

HOMECOMING EVENT AT CHURCH SUCCESS

Many Attend Special Observation at Hazel Green All day Sunday

HAZEL GREEN, April 25—The church was beautifully decorated with daisies and wild flowers Sunday for the homecoming. At the morning service Mrs. Clark M. Smith, Ellen and Ellsworth Smith and Miss Eva Smith were received as members. A beautiful dinner was served at noon. For the afternoon service, friends came from Brooks, Labish Center, Keizer and Rockwell.

Dr. W. C. Kantner, who came to the Evangelical church in Salem 37 years ago, brought the message. He recalled incidents of his early school days in the neighborhood. He was assistant pastor when Bishop Castle, the first United Brethren bishop stationed on the coast, came to Salem. At the invitation of Mrs. Rozanna Gilbert, Dr. Kantner started preaching in the schoolhouse in the summer of 1902. He mentioned also the early work of Mrs. Daniel Clark and Rev. Bertha Peoples.

Mrs. Ellen Van Cleave, the oldest member, Mrs. Hulda Stripling and Mrs. W. E. Savage of Keizer, first secretary-treasurer of the Sunday school, were introduced. Mrs. E. O. Shepherd, wife of a former pastor, recently from Kansas City, Kan., was introduced. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaefer, nee Deena Shepherd, sang "Out of the Ivory Palace."

Each picnic was given to Rev. S. E. Long, Miss Lella Luckey, Rev. Francis Fisher and daughter Emma and all the pastors who have labored so faithfully. W. A. Dunnington of Salem United Brethren church did good work in junior and senior Christian Endeavor, O. M. Peoples was the first class leader. Bert Wolf, the second.

In the evening a pageant, "The Seeing Heart," was given by Lehigh Center C. E. The cast: Mary, Beredene Daugherty; Martha, Virginia Miller; Rachel, Florence Paugh; Lazarus, Berne Jones.

ROBERTS, April 25—The Roberts community club Saturday night elected the following officers: President, Albert Blankenship; vice-president, Floyd Quigley; secretary, Dorothy Rice; treasurer, Janice Higgins; janitor, LeRoy Edwards.

Program numbers were given by Dorothy Rice, Janice Higgins, Paul Carpenter, Ronnie Foster, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schubel and son Hugh, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Garret, Mrs. Ralph Shawhan, Harvey Schubel and Mrs. Meisinger's trio of Salem.

