

SPECIAL GATHERING FOR WOMEN SLATED

AMITY, Feb. 18.—Thursday, February 23, the Art Appreciation class, with the Women's Civic Improvement club and the Amity Study club as joint hostesses, will sponsor a meeting to which all the women of Amity and vicinity are invited. Special guests will be the East Side Sewing club, the Ladies Social Service club and the Ladies Yamhill-Polk county club.

Guest speakers will be Mrs. Clara B. Smith, president of the Third District Federation of clubs, Mrs. Saldie Orr Dunbar, secretary of the State Tuberculosis association, with two other speakers from other departments of the Third District Federation. This will be held at the Methodist church community hall at 2 o'clock.

The Sisterhood of the Church of Christ will sponsor a family night to be held February 24. The committees in charge are: Entertainment and decorations, Anna Rose Cottrill, Wanda Van Horn and Ernestine Groves; refreshments, Irma Shields, Mrs. E. Cooper and Mrs. Obekson. Three plays will be presented as entertainment.

A short Washington's day program will be held Tuesday, February 21, in the high school auditorium. There will be no school Wednesday, February 22, at the Amity union high school. The Ladies Social Service club of the Methodist church is planning a Washington tea for Wednesday afternoon, February 21, to which all are invited. A program in keeping with the day has also been arranged.

Carter, with Mrs. Floyd De Lapp conducting the study, Mrs. Dork deLapp and Mrs. Lester DeLapp the mystery box. All women interested in the work in mission fields are invited to attend.

Smoker and Musical Has Large Crowd

GERVAIS, Feb. 18.—When it comes to putting on an entertainment, Father Wm. S. Walsh knows his "onions." This was demonstrated as never before at the auditorium last night, when a crowd estimated at 700 attended the smoker and musical program, for the benefit of Sacred Heart parish.

There were nine events in the boxing contest, the curtain raiser being between four youngsters from the local parochial school, and it was a good teaser for the appetite of the fight fans. Most of the participants in the boxing exhibition came from the training school, while some were from Woodburn, Mt. Angel and Silverton. Gervais had three in the semi-finals, Adam, George and Zachey Schell. George, in his contest, K. O.'d his opponent in the last minute of the three two-minute rounds. Nearly all the decisions went to the boys from the training school. The main event was between Aronson of the training school and Fessler of Mt. Angel, both weighing over 200 pounds. They were to heavy to be good and too inexperienced to make a real showing, but judges gave the decision to Aronson.

Dr. De Lespinasse of Hubbard and his orchestra furnished the music for the evening, and several of his singers were heard in the chorus or as solos. One of the boys from the training school gave a tap dance and responded to encore. The referee of the bouts, and one of the attaches of the training school, also gave a tap dance and responded to an encore. Chase, Knowland of the school was awarded the Wayne Gill, of the Woodburn Independent, showed a motion picture of the golfers at play on the Woodburn links, among them all the Gervais players in their famous way of stancing or striking at the ball and missing it.

Superintendent McLaughlin of the school for boys gave a talk and said it was the desire of the management of the school to cooperate in all communities in any way it could to help build community spirit and environment.

PLAY IS SUCCESS SHAW, Feb. 19.—A group of young people presented a three-act comedy drama "The Path Across the Hill," Friday night in the school house to a large audience. During intermission pupils of the school sold candy and Fred Denham, and Mr. Pardee of Aumsville entertained with musical numbers.

FINAL RITES HELD FOR C. VAN NICE

JEFFERSON, Feb. 19.—Funeral services were held at the Fort-miller funeral home in Albany Friday afternoon for Clem Van Nice, 81, who died at his home two miles southwest of Jefferson Wednesday morning after a five weeks' illness. Rev. M. M. Stocker, pastor of the Albany First Presbyterian church, officiated. Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Van Winkle of Jefferson sang three songs. Interment was in the Houston cemetery.

Mr. Van Nice was born May 27, 1851, in Dubuque, Ia., later going to Minnesota, where he was married to Miss Ida Draper of Fairbault, Minn. In 1879, they moved to South Dakota, where they took up a homestead and he became a member of the Presbyterian church at Flandro, S. D. After spending 30 years in South Dakota, they moved to Oregon, and he had since lived on his farm two miles southwest of Jefferson.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Tessie Robinson, of Jefferson, and one brother, Henry Van Nice of Cranford, N. J.

Those attending the funeral from Jefferson were J. G. Fontaine, Mrs. Joe Goin, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Weidener, Mrs. John Henderson, Elmer and Carl Henderson, Mrs. Paul Kothoff, Mrs. Nettie Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seipp.

QUINABY, Feb. 19.—The Marion county grange council met at the M. W. A. hall Wednesday night. It was voted to send representatives at Salem a letter of commendation, signed by the grange of Marion county, praising their stand for the farmer.

The council discussed the advantages of and way of obtaining a John Bradford school, and Mrs. Dallas of Red Hills grange, Mrs. Daisy Bump of North Howell and Mrs. Carrie Tyler of Monitor were appointed to draw up a resolution regarding the matter of securing such a school, and presenting it to the next Pomona grange meeting.

A committee was appointed to draw up a visiting schedule for the Marion county granges: H. W. Bowden of Chenowas, W. M. Tate of Union Hill and Mrs. Towe of Silverton Hills.

FOUNDER'S DAY IS OBSERVED BY P-T

AUMSVILLE, Feb. 19.—The regular meeting of the Parent Teachers association was held at the school house Thursday night, presided over by the vice president Mrs. Fred Stener.

After the business meeting and the children's Story Hour, all assembled in the auditorium for the Founders Day program: Community singing led by T. C. Mountain; readings by Miss Mabel Kullander, Mrs. Landers; Mrs. Allen Castle, Mrs. A. B. Ham, Mrs. Raymond Titus and Miss Gladys Burgess; tableau, "Four Corner Stones of Child Welfare," by Mrs. T. C. Mountain and Mrs. Ella England; violin solo by Miss Kullander, accompanied by Mrs. David Lowe; birthday cake ceremony by Dorothy Brown and George Stener; ceremonial readings by the Mesdames Steiner, Titus, Ham, Latta and Mountain. The large cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Raymond Titus and Mrs. Fred Stener.
