

FARRAR GUILTY OF ASSAULT ON RELIEF LEADER

Jury out one hour, Decides Attack was Made Upon Ellis Purvine

Defense Says Scuffle but No Beating; Judge to Sentence Tuesday

A jury out slightly more than one hour returned a verdict of guilty Friday at 3:30 p. m. against Max Farrar, tried in circuit court here on an indictment of assault and battery against S. Ellis Purvine. The latter suffered a stroke two days after the alleged attack and was unable to appear at the trial.

Judge L. H. McMahan announced that he would sentence Farrar at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. The sentence under the Oregon law is three to 12 months in the county jail or a fine of from $50 to $500.

The courtroom was crowded when the jury, M. C. George, foreman, filed in to return its verdict. Farrar is a member of a local workmen's league and had many sympathizers at the trial. A statement that a protest parade would follow an unfavorable verdict for Farrar was not borne out in developments after the verdict was returned. Farrar made no statement and apparently took the decision in good humor.

Trindle Declares Case is Clear

District Attorney Trindle, in closing the state's case before the jury, said the evidence was overwhelming that Farrar had grappled with Purvine and severely injured him when the pair met in the Red Cross offices here last January. He held Farrar at fault for Purvine's subsequent illness. Trindle reviewed the evidence of Maria Wilson, Red Cross secretary, who was in the offices here when the trouble arose.

Roy R. Hewitt, defending Farrar, defended the latter before the jury as a young man trying to secure help for a needy family. He contended Farrar only scuffled with Purvine and did not strike him.

Hewitt laid stress on the psychology of the situation, painting a word sketch of the dislike and distrust Purvine and Maria Wilson, Red Cross secretary, allegedly had for Farrar and his associates.

Farrar Frightened When Door Locked
He declared that Purvine's move to lock the door to the room where he and Farrar were, while a natural one to protect himself from supposed attack from Farrar's associates, logical, frightened Farrar and made the latter resent an attempt to telephone the police.

Counsel for the defense said Farrar's former residence away from Salem was no more prejudicial than was the fact that Miss Wilson had come here from Grants Pass to do her work. He said Farrar's "communistic" views were no more dangerous than the doctrines of social service set forth in the Bible.

MINER IS STABBED AS UNIONS BATTLE

BENTON, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Sporadic fighting between members of the progressive miners of America and the united mine workers occurred on the streets of West Frankfort, Ill., tonight, and one miner was stabbed critically.

Clyde Bruce, of Benton, was in the West Frankfort hospital suffering from a stab wound in his left breast. The knife penetrated his lung.

Officers said the outbreak apparently was unorganized and consisted principally of fist fights. The disturbance was the first reported since sheriffs of five Illinois coal mining counties announced yesterday they would defy a circuit court injunction forbidding them to interfere with picketing or other activities of the progressives.

Chicago's New Mayor Self-Made; Battled His Own Way to Top Rank

Mayor Edward J. Kelly and Family

While watching workmen excavating for the 1893 world's fair, in Chicago, Edward Joseph Kelly, a young apprentice to a mortician, decided there was no future in embalming, so he threw up his job and took one with a pick and shovel. Today, he stands only at the peak of the engineering profession, but is mayor of his native city. The man who takes up the reins dropped from the hand of Anton Cermak, Chicago's murdered executive, was born in 1876 in the city he now rules, of Irish parents. He attended public schools and night classes until he came of working age. Then he got the funeral parlor job which he left to become a ditch digger. But he wasn't long at that humble job. Using up his spare time in studying engineering at Notre Dame university, Kelly was soon on his way to the top. An idea of his progress may be gauged from the fact that for the past nine years he has been president of the South Park system of Chicago, and is also director of a $120,000,000 sanitation district improvement project. He has been called one of the foremost builders of modern Chicago, for he was associated with every plan for civic betterment in the windy city those many years. Chicago's new mayor has been twice married. His first wife, the former Mary Edmund Roche, of Chicago, died in 1918. He married Miss Margaret E. Kirk, of Kansas City, in 1922. They have three adopted children, Joseph and Patricia, twins of 6, and Stephen, 2.

GROUP AGREES ON NAVIGATION PLANS

PORTLAND, Ore., April 21.—(AP)—The improvement of the Columbia and Snake rivers for navigation, at an estimated cost of $14,500,000, was asked of President Roosevelt today by the governors of three states.

Governor C. Ben Ross of Idaho, who had suggested the meeting here today, Governor Clarence D. Martin of Washington and Governor Julius L. Meier of Oregon heard the project described as necessary to the welfare of agriculture in their three states, forthwith adopted a resolution favoring the project, and dispatched a telegram to President Roosevelt urging him to include the improvement of the two rivers in his program of agricultural relief.

In a session remarkably free from any hint of friction, the conference reviewed the project, and Washington, Idaho and Oregon want Columbia and Snake river navigation facilities for farmers, lumber producers and other business. In their telegram to President Roosevelt, they pointed out that the project is not a controversial matter, and that if it was undertaken, it would not interfere in any way with hydroelectric or other development planned on either river.