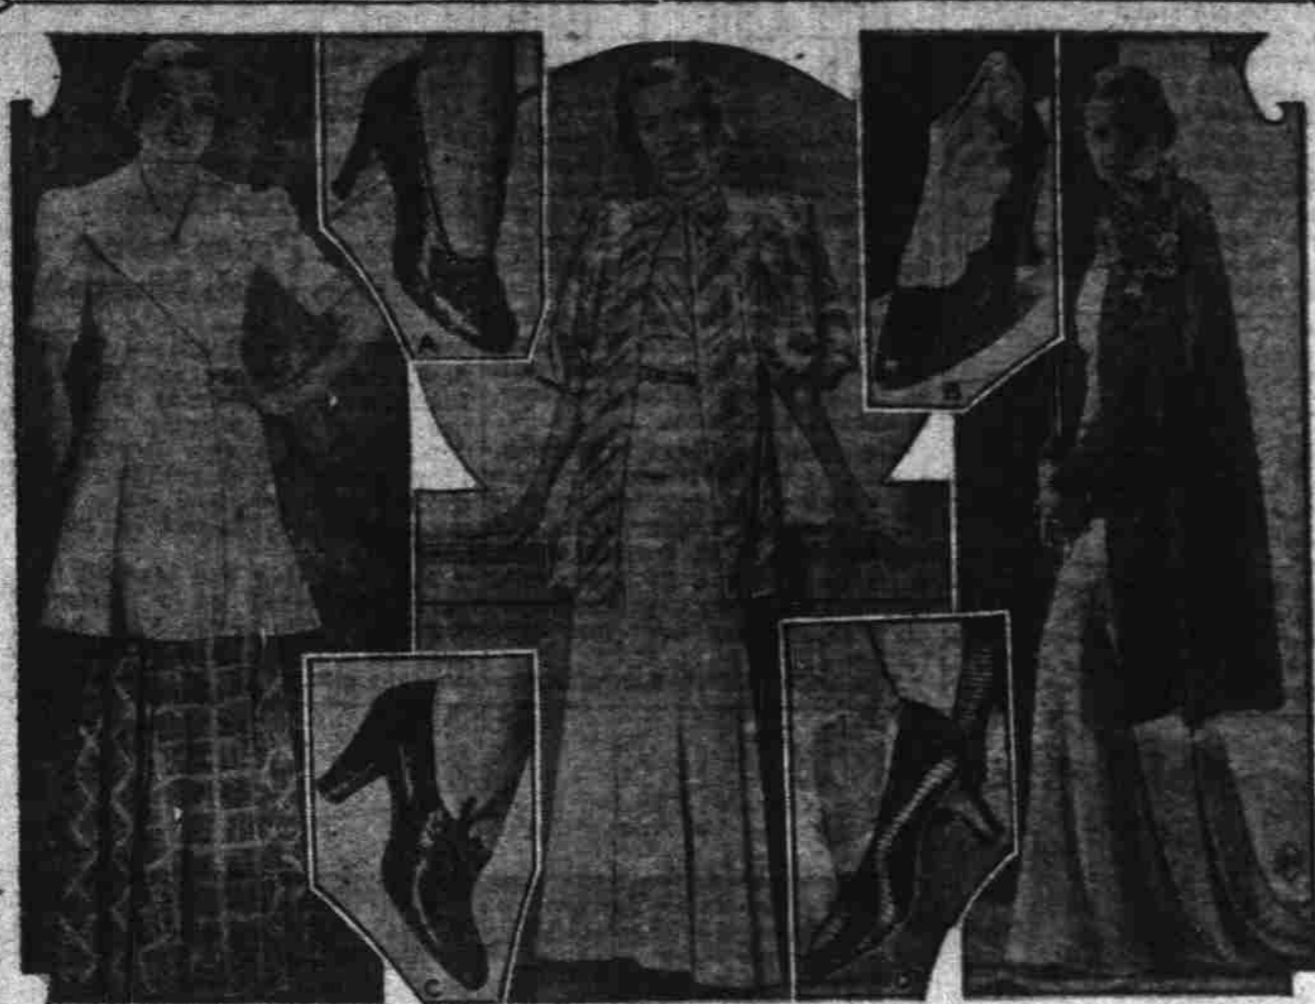

The boys and girls of the 4-H club enjoyed a picnic at Hager's grove Saturday. They also visited the paper and linen mills. The achievement day event will be held Friday afternoon.

WOODBURN STUDENT HONORED AT MEET

WOODBURN, April 25—Lyman Seelye, junior in Woodburn high school, was one of the nine members of the Future Farmers of America awarded the degree of state farmer at the state convention at Corvallis last weekend. Boys awarded this honor are selected on a basis of outstanding home project work, grades, and activities in their high schools and local Future Farmer organizations.

The Woodburn Future Farmer chapter was one of the four chapters in the state to be designated a keystone chapter. Other schools receiving this rating were Union, Newberg, and Gresham.

SLEEVE STYLES FEATURE SEASON'S NEW FASHIONS

The cut of milady's sleeve and the length of her coat are the features that single her out as a well-dressed woman this season. As for length, the three-quarter style in the new sweater coat is the most popular with designers. Changes in arm covering are varied, from the tiny sleeves on this organic blouse to the long closely-fitted sleeves and the ever-popular log of mutton variety. In the evening dress field, however, there is little departure from the traditional uncovered arm. Above are three models seen in New York recently. At left is a sweater jacket of white pique, with amusing padded shoulders. It is worn over a red plaid cotton gown, which boasts an intriguing flared skirt. Note the cuffed sleeves. In center is a smart light sweater coat in a sports type. It is of rough crepe in red and grey print. The print is also used for a bolero on the white matelasse gown. The sleeves of this creation end at the elbows in unusually wide puffs. At right is another sweater wrap in smart navy ribbed taffeta, worn over a white ribbed taffeta gown. Red poppies on the shoulder match a wide band of poppy red taffeta across the lining of the wrap.

Turning to shoes, the new shade, Eleanor Blue is in great demand and some interesting models in this tone are making their appearance. Above (A) is a blue kid pump with perforations through which can be seen an underlayer of white kid. The creation of brown kid bottoms and beige kid top (B) promises to make a hit this season. The shoe is fastened with three pearl buttons. The beautifully-tailored oxford (C) is of black kid with an unusual side lacing, and the brown kid pump (D) is a handsome shoe which features rows of tufts covering the entire surface. Note the heel design on this model.

