

Fight Card Looms Tonight; Whiskered Hoopsters Appear

NEARBY TOWNS WILL TURN OUT

Independence Backing Trio Of Favorites; Dempsey Added Attraction

FIGHT CARD TONIGHT
Main Event—Jackie Killeen, Independence, vs. Guy Hickman, Salem, 130 pounds, 10 rounds.
Semi-Final—Andy Joerg, Mt. Angel, vs. Bobby Ambrose, Salem, 132 pounds, six rounds.
Special—Cy Landers, Independence, vs. Young Jack Dempsey, Portland, 122 pounds, four rounds.
Al Smith, Salem, vs. Battling Sledge, Independence, 145 pounds, four rounds.
Battling Jones, Salem vs. Tom Ross, Monmouth, 155 pounds, four rounds.
Time, 8:30 p.m. Place, armory, Referee, H. G. Maison.

To fight fans of Salem tonight's fight card at the armory is significant chiefly as a renaissance, a resumption of fistic entertainment after a lengthy period in which none was offered here. To fans in certain other communities not far away, and particularly those of Independence, always a red-hot fight town, it looms as something of an inter-community war.

Independence has three "hopes" entered in the program and is hoping to carry home more victories than Salem keeps for itself. Naturally a large delegation of fans is coming from the hot metropolis to help carry back the laurels.

On the other hand both Mt. Angel and Silverton have some claims on Andy Joerg, and he is expected to draw backers from both vicinities. Joerg and Bobby Ambrose who will clash here tonight, have fought two draws at Silverton.

Jackie Killeen has been touted as a future champion by his Independence neighbors ever since he began fighting, and they also swear by Cy Landers, who has made great progress since his previous appearances here. Landers will not meet his old rival Cy Fluke of Mill City, as Fluke is down with flu. Young Jack Dempsey of Portland will take Fluke's place, and Matchmaker Harry Plant is of the opinion that the change will result in an even better match.

CURT COMMENTS

Give most any young fellow a basketball, a hoop to throw it at and plenty of time to practice, and granting a certain amount of athletic aptitude, he's bound to become pretty good at dropping that ball through the hoop.

Now these are times when quite a number of young men have plenty of time on their hands; and the Y. M. C. A. provides a ball and a hoop to those who are able to purchase memberships. Every afternoon, in case you don't know it, there's some exciting, if not always expert, basketball played at the Y. by the "unemployed," not all of whom, we must hasten to add, fit that classification exactly. Some of the young fellows who play up there in the afternoons have night jobs or other part-time work, and some are students.

But if we are privileged to class them all as the "unemployed," it must be recorded that several of the "unemployed" moved their scene of activities up to the Willamette gym Thursday afternoon and gave the Willamette Bearkittens a neat lesson in the casaba game.

These boys who have lots of time to experiment on what an inflated sphere will do when pushed in various directions, had quite an edge on the freshmen, and ran up a big score. However, it wasn't a regular game and they kept on playing for a couple of hours, so far as we know; we left shortly after the Bearkittens, changing teams every few minutes, finally tied the score on the weary "jobless" at 51-41.

Corbett Gets Up From Semi-Coma And Takes Walk

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Only a shadow of the man who knocked out John L. Sullivan but still a champion in courage, James J. Corbett today roused himself from a semi-coma in which he had lain for several hours and walked about his home.

Corbett, in his 67th year, has been seriously ill with a heart ailment since January 21. Yesterday morning his condition became so alarming his physician resorted to stimulants to prolong his life and he had lain since in a half stupor, from which it had been difficult to arouse him to take food.

This afternoon, with friends his death, Corbett awoke, climbed out of bed and walked through the house. He was prevailed on to lie down again, but appeared none the worse for his unusual activity.

CAMPBELL GETS 18 OUT OF 1901 AUTO

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Pages of automobile racing history were turned back more than 30 years Wednesday as Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world land speed record, made a "blistering" race over the ocean beach in an old open cylinder (horseless) buggy of 1901 vintage.

In contrast to the speed he attained in his giant Bluebird race car when he established the present automobile record here a year ago, the 48-year-old driver sent the ancient model over the beach today at the "astounding" clip of 18 miles an hour.

The stunt was arranged as a humorous sidelight of the 1933 international speed trials, at which Campbell hopes to be able to crack his own world mark of 253 miles an hour as soon as beach and tide conditions are favorable.
