BARRY BRINGS 13 HOOPSTERS

Starting Lineup Selected; Staters Working; Games Friday, Saturday

LOS ANGELES, March 7. — (AP)—Thirteen members of the University of Southern California basketball quintet left tonight for Corvallis, Ore., where they meet the Oregon State game five this week end in a series of games for the Pacific Coast conference championship.

Captain Justin "Sam" Barry has carried 13 players on every trip this season and believes the lucky number will take the Trojans to victory over the champions of the northern division. Southern California lost only one game—that to California—to win the southern division honors.

These players north were Jerry Nemer, Sax Elliott, Bob Erskine, Ernie Hopbrook, Ward Browning and Hop Finley, forwards; Lee Guttero and Vic Foss, centers, and Julius Besco, Joe Kelly, Nate Halpern, Clarence Anderson and Bob Fuhrer, guards. The starting lineup will be composed of Nemer and Elliott, forwards; Guttero, center, and Besco and Kelly, guards.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, March 7.—Oregon State college basketball players, champions of the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference, returned to Corvallis this afternoon for the coast championship series here this week end with the University of Southern California Trojans, champions of the southern division. The games will be played in the men's gymnasium here Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 o'clock. If a third game is necessary to decide the championship it will be played the following Monday night.

Southern California won the championship of the southern division February 18 when the Trojans upset University of California by the score of 28 to 27. It was the third win for the Trojans over the California Bears this season and the needed victory to clinch the championship. The Trojans won 10 out of 11 conference games this season.

Oregon State captured northern division honors last week end when the Orangemen downed their traditional rivals, University of Oregon Webfoots, 32 to 27. The Orangemen finished their northern division schedule with two wins and four losses. They made a clean sweep of the four-game series with University of Oregon; won three out of four games from both Washington and Idaho and split a four-game series with Washington State college.

Reservations for the series this week end may be made by applying to Carl Lodell, graduate manager here. Reserved seats for each game are $1. General admission is 75 cents.

Lyness Also Bests Reed; Going Rough

Any hopes the wrestling fans had of deciding whether Robb Reed is really a better wrestler than Henry Jones, were blasted when Ray Lyness, of the Vancouver, Wash., middleweight, defeated Reed as he had four times won from Jones. Reed partisans however, claimed Lyness had a harder time going in beating their favorite, and pointed out that in the deciding round, Reed had Lyness down, but the fall wasn't allowed because one arm was outside the ropes.

It wasn't the clean match that some fans had anticipated. Early in the game Lyness did some expert flesh-pulling and Reed retaliated with some ear-twisting and then the trouble started. Reed won the first fall after 20 minutes, 35 seconds of fast action, with a series of whip wristlocks and a body press. Lyness won the second in 11:30 with an arm bar and the third in 14 with a short arm bar and body press. Mutt Eddy defeated Bob Anderson in the one-hour bout which also had its rough moments. Eddy took the first fall in 15 flat with a Boston crab, and the third in 5:20 with a body slam. Anderson won the second in 7:10 with a body press.

Marx to Enter Tourney, Maybe

SILVERTON, March 7.—Ted Marx, Silvertown basketball star who was missed from the Friday night game with Salem, is able to be about again after a siege with infection which kept him at the Silvertown hospital for several days. It is believed that he will be able to play with the team at the district tournament.

AMERICAN TENNIS 4 SWEEPS SERIES

NEW YORK, March 7.—(AP).—With the loss of only two sets, the United States today made a clean sweep of an international tennis series with Great Britain's touring team, winning four singles and two doubles matches on the indoor courts of the Brooklyn Heights casino.

Manuel Alonso, veteran Spaniard playing for his adopted country, dropped the only set in the four singles matches as Sidney B. Wood, Jr., fourth ranking American, Frank Shields, ranked No. 5, and Gregory Mangin, national indoor champion, paraded through their contests in straight sets. Shields and Alonso lost the first set of their doubles match but Mangin and Wood had little trouble completing the American sweep with a two-set victory.