MONMOUTH DISPLAY OF WIDE INTEREST

MONMOUTH, April 25—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stockholm of Monmouth were in Portland for the weekend, in charge of an exhibit, sponsored by the local chamber of commerce in the "Onward Oregon" industrial program.

Among the exhibits are: Monmouth creamery butter, poultry and dairy feed special, grains, vetch, ryo, and clover seed, furnished by Monmouth warehouse. Canned fruit furnished by C. A. Crocker, who has the Herald print shop; wool and mohair from the Riddell and Stamp farms. Seed corn grown by James Gentle. Exhibits of prunes, eggs, flax, locally grown. Pictures of goats, sheep and horses from local prize-winning stock. Pictures of the campus buildings of Oregon Normal school. Monmouth has one of the few exhibits of community extent, most of the displays being of commercial content, only.

FORESTRY ADDRESS GETS GOOD CROWD

GRAND ISLAND, April 25.—A good sized audience enjoyed the lecture, "The Story of the Forest," given by W. V. Fuller of Dallas at the schoolhouse Saturday night. Mr. Fuller's work is in connection with the Oregon state board of forestry and the U. S. forest service. During the intermission Miss Ella Warren of Newberg delighted with readings and D. Lynn Guber, county school superintendent, presented a reading and a novelty song.

The intermediate Christian Endeavor of the Unionvale Evangelical church held its monthly business meeting and social hour at the church Friday night. Following the business session a taffy pull was enjoyed by approximately 25 young people with Mrs. Kerney Stoutenberg and Mrs. D. E. Baruffi in charge.

Donald Tompkins, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tompkins, fell down the back steps Saturday and broke his right arm above the wrist.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS HOLD JOINT PICNIC

STATTON, April 25—Monday was a big day for pupils of St. Paul's school of Silverton and St. Mary's school of Stayton, for it was the day set aside for the annual joint school picnic. This year on the invitation of Father Jos. Scheerling, former pastor of St. Paul's church, Silverton, the two schools held a joint picnic here. About 150 children enjoyed the games and lunch.

The morning was taken up with ball games, the boys of St. Mary's playing the boys of St. Paul's with a score of 4-1 in favor of Stayton. Later there were races of various kinds until lunch time. St. Mary's girls and the girls from St. Paul played ball and again Stayton came out victorious, the St. Mary's team winning, 4-3.

Following this the children were taken to the park for a recreation period and wienor roast. The primary grade girls put on a ball game against the primary boys and the girls won 4-1.

BETHEL WILL JOIN CLUBS FOR PICNIC

BETHEL, April 24.—The varied entertainments put on by the Doolittle service station people at the Bethel community club was much enjoyed by a capacity crowd. S. Hamrick conducted a short business meeting. The Bethel club will take part in the county federation picnic.

The May meeting will conclude the club meetings for the year. The eighth grade graduation will be held at that time, and it will also be the occasion of the club's yearly ice cream fête. The committee in charge is George Bahlsen, J. R. Carruthers, H. H. Boles, J. A. Hain and Mrs. J. M. Nichols. The Bethel community club players put on their comedy-drama, "A Little Clodhopper," which was enthusiastically received.

4-H CAMP COOKERY GROUP ENTERTAINS

SUMMIT HILL, April 25—Miss Eva Croaker of Los Angeles is making a lengthy visit with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Croaker. Miss Croaker went through the earthquake unharmed.

FUTILE TRYING TO MEMORIZE RECIPE

"Don't waste time memorizing recipes. Time is too valuable. If you wish to memorize something, make it a verse from Tennyson or a paragraph from O. O. McIntyre. At least, that will give you something worth while to think about."

Such is the paradoxical, if not startling statement of Mrs. Marian Spencer of the Safeway Stores Homemakers' Bureau.

near, "to read your recipe directly from the cook book as you prepare the dish. Then you are sure to be accurate. What I mean is, if you misquote an author, there is no great harm done, but misquoting a recipe, and what becomes of your meal?"

Nearly 25 Rural Schools to Enter May Day Festivity

SILVERTON, April 25—Silverton's May day festival has been planned for May 5 with all of the rural schools in the Silverton high school district invited. These schools number nearly 25.
