

Local News Briefs

Burned Building—The old Jory building at the northwest corner of South Commercial and Bush streets is to be razed within the near future, it was reported yesterday. Several months ago the structure, formerly used as a woodworking plant, was badly damaged by fire. Since that time numerous complaints have been made because it was left standing. No decision has yet been reached by D. A. White & Sons as to the disposition of their old warehouse barn on Water street between Center and Chemeketa, which was fire damaged over a year ago. Appraisers estimated present worth of the structure as $900, as against a replacement cost of $2000. Fifty per cent loss is required before condemnation proceedings may be instituted.

DINNER, INDUSTRIAL DISPLAY POSTPONED

At a meeting of representatives of the Salem branch of the Women's Greater Oregon association and members of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, it was decided to postpone for a time the proposed dinner and industrial display that was to have been given at the armory next week.

Due to the lateness of the season and the desire of several of the committee to hold the dinner and display later, this action was taken.

The meeting of committees to act on the matter was called by Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, president of the Salem branch of the association. The general opinion was that the affair should be given at a later date.

Tribble Jailed, Fined $100 for Drunken Driving

John B. Tribble, arrested by city police as he was passing through Marion county last week, will now stay awhile. He pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Poulsen Tuesday, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in city jail. Tribble's automobile struck a car driven by A. E. Kiser, route two, at Fairgrounds road and Highland avenue.

Other auto accidents reported to city police were: G. W. Rutuch, 925 North Cottage street, and Milton M. Miller, Portland; Earl Chapel, 857 North 15th, and a motorist named Humphreys from West Stayton, at High and Mission; Dr. J. A. Wonderlick, 293 1/2 Court, and an unidentified motorist, at Liberty and Court; Mrs. L. R. Fisher, 534 North 15th, and an unidentified motorist, on North Commercial; E. T. BROADWAY LONG WAY OFF

MASTER PLUMBERS COMING NEXT WEEK

Master plumbers from all over Oregon will be in Salem Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27, for their 23rd annual convention. Headquarters and all meeting except the annual banquet will be held at the chamber of commerce. The banquet and inauguration will be held at the Marion hotel Saturday night. The convention will open at 10:30 Friday morning, with President R. D. Rennie of the state group presiding, and welcome extended by Mayor Douglas McKay of Salem and Ed O. Pratt, president of the Salem Plumbers' association. Rennie will respond. In the afternoon, two addresses will be given by Roy Thompson, national director of the association, and C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, following which a sight-seeing trip to Silver Creek falls will be enjoyed. Saturday morning E. B. Klein, president of the National Association of Master Plumbers, will speak, and business will be transacted. Election will be held in the afternoon. The annual banquet is slated for 6:30 o'clock.

Interest Grows In Valley Farm Lands, is Word

Growing interest in farm lands is reported by E. V. McMechan of the investment department of Hawkins & Roberts. Numerous transfers have occurred this spring, and inquiries are rolling in from California and the middle west. The Willamette valley seems to be attracting many who want to change locations. "Hundreds have been waiting for the upturn in farm prices," said McMechan. "They are ready to buy as soon as they can see that their farm income will cover their living and taxes and interest. The recent strengthening of farm prices has brought that point nearer, and we look for increases in sales."

THOMAS RESTRAINED FROM O. R. - N. CASE

The Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation company received an alternative writ of prohibition here yesterday, restraining Charles M. Thomas, public utilities commissioner, from taking jurisdiction over a freight rate case brought by the Pacific Coast Elevator company against the railroad. Judge L. G. Lewelling set June 7 as the day for a hearing on whether or not the writ be made permanent.

The railroad company claims Thomas has no jurisdiction in the matter which involves alleged overcharge on a rate tariff. If the rate in question was allegedly unfair, the commissioner could take cognizance of the case, the railroad asserts, but contends the pending case is merely one of applying a non-controverted rate schedule.

A variance exists at present between the intra and inter-state rates on products coming over the line from eastern Oregon to Portland. The railroad company in its petition yesterday, cites that defense of its case before Thomas would be very expensive and that it should not be put to a large money outlay when the commissioner lacks legal right to hear the matter.

PLOT FOILED

Myrl S. Myers, American Consul General in Mukden, Manchuria, whose life was endangered by a bomb discovered in his residence. Another was found in the home of the British Consul General. Both bombs were removed without exploding. Myers has been active in gathering facts for the U. S. government concerning Japanese operations in Manchuria. Japanese police are investigating the attempted bomb outrage.

RADIO RESERVES TO MEET, POSTOFFICE

The Salem unit of the volunteer communication reserve of the U. S. naval reserve, has obtained authority to use the civil service room in the postoffice building, it was stated by F. L. Pittard, local commander. The permission was granted by the treasury department through the postmaster. Space will also be provided for transmitter when the quota of the unit has been obtained.

"Everyone interested in amateur radio is invited to attend the first regular meeting at this new headquarters, on Thursday, May 18, at 7 p. m.," said Mr. Pittard yesterday. "D. D. Austin of Monmouth, senior member of the unit, will be the speaker." Fifty per cent of the required quota for the unit has been enlisted. Qualifications are the holding of an amateur radio license or a willingness to procure one, and desire to serve voluntarily. Those interested and wishing further information may call Mr. Pittard, dial 3417, or write to him at 629 Thompson avenue, Salem.

364 ARRESTS MADE BY STATE POLICE

There were 364 arrests for traffic violations during month of April, with fines aggregating $5751, according to report issued here Wednesday by Charles F. Pray, superintendent of state police. Warnings were issued to 15,739 drivers. Approximately 45 of the arrests were for reckless driving. Thirty-two drivers were arrested for being intoxicated while two arrests were for switched license plates. Arrests in the general law enforcement division number 422, with fines imposed in the amount of $5397.35. Thirty of the defendants were acquitted, while 85 cases are still pending in the courts. A total of 239 complaints were investigated, with 74 classified as cleared.

LAND BANK RATE OF INTEREST LOWERED

Borrowers from the federal land bank of Spokane and other federal land banks will have their interest rate reduced to 4 1/2 per cent for the five-year period starting July 11, 1933. A circular on the subject has been received by T. A. Wilkinson, secretary-treasurer of the Marion-Polk National Farm Loan association. Besides reducing the interest rate, no payment on the principal is required during the five-year period provided the mortgage is not in default with respect to any other condition.

The circular continues: "If you are in default on your mortgage, the bank is empowered to grant an extension of time on your delinquency, provided conditions justify it, and investigation shows you are unable to pay."

The land bank urges farmers wherever possible to keep on payments on the principal and thus reduce the amount of their loan. According to Mr. Wilkinson there are about 170 borrowers in this territory who will be benefitted. Present interest is around 5 to 5 1/2 per cent.

Young Mother in Need of Bedding, Clothes for Baby

Somewhere in Salem there is a young mother with one child and approaching motherhood again, in an environment of dire poverty and distress, according to the investigations of Mrs. J. H. Ross of the Associated Charities. Baby clothes are badly needed but worst need of all is bed-clothes. A make-shift mattress has been provided but it is only the beginning. Any kindly disposed person who has more than he really needs is asked to communicate with Mrs. Ross and offer any assistance possible.
