

HOUSES ARE MOVED NEAR BRIDGE CURVE

JEFFERSON, March 10—In order to eliminate the curve on the highway to the approach of the new bridge across the Santiam river here, the houses of Mrs. Minnie Banks, Joe Goin and H. E. Jones were ordered moved by the state. The Banks house has been moved to the back end of the lot.

The Joe Goin house was just turned half way around, to make room for the highway. Clarence Harris and Orville Harris moved the Goin house. Mr. Goin will make a number of improvements on his house, by adding two new porches, also a bath room and will shingle the roof and outside walls of the building.

Clarence Harris, who is working on the Joe Goin house, ran a nail in his foot Tuesday; and on Wednesday he had the misfortune to smash one of his fingers. He kept on working.

Mrs. J. O. VanWinkle received word from the railroad hospital in San Francisco, that Dr. J. O. VanWinkle was operated on for hernia Saturday morning, and that he is making satisfactory recovery.

LA SWANSON HIT BY DEPRESSION

GLORIA SWANSON and HUSBAND (Inset) BABY BRIDGET

The poverty that has been pinching everyone else hasn't missed Gloria Swanson, one of the most popular of the screen stars, according to reports going the rounds in Hollywood, where the gossip is saying that Gloria and her hubby, Michael Farmer, found themselves so broke in Paris that they were obliged to wire to Miss Swanson's studio for funds enabling them to return home. Hard luck has persistently haunted Miss Swanson for several months. The last blow of Fate was the collapse of a plan to make a picture in Europe. In the last few years, Gloria has made millions, her five most recent pictures alone netting her a cool $850,000. But it was reported that the crash of the stock market took most of her savings. First knowledge of Gloria's financial difficulties came when sheriff's stripped her Hollywood mansion of $50,000 worth of ornaments last September. And only recently the U. S. Government filed a tax lien on the star for $49,426—the amount said to be due Uncle Sam on her 1931 income. Although Michael Farmer, who married the star in 1931, was reputed to be a millionaire, the truth is that he is not wealthy. Some years ago Farmer was legally adopted by Mrs. Hubbard, a wealthy American widow whom he met in Paris. It was believed that Mrs. Hubbard had died and left Farmer her wealth, but Mrs. Hubbard is still hale and hearty, despite her great age. The Farmers have one child, Bridget Michael, born in London last year.

SCHOOL FETES HOT LUNCH PROVIDERS

TURNER, March 10—The Turner school student body gave a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday night in appreciation to the 27 women who donated their time during the serving of hot school lunches. Miss Harriett Frederickson, domestic science teacher and the girls league served the dinner.

Mrs. Mary Fulkerson, county school superintendent was an invited guest, and gave a talk on the management of other hot lunch activities in the county. An after dinner discussion followed, with suggested plans for another year. A short musical program was given under the direction of Mrs. Agnes Booth, musical director for the grade school.

The 4-H "Stitch and Chatter" club met Tuesday after school with a special program. A short playlet composed by Lois Gunning was given by Mary Anderson, Nellie Savage and Eleanor Parks. Laverna Whitehead and Rachel Riches discussed the art of hemming a tea towel. Miss Harriett Frederickson, domestic art teacher gave a talk on sewing.

Heart Attack Held Cause of Death of J. Lang, Woodburn

WOODBURN, March 10.—James C. Lang, a resident of Woodburn for several years, passed away at his home sometime Wednesday night, presumably of a heart attack. Neighbors became alarmed when they noticed a light burning all morning and upon investigating, found he had died in his bed. Mr. Lang moved to Woodburn from Kenwick, Wash., and is a member of the Masonic lodge there.

It is not known if there are any relatives living. His wife passed away about four years ago. The body is at Hall's mortuary and funeral arrangements will be made later.
