MOORE WILL CASE IS BACK IN COURT

Demand Made That $40,000 Be Turned Over to the Circuit Court Here

Demand that more than $40,000 held for the heirs of the late George J. Moore be paid over to the circuit court here for trust keeping, was made in court Thursday by attorneys for Grace Rebecca Taylor, Clara Holton Lewis and Alice Holton Daffy, three nieces of the deceased, who have been awarded the net proceeds of his estate. The petition claims that John Edward Barry, who was formerly executor of the estate, is responsible for paying over the funds in his possession since he has been found, upon appeal to the state supreme court, not to be duly appointed trustee. Counsel for the heirs also alleges that $2500 paid a Portland law firm as attorneys for Barry is far too large, $1000 being adequate for their services. The petition further calls attention to a suit on file in Clackamas county whereby Nettie D. Matlock is suing to recover $60,000 for services alleged to have been rendered the late George J. Moore. The petition says that if judgment is rendered in this case it will be against George J. Moore individually and not against the present trust fund and that this case should not interfere with paying over the trust fund as asked.

Accused of Assault—R. M. Poppe pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon the person of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Leo Poppe, and the case will come up in justice court this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Poppe was unable to pay $50 bail and is in jail. Complaint was made by Leo Poppe.

MATTIE PARRISH, 83 DIES HERE THURSDAY

Pioneer of '65 Teacher in Schools, Sacred Heart Academy Graduate

Mattie A. Parrish, 83, died here early yesterday morning at the residence, 1559 Market street. She was born October 19, 1849, near LaPorte, Ind., the daughter of Caleb and Rebecca Hilt.

At the age of five years she went to Des Moines, Ia., with her parents, where the family lived for 10 years. They left Iowa with an emigrant train in the spring of 1855, going in a round-about way and arriving in Portland three months later.

The family settled on a farm joining the old Methodist mission site on Mission Bottom. Miss Hilt taught school for 15 years in Oregon public schools and for one year at a college in Olympia, Wash. She was a graduate of the Sacred Heart academy in 1870 when it was located at the corner of Church and Chemeketa streets, and was the oldest living graduate.

She was married in 1882 to Joseph Owen Pierce and one child was born to the couple before Mr. Pierce's death in 1886. She was married August 6, 1888, to Rev. J. L. Parrish, who died May 30, 1895. Mrs. Parrish had always taken an active interest in social, civic and political affairs.

She is survived by her only child, L. M. Pierce of Salem; two step-daughters, Mrs. Josephine Stewart of Eugene and Mrs. Grace Stevens of Salem; two nephews, Mal Hilt of Forest Grove and Mrs. Clara Hale of Portland.

Graveside services will be held at Forest Grove Saturday afternoon. Interment will be in the family plot on David's hill near Forest Grove, by the side of her first husband.

Representatives from the chapters of Daleth Teth Gimel, women's social organization on the campuses of Washington State college and University of Idaho will meet with members of the Willamette University chapter this week end in annual convention.

Advant of real sunshine has sent several hundred men to work in hop yards in the Salem and Independence sections. Hop men making the rounds yesterday found crews of 15 men or more working in each of the following yards:

At Independence, Thacker, Gilbert, Horst, Lachmund, Dean Walker, Titus, Cooper, Donald McCarty, Walker and Son; at Roberts, Johnnie Roberts; at Dayton, Rosa Wood, yard.

About 300 men were working in these 11 yards. Early next week, or possibly Saturday, Corroyer and Durbin will put a crew of 30 men to work in their Mitoma yards.

CHURCH CELEBRATES BUILDING BIRTHDAY

Celebrating the 10th anniversary of the first service in the present church building, St. Paul's Episcopal church has prepared special services for Sunday. Rev. H. D. Chambers, who was rector during the building of the church, will be present.

Rev. Chambers, and F. G. Deckebach and Rollin K. Page, members of the building committee, will give short addresses. The third member of the building committee was the late Russell Catlin.

Special music has also been arranged for the 11 o'clock service, which is in charge of Rev. George H. Swift, rector. The church is located at Church and Chemeketa streets.

The present parish house, formerly the church building, is said to be the oldest public building standing in Salem.

The Rainbow girls will be special guests at St. Paul's church at this 11 o'clock service.

FUTURE CRAFTSMEN ATTEND CONVENTION

Forty members of the Future Craftsmen classes at Salem High school left for Portland yesterday to attend the third annual state convention for Smith-Hughes students. They were accompanied by T. T. Mackenzie, vocational director. Ten or more high schools were expected to be represented.