CITY HOOPERS REACH FINALS

Athenians and Parker's to Vie for Title; Speedy Games are Played

Parker's and the Athenians won their way to the finals of the city independent basketball tournament Tuesday and will meet in the final game for the city championship Saturday night at 8:45 in the Y. M. C. A. floor.

The Athenians in the afternoon defeated the Dough Boys of Cherry City Baking company 39 to 19, with "Foot" Gibson in the chief scoring role, garnering 12 counters.

Tuesday night the two sporting goods teams collided and Parker's won over Cadwell's Wranglers, 46 to 20, Burrell leading the net-sweepers with 12 points. Faculty defeated the Presbyterians in one consolation game, 38 to 25, and Yew Park nosed out Kay Woolen Mills in another, 30 to 28. Hawk of Faculty scored 22 points. Bone of Kay Mills was high point man in the other game.

Faculty Hoopsters Alibi In Advance of Game With Parrish Cagemen Tonight

An epidemic of injuries has struck the Faculty basketball team on the eve of its crucial game tonight with Parrish junior high, and the pedagogues were looking up rule books last night to determine whether stretcher bearers would be allowed to carry them around the court.

After having already defeated Lebanon by a close score for the official Linn county A league championship, Albany high won out in the county basketball tournament sponsored by Albany college last week end, and will be here for the district tourney Friday. Silvertown, Gates and Tangent are the other entries. Silvertown hasn't played Albany, as far as we recall, but had rather an easy time with Lebanon, so Silvertown will be the favorite to capture the honors here Saturday night.

In connection with our suggestion the other day that high school basketball teams coached by Willamette grads could put on a fast tournament if they could be gotten together, it should be mentioned that one Bearcat-coached team, possibly two, will be here for the state tournament, but they won't meet unless they reach the finals.

The team that is sure to come is West Linn, coached by John Paul Brown, '21. Brown didn't play basketball in college, but was a highly efficient guard and tackle on the football team and catcher in baseball season. A deadly serious, hard worker, fiery in a game, and a close student of all sports. He coached at Grants Pass for a while, then followed Rein Jackson, another Bearcat, at West Linn.

West Linn has never come to the tournament, though while Jackson coached there it turned out exceptional teams. Its misfortune was to be in the same district with Salem. Each year there was a hectic struggle between West Linn and Salem, but Salem always nosed out ahead. Brown's teams have been threats, but didn't quite make it until this year. Two or three factors have contributed to his success; one is his habit of giving a lot of attention to his "B" team, building for the future; another is careful attention to fundamentals, resulting in the unique record that in the last two seasons no West Linn player has left the floor with four personal fouls. Another is Brown's own strategy. This year Oregon City had defeated his team twice, but in the tournament, he uncovered a new style of play that his boys had been practicing in secret all season, and won out.

The other Bearcat-coached team likely to come to the tourney is Tillamook, from district 13, which is having its decisive series, but not exactly a triumphant one this week. McMinnville, Newberg, Gaston, Nehalem and Hillsboro are in the race.

Check off Lincoln, Benson and Eugene high as coming, and make the present score 7 to 2 for our side.

HAGEN'S CAMPAIGN ENDS THIS SEASON

CHICAGO, March 7.—(AP)—Maybe the lure of the touring, admiring galleries will make the famous showman of the fairways change his mind, but Walter Hagen plans to retire from all active competition after his 1933 golf engagements here and abroad.

His plan, revealed today by a reliable source, is to wage a serious campaign to recover his major titles on both sides of the Atlantic, captain America's Ryder cup team to victory in England, and then retire to the business of designing golf clubs and equipment.

Although "The Hag" has been one of the big money winners of the current winter campaign, with his total earnings placed at around $2000, he is 40 years old and anxious to say goodbye to active big time golf while he's still regarded as one of the truly great shotmakers. Moreover, his connection with a golf club manufacturing house is demanding more and more of his time.

And a new niche was carved in the history of the game recently by Cecil Dillon of the Rangers, when he made four tallies in one game, thereby tying a feat that was performed only once before. That one was when Frank Fredrickson, then with the Bruins, banged four over and in, several years ago.

