Gets High Honor — Katherine Langridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Langridge, 1189 Marion street, Salem, has just had the mark of Phi Beta Kappa conferred upon her—the highest scholastic honor won by any student in any college or university in the United States. Three other members of her society, Gamma Phi Beta, received the same honor at the same time—the first time in the history of the University of Oregon that any one group can boast of four of its members receiving the distinction at one time. The father of Miss Langridge is assistant secretary of state.

Counties Rank High—Twenty-five Oregon counties compare with the best in the United States with relation to literacy. Charles A. Howard, state superintendent of schools, declared Monday. He based his statement on a federal survey completed recently. The 25 counties all reported less than one per cent illiteracy. Eight of the remaining 21 counties had an average of from one to two per cent illiteracy. These included Multnomah, Marion, Columbia, Umatilla, Hood River, Wasco, Gilliam and Wheeler. The other three, Klamath, Jefferson and Sherman, rated the poorest in the state, from two to 4.3 per cent.

Granted Default—Flora Bishop, plaintiff in an action against F. G. Deckebach, the Northwest Canning company, and others, secured a default and decree in circuit court Monday. Judgment for $5000 is to be granted and a foreclosure of a mortgage allowed on real property in this city. Since the mortgage was given at a purchase price obligation no deficiency judgment will be allowed.

WILLAMETTE RIVER JOB OUTLOOK GOOD

An even chance for gaining approval of the Willamette river development is reported by the Portland Journal's Washington bureau. The dispatch, as published in the Monday evening paper, says in part:

"An even chance, at least, is given for approval by the army engineers of the proposed 6-foot project for the Willamette river to Salem, although the division engineer reported against it some time ago. The district engineer favored it.

"It is felt, for one thing, that a good presentation was made by the Oregon witnesses at the hearing a few days ago, and that arguments were made tending to overcome some of the adverse conclusions of Colonel Robbins, the division engineer. "Some have thought that the general 'slow-down' psychology which prevailed through official circles at the time the Robbins report was made counted against the Willamette project. As the new administration is reaching out for new public works, the anti-expansion influence is removed."

ROOSEVELT TAKES ROLE OF WORLD LEADER IN CAUSE OF PEACE

Issuing a clarion call to fifty-four nations all over the world, President Franklin D. Roosevelt recently made the greatest appeal for peace that the world ever has seen. To each of the nations, the President addressed his plea that it curtail armaments at once under the plan of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, and that it pledge itself against sending armed forces across its frontiers. Above are six important figures in world affairs who play important roles in shaping the policies of their respective governments. It is significant that President Roosevelt included Josef Stalin, head of the Russian Soviets, to which the United States, so far, has denied recognition, in his appeal.

HOP FIELD WAGES QUESTION VIEWED

A number of hop growers in the Salem area held an informal, impromptu meeting Monday noon at the Marion hotel and discussed a number of problems of mutual interest to growers. The problem of wages to be paid this season was discussed, it was said, but no action was taken.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Oregon Hop Growers' association will be held here at an undetermined day next week. At that time the wage question will be considered formally. Considerable demand has been made for workers for an increase commensurate with the rising prices being paid for hops.

No change was seen in the market here Monday, no sales being reported and the prices holding around 73 cents a pound for 1932 hops with prices quoted at 60 cents for carryover hops from the 1932 yield.

MARY MITCHELL, 60, DIES

HUBBARD, May 22 — The funeral of Mary Smith Mitchell, 60, wife of R. R. Mitchell, was held at the First Christian church at Woodburn Sunday afternoon. Interment was made in the Belle Passie cemetery. Surviving relatives in Hubbard are her husband, who is manager of the Ivan Stewart warehouse and her twin sons, Ira and Milton, 11.

Games of Chance in City Cost $40,000 Each Year, Student Survey Reveals

Games of chance conducted in Salem each year call for an expenditure of $440,000 annually, according to a survey completed yesterday by a student of social science at Willamette university. The compilation, he announced, did not include church lotteries, betting on athletic contests or speculation in the various lines of business.

Figures obtained in several instances were obtained on actual surveys while other statistics represented the consensus of persons acquainted with the various games on which the report was made. Thirty-four persons are judged to make their living entirely from operations of games of chance.

