Continued Rains Cause Gloom For Farmers of Area

LIBERTY, May 19—The continued rains have changed a hopeful attitude on the part of the farmers to one of great gloom. Due to so much damage by freezing to berries their one remaining hope hereabouts was cherries and prunes. Cherries it is said and prunes. Cherries it is said will be a fair crop, but prunes, plumbing, built-ins, electric lights, lot not so good. The hill orchards 50x108. Price only $1500 with liberal that bloomed late received the rains and were not pollenized, and the lower orchards that had sunshine are now suffering from rain. Word that the Reid Murdock and company plant in Salem will put up a good pack this season was given yesterday by Northwest Manager Frank H. Madden, upon return from Chicago where he conferred with officials of the company.

"We believe the upturn has come and that fre a new on the situation in the canned fruit market as well as in general business will be much better," Mr. Madden said in announcing that good packs of cherries, prunes, pears, raspberries and other fruits will be handled.

The small asparagus pack scheduled for this cannery this spring has been hampered considerably by weather conditions, which hindered asparagus cutting to the extent that holding growers to their contracts was impractical Reid Murdock has about 500 acres of asparagus under contract as an experiment, and prior to rains this season, it was generally said the first pack of about 2500 cases would be made.

Grain Prices Weaken; Salem Markets

CHICAGO, May 19-(AP)-Faced by an official estimate that the United States carryover of wheat July 1 would be triple the normal amount, grain prices weakened today.

Depresses Corn

Indications of clearing weather in the corn belt tended also to pull values down. A statement from the department of agriculture putting the nation's prospective carryover of wheat at $60,000,000 bushels said winter wheat losses and inflation talk were not a guarantee of a permanent higher price levelin view of large acreage. Apple Crop to be Fair in Northern Europe, Prospect

Early season prospects indicate a fair apple crop for 1933 in northern European countries such as Germany, Switzerland, production was light last year. Small apple crop is anticipated in Austria-Hungary. Prospects for pears and stone fruits, particularly apricots, are considered rather poor despite late bloom. Temperatures below zero during first half of April over most of the continent, especially in the surplus producing section of Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, southern Germany and Italy caused considerable damage to pears, stone fruits and possibly to apples, Some drought and frost damage occurred in France, particularly in the northern and eastern sections where apple and pear production are the most im-

Top Porkers Bringing $5.25; Spinach is Plentiful Here

Hogs climbed 25 cents a hundred on the local market yesterday, to reach a $5.25 quotation on tops. Prices are apparently stepping up in tenor with general increases along farm lines. Spinach is plentiful locally, with offerings at most any price. Range of from 25 to 60 cents indicates the state of this market. Asparagus is a bit lower, at 70 cents per dozen, and strawberries are firm at the advance made earlier in the season.

PORTLAND, May 19-(AP)-Portland continued the best market for butter along the Pacific slope. Even the shippers who dispose of most of their product to California are now trying to cuttivate the local trade which is giving the best average net returns alor, the slope. There was no change in the rice list on either cubes or prints on the open trade for the day. Butterfat values were well maintained. Market for eggs indicated a fully steady situation locally. There remained insufficient live chickens arriving in Portland to take care of immediate demand.

This applied practically to all lines with the greatest shortage continued in light weight hens. First gooseberies of the season were reported in. The shipment was a small one but of very good quality, which sold quickly at 12e

There was a mixture of deas regarding asparagus for the day. with sales spreading $1.35 - 1.69 for mid-Columbia offerings, Supplies were not liberal, quality was good and demand fair.

All country meat prices were unchanged with beef, pork and calves firm as well as ewes but lambs continued steady to easy for both old and new crop.

M.6-13-20-27-J3 FOR COTTON

King Cotton has staged a comeback through the person of George A. Sloan (above), President of the Cotton Textile Institute, to whom Secretary of Commerce Roper has just presented the annual award for trade association work most beneficial to both public and indus try. Mr. Sloan, pointing out that one in every ten Americans depends on cotton for his livelihood, conducted extensive campaigns to educate the public to new uses for it.
