

ARCHITECT TALKS AT P. T. A. MEET

SCIO, Feb. 22.—Lyle Bartholomew, Salem architect, addressed the Scio Parent-Teacher association Thursday night at the regular meeting.

Fred Galbraith, manager of the Salem Lumber Mills, had planned to be present, but business detained him, so Mr. Bartholomew told what the lumber mills in Salem are doing and what they might do. He spoke of the linen imported and stated that if only one-fourteenth of this business could be obtained for the Salem mills, it would be a material benefit to many. Samples of linen materials were displayed.

Mr. Bartholomew, talking about his own field, gave his reasons why he believed the lumber mills will never operate to capacity again and showed samples of materials that are taking the place of wood — materials that are cheaper, are as attractive, and in many cases more durable.

The entertainment features on the program included numbers by the Pop-Eye quartet from Williamette university — Ralph Foster, Robert Magin, Earl Henry and Louis Magin; Scotch songs by Robert Hutchin in costume, and piano medleys by Robert Magin.

The Salem Rotary club sponsored the program. A short skit from "Polished Pebbles," the high school operetta, was given. E. P. Caldwell, treasurer, reported that receipts from the alumni banquet were $38.05, with $22.55 expenses. There is now a balance of $15.02 in the treasury.

Teacher Club Holds Meeting at Heights

SALEM HEIGHTS, Feb. 22.—The teachers' P. E. P. club held its regular meeting at the Salem Heights school Tuesday night. The main subject of the evening was interesting discussions on "Educational Diagnosis." A humorous reading entitled "My Poor Feet" was given by Margaret Edwards. Those present were Nellie Weidner, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McClendon, Mamie Bostrack, Texe Bostrack, Margaret Edwards, Hylda Foster, Ella Forgard, Jessie Rains, Clara Reese and Cecile Wiegand, principal.

Pupils and Teachers To Present Minstrel

MARION, Feb. 22.—Enthusiasm runs high over the minstrel show Friday night, February 24, being sponsored by the teachers, Miss Grace Pehrson, Miss Rose Hutton and Mrs. Leole Sloan, and their pupils. Over 50 pupils will take part. A small charge is to be made, funds to go to the school baseball team.

SILVERTON, Feb. 22.—The annual parent-son banquet of the Silverton Future Farmers will be held Friday night and Eldon Fox, a former member of the local group, and one who has made considerable of a showing for himself since he was graduated from school, will be the guest speaker. He will speak of his trips and experiences in the show circuit.

Others of the local group who will speak include Palmer Torvond, Laurel Hanson, Harry Way and Tom Miller. Music will be furnished by Elmer Thompson, vocal solo; clarinet, Palmer Torvond; trio, Harry Way, Ronald Gifford and Elmer Thompson. Sixty people will attend. The banquet is being served by the home economics department of the high school. In charge of the program are Norris Langer, William Sydnor and Clyde Parsons, with Bernie Oas, Sanford Davis and Elmer Thompson in general charge.

Polk Hills Receive More Snow; Pull is Taken Out of Road

PIONEER, Feb. 21.—The county is changing the Ellendale road that leads past the Hawkins place, to avoid the steep hill. The road will follow the river bed and there will be no climb. Pioneer still has several inches of snow, the kind that lasts and it is surely hard on the roads. It holds the moisture and doesn't give the roads a chance to drain.

ZENA, Feb. 21.—The hills west of Brush College and Zena were covered with a blanket of snow Saturday although none has been reported in the valley.

H.E. MEETS TODAY. SILVERTON HILLS, Feb. 22.—The Home Economics club of the Silverton Hills grange will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. Milton Knauf with Lois and Fern Alexander as assistant hostesses. The meeting will be an all-day affair and the group will sew.

He was 69 years of age, and his only living relative is a half-brother, E. H. Deltz, of Salem. Services were held at the Wedde chapel here Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., with W. H. Lyman officiating, and interment was in the Aumsville cemetery.

ENTERS POULTRY GAME. KEIZER, Feb. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jonas and children, Guy and Eloise, have located on the Rynhart chicken ranch in Keizer. They have been living in South Salem, having formerly resided in Spokane. Mr. Jonas is employed at the paper mill but will raise poultry as a sideline.

Hubbard Students Present Program For Townspeople

HUBBARD, Feb. 22.—The anniversary of George Washington was celebrated Tuesday night when the school gave a varied program at the city auditorium before a large audience. Mrs. Lottie Fry arranged the program, which featured George and Martha Washington in the modern world. George Washington was impersonated by Gordon Boje and Martha Washington by Ruth Jungnickel. Kenneth Dart directed the playlet.

The song, "Put Up the Shovel and the Hoe" by a group of negroes directed by Mrs. Fry received the biggest hand. The minute by eight high school girls in pastel gowns was lovely. The glee club sang several songs and the band gave several numbers.

Patriotic Program Given For School; Teachers Relected

ORCHARD HEIGHTS, Feb. 22.—The memory of George Washington was honored in song and story Friday night at the monthly P. T. A. meeting. A delightful playlet was given in which Dorothy Southwick and Dorothy Rainbolt, garbed in colonial costumes of George and Martha Washington stepped from their picture frames into the home of a modern George and Martha. (Lawrence Simmons and Ora McDowell) and enjoyed for a time the wonders of our electrical age.

They are having a contest on their club work, those finishing their work first are to be entertained by the losers. Marybelle Adams and Leta Howe were chosen captains.

Band at Silverton Talks Step-up But Equipment Hinders

SILVERTON, Feb. 21.—The Silverton band members were discussing the matter of stepping up to Class A in band competition.

The Silverton school enrollment entitles the band to play in C grade. They stepped up to B last year and were successful. The only detriment is the present equipment of the Silverton band, which in some sections is wholly inadequate and the instruments obsolete. Two eminent bandmasters visited the Silverton class recently and after hearing the boys play, expressed their opinion that Silverton should be represented in Class A this year. This opinion is shared by one of last year's judges, Hal Campbell is director of the band.
