Of Near Silverton
Called to Beyond

SILVERTON, April 13.—George B. Yerger, 70, died at his home on the Abiqua river on the Mt. Angel road Thursday afternoon.

Funeral arrangements, which are in charge of Ekman, have not been completed. Mr. Yerger came to Silverton seven years ago from Pottstown, Pa., where he was born. He was still a member of the Pottstown Knights of Pythias lodge No. 429 at his death. His widow, Vesta, is his only survivor.

EXTENSIVE EXAMS
OFFERED AT W. U.

"Comprehensive examinations" are being given to seniors at Willamette university this year for the first time in the school's history. The especially named test is designed to cover the major subject the student has studied during his four years in the university, and also to include fields related to the major study. The examinations last at least three hours and are reported by students to be "difficult."

The new type of examination is given in addition to senior "orals" which were begun a number of years ago at the school here. The last-named type of exam deals with the specific major study the student has pursued. Several professors put

BE HELD SATURDAY

Students from eight schools in Marion county will be in Salem Saturday morning to participate in the county typing and bookkeeping contest to be held here starting at 9:30 o'clock.

Typing teams will be composed of two first and two second year students from each school. Results of this contest will have no bearing on entrance in the state competition at Corvallis April 29, except that each teacher will have better indication of whom to enter in the state contest.

Schools in the county are divided into A and B divisions, with Salem, Silverton and Woodburn included in the A group and the remainder of the schools in class

B. A. cup, presented by the Capital Business college will be given to the winner in each division. A new trophy was set up this year in the lower group, since Mill City won the old one last year for the third straight time, thereby gaining its permanent possession. Only first year students participate in the bookkeeping contest, three contestants comprising the team from each school.

Live to Learn...

we've heard said. Which reminds us that just twenty years ago this morning we entered the biggest Business in the world, the food business, and we'd like very much to do a little Bragging about what we've learned in those twenty years, and we would too only for the fact that we dont know half as much about the business now as we did that April morning twenty years ago. It seemed we had the world at our feet, which by the way didn't turn out to be entirely wrong because we're still on em (on our feet we mean). However we do feel that we'd be justified in bragging about the fact that we still have as customers many people that were our customers then, which we assure you is one of the bright lights of those twenty years.

BIG BOUTS' DATING SEEN AS RING WAR

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—A couple of months of jockeying for position in the early summer heavyweight derby came to an end here as Madison Square Garden grabbed June 29 for Jack Sharkey's defense against Primo Carnera and created one of the most unusual situations in modern ring history.

That date is exactly 21 days after Jack Dempsey proposed to pit Max Baer, of California, against Max Schmeling, former champion, in the Yankee stadium, and marks the first time in years two rival promoters have warred to the extent of scheduling two major heavyweight shows within so short a time.

The New York state athletic commission, with only Chairman John J. Phelan in personal attendance, accepted Jimmy Johnston's request on behalf of the Garden for the June 29 date today. Rain kept Commissioners Wear and Muldoon at home, but the aged Muldoon quickly assented when reached by telephone.

Last week, after three hours debate, the commission approved Dempsey's request to switch from June 1 to June 2.

The commission at that time decreed that the rival promoters "wouldn't be allowed to cut each other's throats" and mustn't stage their feature matches within 30 days of each other.

Yakima Netted Gem Potatoes

Potato prices are advancing almost daily and we consider we're fortunate in having such a liberal supply on hand at this time. We're featuring a good quality nicely graded potato in 50 lb. sack to sell at

49c per sack

also is an item of much interest to those doing their own baking as there doesn't seem to be any doubt about the price advancing still further. We are still selling two brands of very high quality flour, at the season's low price notwithstanding the advances already in effect by the millers.

Easter Hams

While its smart to always consider price its just as smart to Base the price upon quality rather than price per lb. You'll find just the size ham to suite you here at the Market. They're Armour's Star and we believe they're justly entitled to the reputation of being one of the finest and best flavored hams to be found anywhere. While 18c per lb is not Exactly like finding them we do consider it Very reasonable for the quality.
