and will have to do this work over.

So far it has not been determined whether the cold weather or downy mildew caused the discouraging root conditions, however further light is expected to be thrown on the matter Monday when a delegation of growers will meet with E. N. Bressman, of the state college experiment station.

A discussion of legislation of special interest to the hop grower showed considerable optimism that the beer bill will be passed by both branches.

The growers also voted several resolutions amending the district constitution and by-laws. Frank Needham is retiring president.

RYAN TO ADDRESS CHAMBER MONDAY

James T. Ryan, recently-appointed student of Salem Indian school at Chemawa, will speak at the chamber of commerce luncheon tomorrow noon concerning vocational work being done at his institution. Since coming to Chemawa, Mr. Ryan has made many changes which have been recognized by educators as distinct advances in improving student morale and interest.

In addition to fostering a working scheme of student government, he has added over 20 new vocational courses to the curriculum, holding that the Indian students need practical knowledge.

Music for the meeting will be provided by the Indian school vocal sextet: Alette Goodbird, Donna May LaFonso, Mabel Arnois, Marie LaFrance, Caroline Mahone and Alice Bachman.

Meier Signs Bill Creating Relief Board for State

Governor Meier Saturday signed house bill 169, creating a state unemployment commission of seven members to work in cooperation with county committees. The county committees also will have seven members. The principal function of the state committee will be to act as a clearing house between cities and towns, the state and the reconstruction finance corporation. The bill makes it possible for the state to seek a loan from the finance corporation in an amount to be determined and approved by governor Meier.

ENFORCED BUDGET CUTS UP ON MONDAY

House Adjourns Early After Passing Foreign Goods Labeling Bill

The 60 members of the house of representatives arose sufficiently early Saturday to convene by 9 a. m. whereupon they hurried through their calendar and adjourned by 10:30 in time to let a number of members make their final trip home before the 2 to 1 sessions of the closing weeks arrive.

Most of the bills on third reading went through a flying, one of which effects Marion county inasmuch as it permits either circuit judge to sit in the other's department and to convene any term of court.

A measure by Representative Deich received almost unanimous approval, the bill providing that all foreign-manufactured goods sold in the state must be plainly marked as foreign made.

Two bills by Representative Paulus providing minor changes in legal procedure passed as did one bill by Representative Semon on potato grading and one by Representative Kelly validating certain irrigation assessments.

Debate on compulsory reduction of all county, city and district budgets by at least 10 per cent in 1934, proposed in H. B. 3 by Representative Gordon, was held over until Monday. H. B. 288 compelling placing of a large sign "school bus" on all such vehicles was made a special order of business for 2 p. m. Monday.

G. G. Nelson, 64, Dies, Los Angeles

Word was received here yesterday of the death in Los Angeles of George G. Nelson, 64, a former resident of Salem.

Nelson is survived by six children, Virgil and Byron Nelson of Los Angeles, Jeff Nelson of Grants Pass, George D. Nelson of Salem, Mrs. T. A. Moore of Waldport and Mrs. E. L. Lovelace of Salem; also by eight grandchildren.

A slight gain occurred last week in the number of jobs provided through the U. S. Y. M. C. A. Employment bureau, according to Assistant Manager D. D. Dotson's weekly report. Twenty-one men and two women were placed, six more than in the previous week. Fifteen of the men went to farms and into general labor, and the two women at housework.

In addition the regular weekly employment, Dotson reported 27 men employed in forestry department trail making during January.
