paper the previous day through court action. Wheeler said Prescott replied, "No, they haven't silenced him yet. He is starting a paper in another plant. The only way to silence him is to shoot him and I guess it will be up to me." Wheeler said he warned Banks "that he was in danger."

Walker J. Jones, mayor of Rogue River, close friend of Banks and a member of the so-called "Good Government Congress" which Banks organized, testified he once overheard Prescott remark that "if a warrant was served and Banks resisted, they'd shoot him."

Nurse Declares She Heard Death Threat

May Powell, former Red Cross nurse, declared that in a Medford cafe the day before the killing, Constable Prescott and another man had a booth next to hers.

"The man said, 'We've got Banks now where we can make him keep his mouth shut,'" Mrs. Powell testified. She said Prescott replied: "No, there's only one way to close his mouth and I'm the one to do it. Coddling (District Attorney George Coddling) has a warrant for him and I'm to serve it. I'll take him if I have to take him to the morgue, and that's where he belongs."

The defense has insisted that Banks had been informed of these reported threats on his life, and that when he saw Prescott and another officer trying to force an entrance into the house, he fired at them in defense of his home and in the belief he was protecting his own life and the life of Mrs. Banks.

The state has contended that Banks, storm center of a violent and protracted political quarrel in Jackson county, shot and killed the constable deliberately after repeated expressions of his willingness to take a stand against the law. A note Banks wrote to the Medford chief of police was introduced by the state. It declared that if an officer tried to serve a warrant on Banks "there will be bloodshed."

STUDENTS, FACULTY HONOR R. A. BOOTH

Cameron Marshall and Miss Elizabeth... The following is the text of the resolution which the faculty adopted:

"To Robert A. Booth on his seventy-fifth birthday, May 15, 1932.

"This notable day the faculty of Willamette university express their gratitude to God for the splendor of your life and the greatness of your fruitful deeds. Foremost citizen of the state, you have built upon this campus an especial monument that must endure while truth remains and eager youth come seeking for it. If an institution is to last and grow, its ruling ideals must pass through a personality great enough to understand and change and redirect their movements, and carry on with that marvelous one thing more, the thing which they received from him. To Willamette university for almost forty years you have given that marvelous one thing more: yourself—gifts to the utmost: wisdom, love, courage, faith.

"We felicitate and thank you for what you are and for what you have done."

75-CENT GOAL IS REACHED BY HOPS

C. F. Noakes of the Ray company tell in a nutshell the meteoric rise in the hop market. They show that last month 14,419 bales of hops were sold. In April, 1932, only 2899 bales were sold, or an increase of 11,524 bales for this past April. The sales of April, 1933, establish a record for spring business in the western hop world.

Last year April sales ranged from 12 1/2 to 13 and 14 cents in price. This year they tripled and in a few instances quadrupled the 1932 April market.

Whether hops will go above the 75 cents figure is a question mark. Fact that over 3,000 bales are still in hands of growers, indicates some growers think even a higher price will be offered. There was no reports yesterday of options out at a higher figure.

MISS MELTON WILL LEAVE UNIVERSITY

Miss Frances Virginia Melton, for nine years instructor in piano at Willamette university has tendered her resignation, effective at the close of the school year. Miss Melton plans to continue in piano instruction with studios in Salem and Portland.

In offering her resignation Miss Melton said Monday:

"May I say, in severing my connection with Willamette university, that for several years the thought of ceasing institutional teaching has been in my mind, and my plan now is to open my own studio of piano culture in Salem and Portland.

"The nine years during which I have taught in the university I have had much happiness because of my love for my work and the inspiration of my students. It will continue to be my pleasure to extend any possible courtesy to the university."

The resignation was accepted by the executive committee and the administration instructed to nominate a successor.

GILSTRAP RESIGNS CHURCH AT TURNER

TURNER, May 15—(Special)—Rev. E. J. Gilstrap, pastor of the Christian church here, presented his resignation at the morning service Sunday. After some discussion, on Rev. Gilstrap's insistence, his resignation was accepted. He has been pastor for ten years, during which time 109 additions to the church were reported, 45 by baptism.

Payment Due on City Bonds and Money is Ready

Salem will pay $2000 principal and $2025 interest due yesterday on a $100,000 bond issue as soon as the bondholders call for the money. City Treasurer C. O. Rice announced yesterday. When this payment is made, $44,000 of the issue will remain outstanding.

Knights of Road Giving Program

After the religious service at the Open Door mission tonight, a group of the boys "off the road" will put on a program of entertainment to which the public is invited. There will be rapid fire cartooning, spectacular acrobatic and contortionist stunts, and mystifying acts of magic, one of which will be the producing of a living baby from a bat. It is the plan to offer this baby for adoption. Applications should be made to the superintendent Tuesday night.

