Church Wedding is Brilliantly Observed

Brilliantly solemn in its formal beauty was the nuptial service in St. Paul's Episcopal church Sunday at 6 o'clock when Miss Dorothy Dine White, daughter of Major General and Mrs. George A. White became the bride of George Elmer Emigh, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Emigh, Sr., of Carthage, New York.

The lovely church seated to capacity by the invited guests who came from all over the northwest to pay compliment to the young bride, was undressed in Lenten simplicity, save for the soft shadows which fell from the glow of the many lighted stately cathedral tapers.

Proceeding the service Major George L. Dutton of Portland sang, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Dalton.

Miss White preceded by attendants entered the church on the arm of her father to the soft strains of Lohengrin's stately wedding march played by Mrs. Dalton. Mr. Emigh and his best man, George Castner of Portland, waited at the altar.

The bride and her party made a lovely picture. The bride's gown of ivory satin was beautifully complimented with a bodice and long tight fitting sleeves of rose design lace. About her head caught into shape by a delicate wreath of freesias, was a cap from which fell a sweeping veil of tulle edged with lovely Spanish lace. A gold chain was her only ornament and she carried a white prayer book into which was tucked a lace handkerchief, carried by her mother on her wedding day.

Miss Henriette White, sister of the bride and her maid of honor, wore a chic gown of pink dotted net, made with fitted bodice, skirt full and ruffled at the bottom. A saucy nose veil of blue, and blue accessories together with an arm bouquet of blue iris completed her ensemble.

The bride's maids, Miss Florence White, Miss Lucy Elden, both of Portland, Miss Margaret Drager and Miss Virginia Holt, each wore gowns of blue crepe, made similar to that of the maid of honor. Their nose veils were of pink and their flowers were pink snapdragons.

Mrs. George A. White was beautifully distinguished in a gown of pale pink brocaded satin and hat of same material. Mrs. G. H. Emigh, Sr., wore a smart gown of black lace.

Ushers included Clarence Hamilton and Tommy Livesley of Salem, and Kenneth Donelson of Portland, and Emmett Huffman of Ontario.

Following the ceremony the bridal party of Major General and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. George Emigh, Jr., and Mrs. G. E. Emigh, Sr., received in a beautifully formal reception at the White residence.

Lenten season was suggested in the beautiful formal simplicity of white used for decorative notes in flowers and tapers.

Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, Mrs. Fletcher Linn, and Mrs. Jefferson Myers of Portland, and Mrs. James Humphreys of Salem alternated at the service table. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Wallace Carson, Mrs. Gordon Bennett of Albany, Mrs. Edwin Jack and Miss Edith Kelly, both of Portland, Miss Kate Corey, Miss Margaret Corey, Miss Kay Laughridge, Miss Josephine McGilchrist, Miss Josephine Cornoyer, Miss Zora Farnsworth, Miss Myra Belt, Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., and Mrs. Frank Shafer.

Mr. and Mrs. Emigh left by motor Sunday night for a brief wedding trip. They will be at home in Burns after April 1.

Mrs. Emigh wore for traveling a smart grey suit with a turban of grey and grey accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Emigh attended Oregon State college, where Mrs. Emigh was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and Mr. Emigh was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. Mrs. Emigh has been a popular member of Salem's younger crowd and also of army circles of the state.

Mrs. Milton Meyers and Mrs. H. H. Olinger were additional guests for the attractive luncheon for which Mrs. Frank Snedcor was hostess in compliment to her contract card club at her home Monday. Cards were enjoyed following the luncheon hour.

Miss Alice Ingalls of Corvallis was in Salem Sunday to attend the wedding of Mrs. George Emigh, Jr., nee Dorothy White.

Mrs. F. G. Delano is confined to her home because of an injury to her knee which was first reported as broken.
