

WOULD HAVE STATE CARE FOR INSANE

County Heads Favor Corbett Move, State Officials Frown on Cost

Passage by the senate yesterday of Senator Corbett's bill returning responsibility for paying for non-violent insane care to the state was favorably received by representatives of county government and questioned by state officials who forswore at least a $300,000 reduction in state income budgeted for 1933-1934.

Under the Corbett bill which was readily approved by the upper house, counties will hereafter pay nothing for insane patients' care. The state will collect, where possible, $29 a month from the estates or the relatives of non-violent insane patients.

Senator Corbett said there was no more reason why the counties should pay for the care and support of non-violent insane patients than for persons committed to the state penitentiary and other penal institutions. He estimated that the approval of his measure would save Multnomah county approximately $150,000 annually, while other counties would benefit correspondingly.

"This is not a Multnomah county measure," Senator Upton said, "but it applies to every county in the state. At the time the original law was passed in 1931 it was represented that there were only a few non-violent insane patients in the Oregon institutions and that the hospitals were being used as a dumping ground for the insane. It later developed that most of the insane patients were of the non-violent type."

Ballot Charge Okehead

The senator passed Senator Goss' bill providing for changes in the non-partisan ballot. The measure authorizes candidates for judicial offices to designate on the ballot the county in which they reside and the printing of a 10 word statement giving their qualifications and experience. Further provision is made that when the names of two candidates for an office are on the primary ballot only the one receiving a majority of the votes cast shall be on the ballot at the general election.

Senator Dunne's bill authorizing the public utility commissioner to employ a secretary and expert stenographer without salary limitation was approved over the protests of Senator Burke. The salary of the secretary to the state utility commissioner is now fixed by statute at $3000 a year.

An adverse report of the judiciary committee on a bill requiring the sellers of goods, wares and merchandise, manufactured outside of the United States, to label them as such, was adopted after a spirited debate. The measure was introduced by the senate agricultural committee.

Senator Upton declared that this was a matter that should be handled by the federal government and not by the states.

The measure was defended by Senator Woodward on the ground that the bread line would not be eliminated until local industry received adequate and proper protection.

"The way to correct the present economic evil is to purchase the products of our field and manufacturing plants and not foreign importations," Woodward said.

DUPONT GUEST OF MOUNTAINEERS

Forced down in a snowstorm in the rugged mountains of Pennsylvania, Richard du Pont, 24-year-old scion of one of the country's proudest and richest families, is shown as he enjoyed the hospitality of a poor mountaineer family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wingrove, who sheltered and fed him until his plane had been extricated from the perilous perch where it landed. The young heir, not wishing to embarrass the good people, told them his name was "Dick," a mechanic for du Pont's. He was loud in his praise of the Wingroves' kindness. Photo shows the mountaineer housewife serving a meal to the heir of millions.

Resolution in for Walther Pension

Senator Corbett introduced a memorial in the senate Monday urging congress to enact legislation whereby George Charles Walther of Multnomah county would receive a federal pension of $100 a month. Walther was shot and seriously wounded by a prohibition agent several months ago, and has since been in a hospital in Portland. He was said to have been an innocent bystander, and was not in any way involved in the raid which resulted in the shooting.

TAX COLLECTIONS 50 PER CENT OFF

$24,084 Paid in January, $17,331 Delinquent On 1931 Roll

Tax collections for the first month of 1933 were considerably more than 50 per cent off from collections in January, 1932, according to a tabulation made by Deputy Tax Collector Butler. In January, 1932, landowners delivered over a total of $24,084.92. For the same period a year ago, the total was $53,452.15.

Tax receipts for last month on the 1931 tax roll, delinquent November 7, 1932, was $17,331.44. In January, 1932, persons who had neglected to pay on the 1930 assessment before it came delinquent in November, 1931, carried in $45,588.69 for the tax collector.

As the 1932 tax roll has not yet been turned over to the sheriff, no 1932 payments have been made. The '32 roll will be turned over late this month or early in March.

The January collections for the two years follow:

1931	$17,331.44
1930	2,854.81
1929	1,668.55
1928	1,518.95
1927	148.75
Roll	1933
1932	110.57
1925	120.51
1924	13.85

The high school tuition payments on the 1932 roll, held up because of litigation in the courts, during January totaled $517.49.
