

Salem High Revenged Upon Hubbard With 8 to 1 Victory

FOUR TALLY ON MASON'S SWAT

Sherrill Pitches Well and Red and Black Improves In Field, at Plate

Salem high school's baseball team attained copious revenge upon Hubbard high Friday afternoon on Hubbard's diamond, winning 8 to 1 behind the tight pitching of Sam Sherrill, sophomore who came up from Leslie Junior high this year. Hubbard had won the first game of the series here Thursday, 4 to 2.

There being no tractors dashing around the outfield stopping batted balls, Ellis Mason proved in Friday's game that his Thursday hit should have been a home run. This time, in the seventh inning, the bases were loaded when Mason cracked out a circuit blow to ring up four tallies.

Mason got two more hits and a number of Hollis Huntington's other proteges obtained better results with the willow Friday than they had Thursday, though Bevins, who did the hurting for Hubbard in the second game, was declared to be Coach Silke's best chucker. Bevins issued five free passes, Jimmy Nicholson getting three of them.

The wild luck that dogged Salem's footsteps Thursday continued in effect, to the extent of robbing the red and black of a shut-out. On a play in the seventh inning, with a runner coming in from third, Ramp was about to relay the ball in for what probably would have been a putout, when a Hubbard bat-boy ran out in front of Catcher DeJardin, and Ramp held up his throw to avoid hitting the lad, with the result that the run scored.

CURT COMMENTS

A movement which was started during the state tournament last month and which did not receive much attention at the time because of all-absorbing developments which monopolized the sport pages, is to be discussed again at a meeting of high school principals and coaches at Albany next Monday.

This is a proposal for an interscholastic athletic league to be composed of Salem, Chemawa, Albany, Eugene and Corvallis high schools and any others of comparable size and conveniently situated, which desire membership. McMinnville and Oregon City are possibilities.

PORTLAND LEAGUE OPENER IS SUNDAY

WOODBURN, April 14 — The committee of the American Legion post has announced that the first Portland Valley league baseball game of the season will be played at the Legion park here Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Oregon City will furnish the opposition for the Woodburn team.

Johnny Beck who was with the Pacific Coast league a few years ago will be pitcher for Woodburn again this year, as he was last year when the local club copped the Cascade league pennant.

Norton will be catcher, and H. Saalfeld will probably be on first due to the absence of Kenneth Manning who is attending Willamette university and will no doubt play later in the season.

The present accepted style for foot-racers the world over—running on a straight line, planting one foot directly in front of the other—was borrowed from the American Indian, who probably got that way jogging along a narrow trail.