TO FINANCE SURVEY
BEND, Ore., April 21.—(AP)—Definite steps toward construction of a municipal power plant were taken today with beer license money "pointing the way." It was agreed to consult Portland engineers to discuss preliminary steps.

Cost of the investigation preliminary to construction will be paid from revenues received under the new beer ordinance. Attempts to undertake construction heretofore have been halted by failure to include items for preliminary surveys in the city budget.

Mayor J. F. Hosch pointed out, however, that the beer revenue is all ready in the city treasury, expected when the 1933 budget was prepared.

The action was brought under a city ordinance requiring the company to pay the city 5 per

MACDONALD GIVEN NO 19-GUN SALUTE

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—"When the boat bearing Prime Minister Macdonald comes into New York harbor today," said an announcement from army headquarters this morning, "the army batteries on Governor's island will fire a 19-gun salute, in accordance with the dictates of international courtesy."

But when the boat bearing Prime Minister Macdonald came into New York harbor the guns of Governor's island fired no salute.

"Something went wrong," said one officer when an explanation was sought.

"It was a big mixup in orders," said another.

"I understand," said a clerk in the commandant's office, "that there was some question about how many guns a prime minister rates."

Ogden Mills Leads G. O. P. Attack on Inflation Plan of Bourbons

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—In a capital seething with war against depression, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, put their heads together tonight to find ways for better days.

The tall British prime minister stood behind the desk of Mr. Roosevelt shortly after his arrival and told newspapermen of his purpose to seek with the president and the other nations, a solution of the economic crisis.

Behind the same desk a few hours before, a confident, jovial president put a new stimulus into congressional leaders for the pending legislation to give him control of the monetary situation and negotiate the agreements he had in mind for his foreign discussion.

JAPAN CALLS OFF DRIVE INTO CHINA

Pursuit of Troops South of Great Wall to Cease, War Office Orders

TOKYO, April 22.—(AP)—The war office announced today that Japanese troops have been ordered to cease their attacks on, and halt their pursuit of, Chinese troops south of the great wall of China.

The campaign south of the wall, it was said, has gained all objectives—the termination of Chinese pressure on the southern boundary of Jehol province and the pushing of the Chinese beyond artificial ranges of the wall. The campaign began officially April 10, more than a month after the seizure of Jehol.

A war office spokesman said the Chinese have been expelled entirely from the district east of the Luan river and also from a zone extending an average depth of 10 miles below the wall west of the Luan river as far as the Miyun area.

TIENTSIN, China, April 21.—(AP)—"The Japanese 'western expedition,' numbering 3000 troops, was reported today to be threatening the Chinese province of Chahar just west of Jehol province."

DOLLAR STEADIES AS EUROPE WAITS

LONDON, April 21.—(AP)—Interest in America's currency position, whipped into excitement by her lapse from the gold standard, still lingers today, but there was more of a disposition to view the situation with equanimity and to wait for developments.

Whitehall set the example of passive watchfulness, expressing itself as content to leave its interests in the hands of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his experts. Their discussions with President Roosevelt are looked upon as being more important than ever in view of American developments.

The range of prices was much narrower than Thursday, with the low point of $3.92 1/2 to the pound approximating that of yesterday. The last dealings reported an improvement to $3.85 1/2 or the same as last night.

FACTOR OUT AFTER KIDNAPERS OF SON

Claims he Knows who They Are; no Ransom Paid, He Emphasizes

CHICAGO, April 21.—(AP)—Jerome Factor wrote the climax to his sensational kidnaping by appearing safely at his home early today.

Swift sequel to the case was predicted by the father, John, in the apprehension of the conspirators who kept the 19-year-old university student prisoner for eight days.

"I'll push the hunt for the kidnapers," he said. "We had plenty of clues—not clues. And we were closing in on them."

"I am pretty sure I know who the guilty men are."

About eight men were involved in the abduction, Factor said, none of them men who had achieved much prominence in the underworld.

When Jerome arrived at the home of his mother, Mrs. Leonard Marcus early this morning, he had an eight-days growth of beard, and $24.95 in his pocket.

He repeated his denial that April 12 he carried $15 in bills with him. The difference represented taxi fare from the point of his release to his home and, the elder Factor emphatically said, the sole expense of his return.

DECISION ON JUDG SANITY DUE TODAY

Testimony all Received but Delay of Witnesses and Court Avert Verdict

FLORENCE, Ariz., April 21.—(AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd went back to her prison cell tonight barred by court delay from learning until probably late tomorrow the fate a sanity jury is to decide for her.

The 12 men who are to determine whether the blonde young woman is sane enough to be required to pay with her life for the murder of Agnes Anne Leoni, marked time while three court cases, and finally overnight continuance, were ordered. They spent less than 10 minutes in the jury box.

Missing state witnesses caused the first delay, County Attorney Will C. Truman and his assistant, Charles Reed, being granted a recess until afternoon to attempt to find and interview them.

Counsel for the state and for Mrs. Judd agreed later, when it developed the missing witnesses could not be located, to close the case without presentation of further testimony by either side. An additional hour was allowed Reed, who was to make the chief state argument, to prepare.

