Miss Helen Charlotte High Becomes Bride In Colorful Ceremony at A. B. Evans Home

Nuptials of Miss High and Mr. Pierce Followed by Extended Wedding Trip to Hawaiian Islands

MISS HELEN CHARLOTTE HIGH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carlton of Eugene, became the bride of Archie Carlton Pierce, son of Mrs. Laura Pierce of Medford, at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in a colorful wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Evans.

Rev. G. V. Fallis of Portland read the ceremony before an improvised altar of palms and ferns. Back of the bridal party burned pink and white tapers in many pointed candleholders.

Preceding the ceremony Don Eva, of Eugene, sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning" accompanied by John Stark Evans of Eugene. As the bridal party took its place Mr. Evans played softly a processional march.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white satin, made with high waist line and smart puffed sleeves. The skirt swept the floor and a train of imported French lace was an accentuating loveliness. The train fell from the cap shaped veil which circled the bride's head. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, gift of the groom, and her flowers, carried as a shower bouquet, were roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Edith Ayer of Eugene was maid of honor. Her gown was of pink organdie, the quaint beauty of which was accentuated with a wide pink ribbon sash for the high waist line. Her flowers were arranged in an arm bouquet and included roses, daffodils, and sweet peas.

A charming little Lord Fontleury and his maid carried the train of the bride. Master Kenneth Bratney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bratney of Portland, was Lord Fontleury, and small Barbara Culbertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Culbertson of Medford, was his maid. Miss Barbara wore a frock of frilly yellow.

Small Shirley Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coates of Cathlamet, Wash., was the flower girl. Her ruffled frock was of pink. Daisy Little Laura Lee Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thomas, was ring bearer.

Mr. Pierce chose as his best man Walter Smith of Medford. Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the Evans home in which about 50 guests greeted Mr. and Mrs. Pierce. Mrs. Melvin Coates and Mrs. Cecil Evans presided at the service table. Mrs. Pierce cut the wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce left by airplane for San Francisco today. Mrs. Pierce will wear for her traveling ensemble a suit of dark blue with accessories to match and a white fox fur.

From San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will travel to the Hawaiian Islands for an extended wedding trip. They will leave San Francisco on the S. S. Monterey.

Mrs. Pierce, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Evans, attended the University of Oregon, graduated from Southern Oregon Normal school, and for the past four years has been teaching. Mr. Pierce attended Oregon State college and has for the past several years been in transportation activities, as head of the Pierce Auto Freight company. He made his home in Portland where he is a member of the Multnomah Athletic club and active in civic affairs.

Mrs. Robey Ratcliffe spent two days in Portland this week.

Smart Affair for Charity is Sponsored by Maids of Rainbow

AN unusually smart affair of the weekend was the benefit bridge for which the Order of Rainbow for Girls was hostess in the Masonic temple social room Saturday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Fick was in general charge of the affair and was assisted by a bevy of popular young maids of the order. Spring flowers in gay arrangement added to the pretty effect of the afternoon frocks of the large number of maids and matrons who gathered for this charity event. Funds derived are being used for a worthy charity activity in which the order is interested.

At the ten hour Miss Marie Patton and Dalbert Jepsen each contributed lovely musical numbers. Mrs. David Wright and Mrs. Pearl Pratt presided at the prettily appointed tea table.

