

SCHOOL ECONOMIES ARE GIVEN AIRING

Gehlhar is Speaker at Red Hills Grange Meeting in Liberty Area

LIBERTY, March 15.—A number of school patrons attended the meeting of the school board on Monday evening. No teachers were hired as yet but the matter of salary cuts and other economies came in for a great deal of discussion. Definite action was postponed until the next meeting.

Mrs. Katherine Schmidt has received word that her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Schmidt of Long Beach, Calif., were hurt in the earthquake. The telegram was two days reaching Salem. John Schmidt went to school here when he was a boy.

Max Gehlhar, state director of agriculture, gave an interesting review of recent legislation as it concerns agriculture at the regular meeting of the Red Hills Grange Tuesday night. Other numbers on the program included vocal solo numbers by Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist and William McGilchrist, a duet by Teddy Gordon and Beverly McGilchrist, an original skit by Dorothy Beckley and Dale Dasch, and solo by P. G. Judd.

Progress is Made in Club Work at Bethel's School

BETHEL, March 15.—Four-H club work progressing well at the school. Members in sewing are finishing the last articles for exhibition. Plans are made for a candy sale to be held in connection with the play which the community club is sponsoring at the end of March. The proceeds of the candy sale are to be used to buy a large framed picture of Lincoln for the schoolroom.

The cooking divisions are taking up more difficult work. Last week plain cakes and sandwiches were made, and this week the bakery division is making baking powder biscuits; the first division, cookies; second division, angel food cake.

PROGRAM BY MEN SETS STIFF PACE

GARDEN CLUB PLANS JUNIOR ORDER, TOO

TURNER, March 15.—Turner men put on their community club program Monday night before a capacity house and received much favorable comment. The leading feature was a mock trial with most of the evening's instrumental music furnished by the Haymakers orchestra, C. S. Clark, John and Morris Baker, L. W. Humphrey, Florence Adams, Roy Myers. A saxophone solo was given by E. Hedger, harmonica music by Baxter Fletcher.

A quartet, Arthur Kunke, Ivan Hadley, Arthur Bestvater and Carl Whipper sang, and also a chorus composed of J. G. McCune and Milton McKinney with the quartet. In an original complimentary song to the Turner women, Waldo Riches gave three short readings.

The mock trial was an original production assembled under the direction of T. W. Smith. The cast included 16 characters: E. J. Gilstrap, Thurlio W. Smith, G. F. Booth, Ted Whitehead, George Brower, S. A. Riches, Carl Booth, H. P. Jensen, D. S. Riches, Leonard Farris, J. R. Cox, Harlan Bones, Henry Ahrens, Fay Webb, L. D. Roberts and J. Harris.

The women will give their program April 10. Judges for the two programs are Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. George Klemson, Mrs. L. W. Robertson and Ernest Robinson.

ST. MARY'S PRACTICE TEACHERS ASSIGNED

MT. ANGEL, March 15.—Teachers of St. Mary's school Monday afternoon went to Mt. Angel academy to meet the senior normals who are going to do practice teaching at St. Mary's.

Teachers were taken through the building by Rev. Alcuin Heibel, rector, and shown the new laboratory and the addition lately added to the library to meet with the requirements of the standardization rules. Sister M. Beatrice, supervisor of the music department, entertained with music and singing in her own inimitable manner. Lunch was served in the normal home room.
