PRICE COMPARISON METHOD EXPLAINED

An easy way to estimate the amount of increase in farm prices necessary to reach "parity" under the new farm bill is explained in the April report on the agricultural situation just released by the Oregon agricultural extension service. The report also contains data to compare farm price levels in Oregon with those for the whole country, and information on other aspects of the farm problem.

The farm bill plan, with some exceptions is to use the 1910 to 1914 period as the base for estimating "parity." This is the same period used in preparing the government indexes of prices received and prices paid by farmers. Since the prices-paid index is now just over 100, the indexes of prices received by producers indicate the approximate degree of "parity."

For instance, the wheat index for March was 99 and the prices-paid index 103; therefore, wheat prices were under 46 per cent of "parity." All farm products combined were approximately 50 per cent of par in exchange for commodities usually bought by farmers.

Schools at Gates Join in Program of Achievement

GATES, April 29.—The elementary and high schools here joined in an all-day achievement program, with the 4-H clubs putting on a display of their work for the year. A number of school patrons attended. Games and sports were enjoyed in the afternoon, following an all-school lunch in the basement at noon. F. W. Jones, principal of the school, was in charge of the day's activities.

The three grade school teachers and the two high school teachers have all been reelected for next year. Salary reductions amount to 15 per cent.

Child Has Wealth Of Living Ancestry

KEIZER, April 29.—Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sattlemier of Salem are the proud parents of a baby boy born at the Banglow hospital April 24, weighing 6 1/2 pounds. His name has been named George Edwin. This baby is rich in living ancestry, having two grandfathers, two grandmothers, two great-grandfathers, two great-grandmothers and one great-grandmother. This is the first Sattlemier of Keizer.

Unmusical Whistle is Indication Of Cheerfulness—for Whistler

By D. H. Talmadge, Sage of Salem

A very unmusical whistle may indicate a very cheerful frame of mind—in the whistler. A whistle does not, however, necessarily indicate a cheerful frame of mind in the whistler. When some folks whistle it indicates that they are sad and depressed of spirit, and unmusical whistling by such folks is extremely trying to the nerves of the hearers. A man who cannot whistle and who does not know a tune from a noise will usually tell you, if you ask him respectfully, that a boy who whistles habitually will not amount to much when he grows up. There is not much, if any, basis for such a belief.

I once knew a man who had a very fair quality of whistle, but who knew only one tune, the air of a hymn, which he whistled shrilly and continuously while talking with his mates in the workshop. His mates talked in hushed tones of murdering the man, particularly at times when the weather was hot and the flies bothersome, but he died a natural death before they got around to doing so, and a quartet of them sang the hymn at the graveside, and folks said it was real sweet of them. The town newspaper mentioned the incident as "touching." However, the quartet murdered the hymn, intentionally or not I do not know, but I have always had my suspicions.

D. H. TALMADGE

to have the signs right as it is to have them wrong I can see no good reason for having them wrong. Why be so damn superior?

At last the good old faithful fire is taking an occasional day out! Faith triumphant!

Pengra Employed On Staff, Paper At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, April 29.—Marshall Pengra arrived in Independence this week from Chicago. He resided here about six years ago. While in the east he graduated from the University of Illinois, worked in a bank in Chicago, and for the past year was an employee of a Wisconsin newspaper. He is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Robinson.

Mr. Pengra will be employed by the Independence Enterprise starting May 1, handling local news, special features and advertising.

KEIZER CROWD OUT FOR HONOR AWARDS

KEIZER, April 29.—About 225 including the school children gathered at the schoolhouse Friday afternoon for the achievement day program given by the 4-H clubs of Keizer. Muriel Bartraff read the program opening with the flag salute and singing "America." The 4-H clubs repeated the pledge. Miss Zelle introduced the club leaders, Mrs. J. A. Reynolds, Mrs. C. H. Downey, Ruth Rulifson and Mr. Purdue.

The following demonstrations were given: Cookery, tuna fish sandwiches, Orall Smith and Dessie McClay, potato salad, Ethel Eppers and Mary Downey; baked custard, Norma McGinty and Ellen Book; dish washing, Lois Rulifson and Myrtle Harold.

In sewing: French knots and fancy stitching, Rosemary Hicks and Eileen Holden; home lessons, Edna Hart, Helen Wilson, Velma Brandon, Sylvia Claggett, Margaret Addison, Eileen Holden, Genevieve Thomas, Rosemary Hicks, Lorraine Russell, Zilla Frogley and Lorraine Sun.

Two little tots, Caroline Weeks and Arleen Frogley, wore costumes. Edna Hart, Helen Wilson, Velma Brandon, Sylvia Claggett, Margaret Addison, Eileen Holden, Genevieve Thomas, Rosemary Hicks, Lorraine Russell, Zilla Frogley and Lorraine Sun. The boys' 4-H cookery club put on a clever stunt representing a Keizer meat market. Musical numbers by Lorraine Russell and Margaret Addison interspersed the program.

Awards were given as follows: Cakes, Bethel Eppers first, Orall Smith second, Dessie McClay third; cookies, Norma McGinty first, Lois Rulifson second, Ellen Book third; biscuits, Henry Downey first, Lester Pearmaine, Jr., second, Peter Hart, Helen Wilson, first division sewing, Edna Gebert first, Helen Wilson second, Velma Brandon third; second division, Margaret Addison first, Eileen Holden second, Sylvia Claggett third; third division, Janet Weeks first, Lorraine Russell second.

Cooking demonstration, the baked custard won first and tied with dishwashing in number of points. Sewing demonstration won second ribbon.

FUTURE FARMERS' GROWTH IS RECORD

A year of greater interest, enthusiasm and accomplishment than any in its history was reported for the Oregon association of Future Farmers of America by the officers at the fifth annual state convention of these Smith-Hughes agricultural students at Oregon State college. The organization grew to a new record number of 1036 paid-up members in 35 chapters in this state.

Tom Willett of Wallawa, state president, was given credit for much of the advance in the face of the unsettled conditions. In view of his 1174 mile tour of the state to visit most of the centers of Smith-Hughes instruction. Howard Smith of Canby will head the organization this year as state president. Other officers elected at Corvallis are Chester Stevens, Amuly, vice president; Wendell Green, Union, secretary; Marion Latham, McMinnville, treasurer, and Lyman Seely, Woodburn, reporter.

The stringent requirements in actual accomplishment to qualify as "Keystone chapters" of the Future Farmers organization were met by those at Woodburn, Union, Newberg and Gresham.