Advertising Faces Great Opportunity Says Folger

"Organized advertising today stands at the threshold of its greatest opportunity," Walter A. Folger of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Advertising clubs association told members of Willamette valley ad clubs at a dinner last night at the Gray Belle restaurant.

In the field of agriculture, the nation's greatest industry, advertising can do a work, the results of which will be felt in all forms of related industry and selling.

"Advertising should extend aid to agriculture,—prosperous agricultural community is reflected in the business and prosperity of the nearby district or community," Mr. Folger said. "The restoration of profitable selling stands as another job for the advertising man."

Advertising today, during the past year especially, has worked hard to turn the public mind to quality merchandise, he explained. Quality has been the keynote

Large Amount of Free Seed Given

133 Packages Worth $1400 in All Distributed in This County

Distributing 1333 packages of free garden seeds the past month, the Red Cross here has made it possible for virtually all needy families in Marion county to provision themselves adequately this summer as far as garden produce is concerned, Miss Maria Wilson, assistant executive secretary, announced yesterday. Each package of seed is sufficient to plant a large lot to a wide variety of vegetables.

The cost of these seeds, paid by the state R.F.C. relief fund, amounts to approximately $1400. Today will be the last day for distribution of the seeds, according to Miss Wilson. Needy persons desiring portions of seed may obtain them by applying at the Red Cross office, above Fry's drug store.

Visiting the families that have obtained seeds, Red Cross workers this summer will seek to aid them in canning large quantities of vegetables for the winter months. If any of the families do not have jars for this purpose, efforts will be made to supply them.

Through efforts of Salem chamber of commerce, many excellent garden lots are available free of charge. Information regarding these plots may be had at the U. S.-Y. M. C. A. Employment bureau, 250 Court street.

Eastern Slope of Rockies Has Snow

DENVER, April 21.—(AP)—Still whirling down from the skies tonight on the eastern slope of the Rockies in Colorado and Wyoming were thick, wet flakes of a snowstorm which struck the region three days ago.

Laying its blanket of whiteness over an area of more than 100,000 square miles of farm lands, rangelands and municipalities, the storm brought welcome relief from the drought of a nearly snowless winter and promise of bountiful water supplies for the summer.

Hundreds of motorists who were marooned on highways and road crews spent today at rescue work as they tried to clear the drifts.

Between 75 and 100 persons, members of auto or bus highway clubs, were stranded in the snow. Wyo. were liberated late today by state highway snowplows.

Six Denverites and two residents of Colorado Springs, Colorado, who left their homes on excursions into the mountains Wednesday, had not been found by searching parties tonight.

Denver, April 21.—(AP)—Last December Chief Minto decided to sound out sentiment for a transmitter. Enthusiastic response from business men and others was the result. So the police department set out to raise the $1200 needed and did so by two dances, and a wrestling match staged for them by the Salem boxing and wrestling commission.

When KQZR goes into full service, operating from around 6 p. m. As an initial step, the officers among themselves raised $60 and purchased a short wave receiver. Using this set since that time, they have kept in constant touch with Portland police, gaining information as to criminals believed to be in this direction. Public Summary is Given to Project

Realization of Minto Plan is Achieved Late Friday

Final License Awaited But Plant Will be in use at Once

A dream of Chief of Police Frank Minto and his men, cherished for nearly a year and a half, is realized. The department now can claim the most modern development in crime control—a short wave radio station for instantaneous communication with all traffic and patrol cars.

At 10:56 o'clock last night the first official test call was broadcast. Hereafter owners of short wave radio receivers will nightly hear the call, "KQZR, Salem police department, calling car No. 1" and other numbers. Citizens spying trespassers can obtain the services of an officer in a little time as it takes to telephone police headquarters. With this service available, city police anticipate that the number of calls for assistance each night will increase rapidly, the citizens knowing that previous delays in calling officers are now obviated.

Until the police station license arrives from the station D. C. all calls must remain of a test character, but it will be possible to call auto patrol officers with the radio by terming the broadcast a test call. Application for the final license will be forwarded to Washington by air mail today. It is expected the local department will receive notification of the granting of its license within a few days.

Local Radiotrician Builder of System
Salem's police radio may accurately be termed a Salem product. It was constructed by Lloyd Rogers, local radiotrician, under direction of Gordon Sloot, radio engineer for a Portland firm, which supplied the necessary equipment. The station's rated power is 50 watts, which is expected to cover the Willamette valley from Eugene to Portland consistently. Don Pousjade will be the operator.

Not for many months has any activity at police headquarters attracted public interest as did the impending going on the air of the radio station. Throughout all last evening, beginning at 7 o'clock, dozens of men and women dropped in at the city hall to look over the newly-fitted transmitter, which is located behind the counter at the south end of the room. Not till 11:30 o'clock did the crowd begin to dwindle.

Early last year, Salem police decided they should have their own radio station of their own, as had just been set up at Portland. As an initial step, the officers among themselves raised $60 and purchased a short wave receiver.