The student's compilation follows:
 Games: No. Money Persons Involve Employed
 Marble machines 50 $40,000 2
 Slot machines 10 5,000
 Punch boards 50 10,000
 Cards, public 35 200,000

GILSTRAP PRAISED BY RECENT FLOCK

TURNER, Ore., May 22 — (Special) — The Turner Christian church adopted the following resolutions at the services Sunday: "Whereas our minister, Rev. E. J. Gilstrap has seen fit to resign as pastor of this church, and with this church for four years, serving faithfully in all ways to the entire satisfaction of the present church, and

"Whereas this church desires him to serve in the business relating to the trust for the home for the needy, and

"Whereas he has, by constant work and faith in class and in pulpit, builded the church up, adding thereto 109 members; 45 baptisms, and

"Whereas the congregation regrets the loss of his service as pastor, now therefore

"Be it resolved that this church does hereby recommend Rev. E. J. Gilstrap and his family to the sister churches as to his ministry, and we commend them to the love and fellowship of the churches of Christ. And therefore to all we recommend his upright character, high ideals and earnest endeavor in all church affairs."

LEO HUDDLESTON'S FUNERAL IS TODAY

Funeral services for Leo Huddleston, 38, member of Capital Post, American legion of Salem, who died in Portland Sunday, will be held from the chapel of W. T. Rigdon and Son at 1:30 p. m. today. Rev. McCallum of the Court Street Christian church will officiate in conjunction with the Elks lodge, and members of the drum corps will act as pall bearers.

Huddleston received a back injury while serving on the U. S. S. Oregon in 1919 which caused spinal complications eventually resulting in his death. He had spent several months in the Veterans' hospital in Portland during the past year.

He is survived by his widow, Lola Huddleston; mother, Mrs. Emma Tucker; two children, Ramona Nadine and Leola Geraldine Huddleston, all of Salem; brother, Harry Croner of Salem; two uncles, Charles and Allan Huddleston of Salem; and two aunts, Mrs. Mary Jones and Mrs. Edith Sassy, both of Silverton.

Most Applicants Pass Driver Test

SILVERTON, May 22 — Two hundred and six people took the automobile driver's tests given at Silverton Saturday with the result that 196 receipts for license fees were issued. Only ten failed to pass for driver's license and of these ten, some were refused because of deficient vision.

COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD OUTDOORS

Exercises Start Saturday June 17; Alumni are to Convene Again

Willamette university, weather permitting, will break all traditions at its 89th commencement next month and hold the graduation exercises on the lawn in front of Eaton hall, Dean Frank M. Erickson announced Monday.

A complete program for commencement services, released yesterday, shows the first day's exercises beginning Saturday, June 17, with the senior class breakfast at 6:30 a. m. on the school campus. At 10 a. m. the trustees of the university will hold their annual meeting at Eaton hall. The class day exercises in which each class puts on a stunt will be held at 2 p. m. at the chapel. The Alumni association business meeting will be held at 4 p. m. in the university chapel, followed by the annual banquet at 6:30 p. m. in the university gymnasium. The president's reception will be held at 8 p. m. in Lausanne hall.

Sunday services at commencement will be the baccalaureate service at 11 a. m. at the First Methodist church, Dr. Carl G. Doody, delivering the sermon. A reunion and farewell service will be held in the university chapel at 4:30 p. m. and at 8 p. m. the Christian associations will hold their anniversary meeting in the First Methodist church, Rev. J. R. Simons delivering the sermon. Professor James T. Matthews, who ends 40 years of service as a teacher at the university this year, will deliver the commencement address Monday at the graduation exercises which begin at 10 a. m. Conferring of degrees will be followed by announcement of prizes and honors by the president.

RATINGS ON EXAMS WILL BE SENT EAST

Ratings on uniform examinations given 120 members of the Willamette university sophomore class will be sent east today by Dean Frank M. Erickson. Marks of the students here will be compared with ratings of sophomore classes in more than one hundred other American universities. The examinations were prepared and distributed by the American Council on Education, the Carnegie Foundation furnishing money for the tests.

The purpose of the examinations is to determine the education of widely separated groups of university students in various phases of liberal training including knowledge of history and literature, acquaintance with science, ability to use English and other criteria of a liberal education. Last year Willamette university sophomores ranked 37th from the top in a group of 138 colleges whose students took the examinations.