Willamette Librarian Takes Issue With Writer in Library Journal

The current issue of the Library Journal carries the reproduction of a letter by Dr. F. G. Franklin, reference librarian of Willamette university, in which the author heartily disagrees with another article appearing in an earlier edition of the journal written by Robert K. Blay of the Worcester, Mass., public library. Mr. Shaw's article is written as a condemnation of simplified spelling as used in the Decimal Classification by Dewey.

DALLAS RALLIES IN 6TH, BEATS AIRLIE

CORVALLIS, May 15.—(AP)—Corvallis high school won the track championship of district 5 here Saturday with a total of 61 1/2 points. The district comprises Polk, Lincoln, Linn and Benton counties.

Albany placed second with 33 points. Other schools and their total points included: Dallas 16, Independence 15, Fair 14, Sebe 8, and Monmouth 3 1/2. Dallas made a bid for state honors by taking three firsts out of the four events in which its men placed.

The first two men in each event qualified for the state meet next week at Eugene. Following is the list by schools: Corvallis, Kelsey, Edwards, Korf, Patterson, Davis, Shappard, Blackledge, Lewis, Bird, Floyd and Kerr. Albany: Fowler and Davis. Dallas: McMillan, Cadie and Webb. Independence: Young, Dauckel and Hansen. Tuff; Easton, Scho; Freitag.

JAPANESE PUSHING TOWARD TIENTSIN

TIENTSIN, May 15—(AP)—Chinese troops were rapidly withdrawing today from the area east of Tientsin.

Tangshan, about 70 miles northeast of here on the railroad line from Manchuria, was completely evacuated after a brief clash with advancing Japanese forces.

The retreat followed two raids by Japanese bombing planes on Tangshan headquarters of the British Kailan mining interests. Two explosive projectiles fell near the home of the British chief engineer.

The Japanese continued their drive westward. The railroad from Tangshan was congested with Chinese troops and civilians trying to reach Lutai, in the direction of Tientsin.

The Japanese and Manchukuan invaders early today took Lwan-show situated northeast of Tangshan where the railroad crosses the Lwa river.

ment of their property. Under this ordinance the city would be able to pass on various claims for damages frequently brought against it.

The council granted the Salem Garden club, at the request of Chester Cox, the right to use Marion street, between Front and North Commercial as the site for an amusement company which will operate in Salem early next month for a week's period. The company will run a merry-go-round and one other device. The amusement company is furnishing a large tent for the Garden club to use at its annual show here.

Funeral Set For Pioneer Medical Man

Funeral for Dr. Richard Cartwright, dean of Salem medical men, who passed to his final rest on Sunday, will be held this afternoon at 1:45 o'clock at Higdon's mortuary with Rev. Fred Alban, dean of the Unitarian church in charge of services and Dr. Fred H. Thompson delivering the address to the doctors.

Honorary pallbearers will be Dr. Fred H. Thompson, Dr. R. L. Wood, Dr. C. H. Brewer of Stayton, Dr. Edward A. Lebold, Dr. J. H. Garnjobst, Dr. G. E. Hobson, Dr. J. O. Matthis.

Born in Hamilton, Ont., Canada, July 9, 1851, to Dr. George Edward Cartwright and Jane Clarke Cartwright, he was the great grandson of Sir Edmund Cartwright, inventor of the power loom, and a nephew of Col. Charles Clarke, for 20 years speaker of the Ontario house of parliament.

Moving with his family at the age of seven to Iowa, Richard Cartwright began the study of medicine with his father, later graduating from Detroit Medical college and the Chicago Homeopathic college, and practiced his profession in Iowa for 12 years.

He came to Oregon in 1883 on the first Union Pacific through train, and following a period in California, has resided here since 1897. For a long time he held the chair of clinical gynecology in the Willamette university medical college. He was instrumental in the beginnings of the Salem General hospital, and in 1909 erected the Willamette sanatorium.

He is survived by his widow, Florence B. Cartwright; children, Mrs. Chester A. Smith of Placerville, Cal., Mrs. Brazier C. Small of Salem, Miss Florence Cartwright of Portland; grandchildren, Susanna Small; sister, Mrs. J. C. Beard, Decatur, Ia.; brother, George B. Cartwright of Minneapolis.

"Let us honor and applaud Mr. Dewey for his clear-visioned leadership, and not seek to tear down his good work in the name of such dubious virtues as characterize those who call us to worship the gods of things as they are, even when admitting that they should not be so.—F. G. Franklin, reference librarian, Willamette university."