Those playing for the afternoon included: Miss Helen Purvine, Miss Julia Johnson, Miss Eleanor Trindle, Miss Ruth Yocum, Miss Edna Savage, Miss Joan McKinstry, Miss Irma Oskier, Miss Margery Blesing, Miss Frances Ellis, Miss Charlotte McCloy, Miss Martha Sprague, Miss Betty Smith, Miss Dorothy Dale, Miss Virginia Gallagher, Miss Roberta Mills, Miss Isabel Morehouse, Miss Est Gallagher, Miss Molly Gallagher, Miss Margaret Purvine, Miss Josephine Koryer, Miss Betty Baker, Miss Laneta Hollinger, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Elsie Wright, Miss Margaret Stans, Miss Eleanor Steiner, Miss Hettie Kriekenbaum, Miss Emmeline Ludi, Miss Alice Oray Brown, Miss Leta Belle Taylor, Miss Isabel Robertson, Miss Billie Gupper, Miss Margaret Burdette, Miss Peggy Wagstaff, Miss Dorothy Moore, Miss Gladis Buntin, Miss Evelyn Kerr, Miss Esther Gibbard, Miss Dorothy Alexander, Miss Marjorie Knox, Miss Lucille Hansen, Miss Pauline Drager, Miss Frances Paris, Miss Harriett Sumner, Miss Wilma Cooney, Miss Joyce Abee, Miss Marjorie Humphreys, Miss Catherine Hendrick, Miss Ruth Fick.

Symphony to Give Concert Thursday

IT is hardly possible to determine the vast interest which is being felt in Salem concerning the Thursday night symphony program being offered by Jacques Gerskovitch and his young musicians under the sponsorship of the Salem Philharmonic orchestra association.

This program will be the first time that the orchestra attempted really music that comes under the head of pure symphony production. The rehearsal of Thursday night indicated the program to be presented will be truly brilliant.

In addition to the splendid offering of the orchestra, the well known baritone, Mark Dainela of Portland, will be guest soloist. His accompanist, David Campbell of Portland, is also well known both as an accompanist and as a concert musician.

The offerings of Mr. Daniels and Mr. Campbell will be a brilliant and highly artistic contribution to the symphony program.

Week in Review Shows Variety of Spring Flower Garden; Week Ahead Intriguing

Enthusiasm of Inaugural Weekend Seems to Have Permeated Spirit Of Capital City Society

A delightful week of many interests has passed into the background with this weekend and opens the way for a similar week just ahead. The legislative group continue to inspire hosts and hostesses of Salem. Informal dinners, buffet suppers, luncheons and visiting matrons asked as special guests for card club afternoons have given variety to the visitors strenuous attention to law-making.

Miss Dorothy White and Miss Maxine Myers, both brides elect, have been feted with charming affairs, both formal and informal, and they continue to dominate plans for this week ahead. Plans for afternoon and evenings are being arranged with a large party Monday night by a group of young maids in compliment to Miss Myers and a tea for which Miss Zora Farnsworth will be hostess Monday afternoon in compliment to Miss White leading the way.

Miss White has had a busy weekend in Portland as the guest of two of her bridesmaids, Miss Florence White and Miss Lucy Elden, both of whom entertained for her.

A third bride elect to be made known this past week is Miss Rita Claggett whose coming marriage to George R. Goodrich of Camas, Wash., was announced.

The weekend has been crowded. The inaugural ceremonies as broadcast over the radio gathered many small groups together to listen to that great pageant taking place in Washington D. C. The reality created was so complete that the listening audience could even see the violets carried by the First Lady, and could see the many beautiful gowns worn by the many distinguished women whose names were called as they were described.

For college people this excitement was quiet in comparison to the whirl of excitement and thrills which came associated with the traditional Willamette university "Freshmen Glee". A large tea at the home of Mrs. Otto Paulus was the outstanding social feature of the afternoon hours and the class parties and alumnae party following the "Glee" competition were outstanding college affairs. A large number of out-of-town people were present for the weekend activities.

And maids of the city gathered many strong in the Masonic temple for the charity benefit for which the Order of Rainbow were hostesses Saturday afternoon. A busy week full of variety and consideration for this week. Each year this week is observed by talks before organizations by women of the club, a president's breakfast, public relations dinner and reception at Lausanne hall. This year a benefit card party will add to the interest of the week's celebration. The funds from this will be given over to the Y. W. C. A. The benefit is to be given Friday evening in Masonic temple. Mrs. Winifred Herrick has charge of general arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davidson entertained at their country home Friday night in compliment to Miss Irene Mundt whose marriage to Frederick Eckenroth of Gervais will be an event of April. Many gifts were received by the bride-elect in the shower which was a feature of the evening.