ED LEWIS BREAKS SCORING RECORDS

Portland Club's Permit to Keep Park is Delayed

PORTLAND, March 7.—(AP)—The permission sought by the Portland Baseball club to use the Vaughn street park for games during the coming season was delayed again in the city council chamber today.

An ordinance with an emergency clause, which required unanimous council action, was presented to allow them use of a vacant street that runs through the ball grounds. Commissioner A. L. Barbur objected.

Further action will be taken next week.

ABE ISRAEL BEATS PORTLAND NOVICE

PORTLAND, Ore., March 7.—(AP)—Abe Israel, 125, Seattle, punched his way to an easy six-round decision over Whitley Neal, 127, Portland, in the main event of a boxing show at the auditorium tonight. Neal fighting his first battle as a main-eventer could not cope with the speed of the flashy Jewish boxer.

Doer Snell, 135, Seattle, and Al Rossberg, 131, Great Falls, Mont., battled six rounds to a draw in the semi-final. Snell led going into the final round but hit the floor once under Rossberg's hard punching.

Louis Nelson, 133, Portland, defeated Ross Gillis, 130, Manilla, in the six-round special. Sig Eklund, 147, Portland, beat Dave Humes, 147, Portland, in another six rounds. Tiger Cody, 132, Great Falls, scored a technical knockout over Bobby Ambrose of Salem, Ore., in the second of a four round bout, and Jack Henderson, 140, Scotland, kayped Buddy McLeod, 144, Portland, in the initial round of the opener.

Duck Squad Has Light Workouts In Sunny South

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 7.—(AP)—The Portland Beavers went through a light session here today for their second workout of the spring training season.

The Beavers were advised they will lose the services of two newcomers, Frank Compton, outfielder, and William McCarthy, both from Pennsylvania. Compton wired Vice-President Roy Mack that he fell off the train in Omaha while en route to California, and suffered a possible fractured shoulder.

McCarthy is definitely lost for the season, and may possibly be out of baseball for life because of an accident while hunting. McCarthy accidentally shot himself in the forearm, inflicting a serious wound.

Scoring Stars of Hockey

By BURNLEY

"BALDY" NORTHCOTT HAS BEEN THE MOST SENSATIONAL SCORER IN THE N.H.L. THIS YEAR.

Paul THOMPSON
CHICAGO STAR WHO HAS BEEN SCORCHING THE SCORING LANES

CECIL DILLON
of the Rangers. SCORED FOUR GOALS IN ONE GAME RECENTLY-tying the record of the Bruins, WHO HAS SCORED MORE THAN 200 GOALS IN HIS EIGHT YEARS OF BIG LEAGUE HOCKEY.

NELS STEWART

EASILY the most sensational scorer of the glorious game of hockey this year is Laurence (Baldy) Northcott of the Montreal Maroons, who has piled up enough tallies to keep him among the cream of the league's high scorers and an ever-present threat to the unbeatable brothers Cook.

The explanation for Northcott's sudden rise from the ranks is simple. Always a fast one with the stick and an eagle-eyed flash when it came to putting the puck where it rang the bell, Northcott never had a chance to roll up points until given the chance to play often enough to make a showing.

For something like three seasons Northcott kept the bench warm and his heels cool, while Stewart and Siebert and Smith were out there shooting them in. You can't make goals from that position, no matter how good you are. But this season

Northcott was given a chance to do a little playing and he did plenty. Bill Cook calls him one of the most dangerous shots in the league, and Cook ought to know.

Another puck player who has been twisting them into the net persistently is Paul Thompson of the Chicago Black Hawks. This great big bear has shot the puck into the net more than 200 times in eight years of playing around on the ice with the other boys. Next going one might say. Only Bill Cook and Howie Morenz of the Canadians equal that total, and they have been playing much longer than Nels.

And a new niche was carved in the history of the game recently by Cecil Dillon of the Rangers, when he made four tallies in one game, thereby tying a feat that was performed only once before. That one was when Frank Fredrickson, then with the Bruins, banged four over and in, several years ago.
