H. MARTIN DENIES SALES TAX STAND

Woman Representative Says She Merely Explained Measure for Voters

Mrs. Hannah Martin, member of the Marion county legislative delegation, said yesterday that she had not taken a stand for the general sales tax as was indicated in a newspaper article reporting a talk she gave regarding the tax measure to come before the voters July 21.

"My purpose in speaking on the proposal sales tax was solely one of exposition," she said. "I wanted voters, to whom the entire sales tax matter has been referred, to know as many facts as possible concerning the state's need for a property tax or for the alternative plan of a general sales tax. I did not commit myself in this outline of the state's tax problem to a sales tax."

Mrs. Martin pointed out that her legislative stand was for a selective sales tax on luxuries and that she was the author of a bill providing for such a tax. She stated that such a tax was vastly preferable either to a general sales tax or to the restoration of the state tax on real property.

Turner, April 14—The capacity of the Turner high school auditorium was taxed Thursday night, when Hayesville, Aumsville and Fruitland community clubs put on their competing drama plays, in the county contest. The judges awarded first place to Hayesville. Mrs. W. F. Hughey, announced their three act play, "The Littlest Bridesmaid."

The winning cast was Mrs. Hans Paulson, John Nickedy, Hans Paulson, Mrs. S. Rogers, Jacqueline Hughey, Glenn Savage, Mrs. Elsie Frey, Frank Marshall, Mrs. N. Paul, Ethel Christofferson, Oscar Narn, Frank Fitts, Adella Frey, Harold Anderson.

Aumsville's act play was put on by Mrs. T. C. Mountain, Miss Gladys Burgess, Sam Wiess, Wayne Ransom, Louise Highberger, Virgie Bradley, Mrs. Virgie Bradley, Mrs. Mabel Kullander.

"You Can't", a short one act number was put on by Fruitland club. Turner talent furnished entertainment between acts. Mrs. Mary McKinney and Helen Witzel gave a vocal duet, piano solo, Betty Peetz, a guitar duet with southern melodies, Mrs. Ivan Hadley and Mrs. J. R. Cox, trio Edna Turner, Anne Johnson, Helen Witzel, with piano accompaniment by Miss Harriet Frederickson.

E. L. Moor, president of Marion county Federated clubs gave a short talk.

Warm Days Bring Great Activity in Beaverdam Area as Onions Seeded

LAKE LABISH, April 14—Another season has rolled around and the onion kings are busily engaged in plowing, discing, floating, and planting the prepared beaverdam. The weather has been unfavorable for planting until recently. Onion seed, according to the local theory, must have warm weather to germinate and sprout, though some few hold to a belief in the influence of certain moon-phases.

There are a number of power planters in the community. These machines plant three rows at a time, and are scientifically adjusted to drop the seeds at the exact intervals desired. There remain, too, a number of the smaller planters which plant only one row at a time. All types of planters carry tanks of formaldehyde which is sprayed in with the onion seed, to prevent smut.

The most popular fertilizers, advocated by authorities who have made scientific tests, are muriate of potash and super-phosphate. A few also apply a light coating of lime. The fertilizers are all spread from a wagon to which a special distributing machine is attached. The sight is somewhat reminiscent of an old time village waterwagon spraying snow—in place of water. The fertilizers bestow firmness and keeping-qualities upon the onions in addition to stimulating their growth.

Land Price Stiff
Beaverdam is one type of land which seems not to have been affected by the alleged depression. Only two sales of any consequence have been consummated recently and the price was up with the old figure which ranges from $1500 to $2000 or more per acre. The reason for this is two-fold: first, there is a very limited amount of this land in the world and second, onions have little in common with other crops, for the price of onions is but slightly affected by transient economic conditions. In fact, the price is always dependent upon the competition from other centers.

The demand is steady from season to season, unlike the demand for many other commodities, and that the price can go sky-high even in bad depression years was demonstrated convincingly a year ago when onions hit a peak of seven dollars per hundred and virtually all growers averaged from three to five dollars per hundred on their crops. Thus the beaverdam is of unfluctuating price and well worth the amount asked.

Few cars remain from last fall's crop. The price remains at the dollar mark with little activity expected for several days yet. Buyers are reported haggling for several markets, and when and if they are landed it is believed that the majority of the remainder will go. Some sprouting in local bin stock is reported, it being late in the season for keepers.

Hayesville Wins Drama Elimination

TURNER, April 14—The capacity of the Turner high school auditorium was taxed Thursday night, when Hayesville, Aumsville and Fruitland community clubs put on their competing drama plays, in the county contest. The judges awarded first place to Hayesville. Mrs. W. F. Hughey, announced their three act play, "The Littlest Bridesmaid."

E. L. Moor, president of Marion county Federated clubs gave a short talk.

Charities Cases Need Furniture, And Old Clothes

With spring housecleaning time at hand many pieces of old furniture and clothing will be discarded from the homes. Cognizant of this, the Associated Charities is asking any persons who will cooperate to telephone the Charities, and a car will be sent to collect these discarded articles, which will find speedy use among the needy of the city.

At the present time, a family under care of the Charities is urgently in need of a small cook stove, says Mrs. J. H. Ross, secretary of the association.

THEATRE CLOSED BY WAGE DIFFICULTY

Due to wage difficulties between operators and the management of Warner Bros. Capitol theatre here, the showhouse went dark for an indefinite period beginning today. Earl Foster, manager of the theatre, said Friday that workers were unwilling to accept a scale comparable to that paid for similar work in other sections of the coast.

Further negotiations are expected between the theatre management and the workers looking to some mutually satisfactory agreement.

The closing of the theatre does not affect the 9:30 a. m. "egg" matinee scheduled for today. The Lions and the Capitol theatre are cooperating with this treat, on that workers were unwilling to accept a scale comparable to that paid for similar work in other sections of the coast.

ALFRED C. MULLOY SUMMONED BEYOND

HUBBARD, April 14—Alfred C. Mulloy died at the Deaconess hospital in Salem Thursday at 3 p. m. following a major operation for hernia and appendicitis performed Tuesday, April 4. The funeral services will be held at Laurel Sunday afternoon. Interment will be in the Laurel cemetery beside his former wife and baby.

Surviving relatives are his widow, Winnie Kocker Mulloy, and two step-children, Leland and Vera Kocker; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mulloy; one brother, John Mulloy of Laurel; one sister, Mrs. Mary Hawthorne of Hillsboro.

Mr. Mulloy was born at Laurel 44 years ago where he spent nearly all his life. One year ago on April 6 he married Winnie Will Kocker of Hubbard and since then made his home in Hubbard.

PUBLIC SUPPORT OF MALE CHORUS URGED

Concert to be Given Monday Night at Armory for Benefit of Group

Salem townspeople are being urged this weekend to attend the first concert of the season to be given Monday night at 8:30 o'clock at the armory by the Civic Male chorus. The organization composed of 25 local men, aims not only to afford entertainment at concerts here but to be available to represent the community at conventions, at service clubs and other organizations of a civic nature. Monday night's concert is at reasonable prices and all the proceeds will go for the support of the chorus.

An added feature will be the numbers by the Salem Madrigal club to be given at the concert. In addition Emery Stewart Hobson, talented youthful pianist who is now studying under David Campbell, will present a piano number and the chorus male quartet and male octette will sing.

Members of the Madrigal club
